NDRF Gears Up For Annual Pilgrimage With Aerial Surveys, Canine Teams

Press Trust Of India

Srinagar: Regular sorties in the upper reaches of the holy Amarnath cave and early deployment of canine teams for disaster rescue acclimatisation are part of the NDRF's safety preparations for the pilgrims of the annual Amarnath Yatra, officials said on Tuesday.

A dozen teams of the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) will be deployed to ensure the safety of the people who embark on the yatra from July 1, they added.

To avoid casualties from flash floods and glacial lake outburst floods (GLOF), the NDRF has started identifying locations for creation of pilgrim camps "away from the tracks where flood waters can roll down and sweep people away".

At least 16 people were killed after flash floods triggered by heavy rain near the shrine on July 8 last year. To prevent such mishaps this year, helicopters of the Indian Air Force (IAF) and the J-K administration will regularly undertake aerial sorties in the upper reaches of the holy cave to check for GLOF events and the formation of lakes that may trigger flash floods downhill, a senior officer told PTI. Last year, such sorties were conducted only after the flash floods occurred in June but this year, the exercise will be undertaken before the start of the yatra and at continuous intervals during the two-month pilgrimage, the officer added.

The aerial surveys will be conducted by a team with expertise in remote sensing and satellite, hydrology and disaster response. Once a dangerous water build-up is spotted, contingency measures will be taken all along the yatra route, especially the area near the cave shrine, he added.

Sharing further details on the rescue preparations, the officer said the NDRF's sniffer dogs will be deployed well before the commencement of the pilgrimage so that they are acclimatised to the high-altitude environment and can work without physical hassles. More on P10

EC Should Tell People Why No Elections In J&K: Omar

Press Trust Of India

Abdullah, a former chief minister, said the Election Commission should be asked when it plans to hold elections in Jammu and Kashmir.

Humans Have Crossed 7 Of 8 "Planetary Boundaries". What It Means

team of scientists first introduced the concept planetary boundaries" almost 15 years ago to identify major Earth systems that were at risk of instability because of human activity. They looked at systems including the climate, biodiversity and fresh water to determine the limits of what they called a "safe operating space" for civilization. But they stopped short of analyzing how busting past these limits might harm people, particularly the poor and vulnerable.

A major update, published today in the journal Nature, does just that, describing how much punishment nature can absorb before turning on us. Seven of the eight global boundaries have already been surpassed by humans, the authors find.

The researchers offer their new work in the hope that business and governments will develop tools to align their practices with scienceset thresholds.

"We simply need to have science-based targets well beyond climate for all the planetary boundaries, in order to have a stable and resilient Earth system - and also to handle the climate crisis," said Johan Rockstrom, director of the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research in Germany and a co-author of the new and original works.

The new analysis also includes criteria for justice, along three dimensions - affecting the many millions of people at risk today, the billions coming in the future and for the world's countless species and ecosystems. For some Earth systems, like the climate, this fairness analysis requires more stringent limits than geophysical-stability factors alone would. The 1.5C warming limit enshrined in the Paris Agreement, already on life support, is too high given humanitarian concerns, the authors write, evidenced by tens of millions of people now exposed to dangerous heat. The world has warmed 1.2C since industrialization. By 1.5C, the scientists find, more than 200 million people - mostly poor, vulnerable and marginalized communities - can be expected to face unprecedented heat. Shrinking the global average temperature increase below 1C is their target, but because that's not possible on a visible time scale, countries will have to deal with the consequences. And that means "adaptations and compensations to reduce sensitivity to harm and vulnerability will be necessary." The authors call for international compensation for poorer countries' "loss and damage" sustained during extreme weather events, as agreed to at last year's UN climate talks. The scale of effort required to meet these challenges is unprecedented. "Nothing less than a just global transformation across all ESBs [Earth system boundaries] is required to ensure human well-being," they write. Energy, food, cities and other sectors require rebooted politics, economics and technology. 'It requires a leap in our understanding of how justice, economics, technology and global cooperation can be furthered in the service of a safe and just future."

The 51 authors are associated with the Earth Commission, a group of natural and social scientists cofounded by Rockstrom to generate science that can inform organizations, such as the Science Based Targets Network, that develop guidance for companies and cities. The paper strives to quantify planet-scale changes that "are mostly driven by social and economic systems run on unsustainable resource extraction and consumption.'

The new work builds not only on previous planetary-boundaries research, but other assessments of social vulnerability to systemic change, including the UN Sustainable Development Goals. A key breakthrough in this paper, the authors write, is the translation of social justice considerations into the same units of measurement as the Earth systems, such as degrees Celsius for temperature or cubic kilometers for water use.

For instance, nitrogen and phosphorus from farms spill into waterways and cause oxygen-less "dead zones" in rivers and seas, with consequences for drinking water too in some areas. The global limit for excessive nitrogen is 119 million metric tons a year and 10 million for phosphorus, according to the paper.

To address air pollution, the targets the scientists set aim to minimize the difference in the concentration of aerosols between the Northern and Southern Hemispheres, while establishing an upper bound for harmful small particle pollution. Aerosols from both natural and human sources, from volcanoes to tailpipes, cause illness and premature death around the world.

Growth In India Is Expected To Slow To 6.3% In FY2023: World Bank

Press Trust Of India

WASHINGTON: Growth in India is expected to slow to 6.3 per cent in FY 2023/24 (April-March), a 0.3 percentage point downward revision from January, the World Bank said Tuesday but noted there is an unexpected resilience in private consumption and investment and robust growth in the services.

The World Bank made these points in its latest edition of Global Economic Prospects according to which global growth is projected to decelerate from 3.1 per cent in 2022 to 2.1 per cent in 2023.

In Emerging Markets and Developing Economies (EM-DEs) other than China, growth is set to slow to 2.9 per cent this year from 4.1 per cent last year. These forecasts reflect broad-based downgrades.

"Growth in India is expected to slow further to 6.3 per cent in FY 2023/24 (April-March), a 0.3 percentage point downward revision from January," the World Bank said.

In its report, the World Bank attributed the slowdown in India's growth to private consumption being constrained by high inflation and rising borrowing costs, while government consumption is impacted by fiscal consolidation.

"Growth is projected to pick up slightly through FY 2025/26 as inflation moves back toward the midpoint of the tolerance range and reforms payoff. India will remain the fastest-growing economy (in terms of both aggregate and per capita GDP) of the largest EMDEs," it said.

Unemployment, it said, declined to 6.8 per cent in the first quarter of 2023, the lowest since the onset of the CO-VID-19 pandemic, and labour force participation increased. India's headline consumer price inflation has returned to within the central bank's 2-6 per cent tolerance band, it said.

RBI's MPC Starts Deliberations On Policy Rate, Decision On Thursday

Press Trust Of India

MUMBAI: The Reserve Bank's rate-setting monetary policy panel began deliberations on Tuesday amid expectations that the central bank will keep the benchmark interest rates unchanged at 6.5 per cent on the back of easing retail inflation and the need to push economic growth.

Headed by Reserve Bank Governor Shaktikanta Das, the six-member Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) will meet for three days and the decision would be announced on Thursday, June 8.

After the last MPC meeting in April, the RBI paused its rate hike cycle and stayed with the 6.5 per cent repo rate. Prior to that the central bank had cumulatively hiked the repo rate by 250 basis points since May 2022 in a bid to contain inflation.

The MPC is meeting in the backdrop of consumer pricebased (CPI) inflation declining to an 18-month low of 4.7 per cent in April. The Reserve Bank governor recently indicated that the May print would be lower than the April numbers. The CPI for May is scheduled to be announced on June 12.

On expectations from the MPC, Rumki Majumdar, Economist, Deloitte India said: "We expect a pause in this meeting as growth concerns cannot be overlooked. With the global economy slowing down, there are risks that the slowdown contagion may impact us".

Globally, there are signs that the Central Banks may also take a pause or go with fewer hikes as runaway inflation takes a breather, Majumdar said, and added this will further help the RBI to maintain the status quo.

Dhruv Agarwala, Group CEO, Housing.com said the RBI is expected to keep its benchmark lending rate unchanged, reflecting the easing concerns surrounding inflation.

"While some voices advocate for a rate cut to provide an impetus to growth, the RBI is likely to exercise caution and wait before contemplating such a step," he said.

He further said the robust GDP growth rate of 7.2 per cent achieved by the Indian economy in the financial year 2022-23 showcases its remarkable resilience in the face of global challenges.

The construction, trade, and hospitality sectors witnessed substantial double-digit expansion. These numbers also bode well for the real estate sector, with the government continuing to provide support to stimulate its growth, he added.

Pradeep Aggarwal, Founder and Chairman, Signature Global (India) too said the central bank is likely to maintain the status quo in policy rate.

Saudi Arabia Is Slashing Oil Supply. It Could Mean Higher Gas Prices For US Drivers

Associated Press

FRANKFURT: Saudi Arabia will reduce how much oil it sends to the global economy, taking a unilateral step to prop up the sagging price of crude after two previous cuts to supply by major producing countries in the OPEC+ alliance failed to push oil higher.

The Saudi cut of 1 million barrels per day, to start in July, comes as the other OPEC+ producers agreed in a meeting in Vienna to extend earlier production cuts through next year. Calling the reduction a "lollipop," Saudi Energy Minister Abdulaziz bin Salman said at a news conference that "we wanted to ice the cake."

He said the cut could be extended and that the group "will do whatever is necessary to bring stability to this market."

The new cut would likely push up oil prices in the short term, but the impact after that would depend on whether Saudi Arabia decides to extend it, said Jorge Leon, senior vice president of oil markets research at Rystad Energy. The move provides "a price floor because the Saudis can play with the voluntary cut as much as they like," he said. The slump in oil prices helped U.S. drivers fill their tanks more cheaply and gave consumers worldwide some relief from inflation. "Gas is not going to become cheaper," Leon said. "If anything, it will become marginally more expensive."

That the Saudis felt another cut was necessary underlines the uncertain outlook for demand for fuel in the months ahead.

There are concerns about economic weakness in the U.S. and Europe, while China's rebound from COVID-19 restrictions has been less robust than many had hoped.

Press Trust Of India

Set To Grow: IATA

ISTANBUL: As efforts continue to reduce carbon emissions, international airlines' grouping IATA on Tuesday said the production of Sustainable Aviation Fuel (SAF) is set for continued growth with a wide geographic footprint spread across North America, Europe and Asia Pacific.

The International Air Transport Association (IATA) expects overall renewable fuel production to reach an estimated capacity of at least 69 billion litres (55 million tonnes) by 2028.

The grouping of more than 300 airlines has also pitched for production incentives to support the aviation industry's energy transition as well as for continued approval for more diversification of methods and feedstocks available for SAF production.

With these two measures successfully in place, the expected 2028 production levels would be realistically aligned with recently published roadmaps to net zero carbon emissions by 2050, IATA Director

General Willie Walsh said. According to IATA, SAF will comprise a portion of this growing output, which is being achieved through new renewable fuel refineries and the expansion of existing facilities.

Importantly, the expected production has a wide geographic footprint covering North America, Europe and Asia Pacific, it said in a release.

In 2022, SAF production tripled to some 300 million litres (2.40.000 tonnes). IATA counts more than 130 relevant renewable fuel projects announced by more than 85

producers across 30 countries. "If renewable energy production reaches 69 billion litres by 2028 as estimated, the trajectory to 100 billion litres (80 million tonnes) by 2030 would be on track. If just 30 per cent of that produced SAF, the industry could achieve 30 billion litres (24 million tonnes) of SAF production by 2030," the release said.

SAF can be produced from surplus forestry and agricultural residues, municipal solid waste, food waste and wet wastes (third-generation feedstocks).

"Producing SAF from these can create a long-term return on investment opportunities for governments, with the potential of financing the clean-up of the environment, supporting developing economies and delivering a future-proofed intersection of energy transition and energy security," the release said.

Citing a recent survey done by it, IATA said the results showed significant public support for SAF and that around 85 per cent of travellers agreed that governments should provide incentives for airlines to use SAF.

To promote SAF production, Walsh said there are many tried and tested tools, including tax credits, grants, or even direct investments in emerging technologies and solutions. "The market is there. Airlines want to purchase SAF. Anything to meaningfully incentivise SAF production will be a step forward.'

Equity Markets Settle Flat In Volatile Trade

Press Trust Of India

MUMBAI: Equity benchmarks BSE Sensex and Nifty closed marginally higher in a volatile session on Tuesday as fag-end buying in auto, industrial and commodity stocks helped the indices extend gains for a third straight day.

Investors also preferred to stay on the sidelines ahead of the Reserve Bank of India's interest rate decision later this week, traders said.

After a see-saw session, the 30-share BSE Sensex eked out marginal gains of 5.41 points or 0.01 per cent to settle at 62,792.88. During the day, it hit a high of 62,867.95 and a low of 62,554.21.

The NSE Nifty went up by 5.15 points or 0.03 per cent to end at 18,599.

"Markets remained volatile and ended almost unchanged amid mixed cues. After the flat start, the Nifty drifted lower as the day progressed. However, a sharp recovery in the last half an hour trimmed all the losses. Eventually, Nifty settled closer to the day's high at 18,599 levels," said Ajit Mishra, SVP - Technical Research, Religare Broking Ltd.

UltraTech Cement was the biggest gainer in the Sensex chart, climbing 3.13 per cent, followed by Kotak Mahindra Bank, Tata Motors, Axis Bank, Maruti, Bajaj Finserv, Bajaj Finance and Mahindra & Mahindra. In contrast, Infosys, Tech Ma-

hindra, Tata Consultancy Services, Wipro, Bharti Airtel, HCL Technologies, ICICI Bank and Nestle were among the laggards. "While the markets ended flat, buying was seen in rate-sensitive stocks like banking, auto and realty ahead of the RBI's MPC meet later this week. Among the indices, IT fell 1.66 per cent, teck (1.51 per cent), metal (0.45 per cent), oil & gas (0.08 per cent) and FMCG (0.02 per cent).

Press Trust Of India

MAINPURI (UP): Union minister Jitendra Singh on Tuesday said that the planned extension of Amarnath Yatra to two months this year reflects the government's confidence and people's enthusiasm due to the prevailing peaceful atmosphere in Jammu and Kashmir.

Addressing a gathering of prominent citizens here to mark the completion of nine years of the government head-ed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, he said that Jammu-Kashmir and the Northeast present a befitting example of deft handling of the menace of terrorism and extremism under Modi's leadership.

Singh, the Minister of State for Personnel, said that Prime Minister Modi has walked the talk on zero-tolerance for terrorism.

"Due to the overall peaceful atmosphere and confidence of the government and enthusiasm of the common man, for the first time after many years, the holy Amarnath yatra in Jammu and Kashmir starting from 1st July will be of two months long duration, which was earlier sometimes restricted to even 15-20 days due to security and other considerations," the minister said.

He said, for the first time, nearly 50,000 people are having darshan per day at Shri Mata Vaishno Devi Shrine, "not to speak of the record number of 1.7 crore tourists visiting the state in last season".

But, he added, that his party, BJP is always ready for it as they work round-the-clock on the ground.

However, the department said that it has to consider the list of 1902 Masters who are likely to be transferred.

ODISHA TRAIN TRAGEDY

Opposition Trying To Score Political Points: Minister Hardeep Puri

Press Trust Of India

JAMMU: Union minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Tuesday accused opposition parties of trying to take "political mileage" on the recent train accident in Odisha and said the response of the government to reach out to the victims was swift to save the previous lives.

He said the democracy in India is robust and no power can erode it, defending the Income Tax raids on BBC.

He said the "previous actions" of the broadcaster suggested that it was in the hands of the "people with agenda on India".

Puri was in Jammu to highlight the achievements of Prime Minister Narendra Modi-led government at the Centre, which recently completed its nine years in power.

ers. We observed a two-minute silence for all the lives lost and to pray for recovery of those injured in the train accident (on June 2)," the Union Housing and Urban Affairs minister told reporters at the BJP headquarters

Responding to a question about the opposition attack on the central government over the tragedy which claimed over 275 lives and rendered over 1200 injured, he said despite all the safety measures, something can go wrong which is part of human existence.

"What was your reaction is all that matters. The rescue teams were at the spot within minutes and Modi also reached there. Railway minister camped there for 36 hours, the health minister and another minister of state were also there," Puri said, adding the government tried its best to help the victims and their families.

He said the damaged railway line was made operational within 51 hours but the opposition will not see all this as "they want to make a political point".

"They should go for self-introspection as this was not the first that such accident had taken place. NSG commandos took 10 hours to reach Mumbai from Delhi despite the November 26, 2008 terror attack beaming live on the television," the minister

On BBC's admission of having paid lower taxes than its actual liability following IT raids on its headquarters in Delhi in February, he said some "intellectuals and misguided" people in the country start condemning without knowing the facts.

"We have people who are not able to differentiate between espionage and freedom of press. Our laws are completely transparent and if you had to pay a tax, the slabs are completely clear. When notice is served to those avoiding taxes, they start hue and cry," Puri said.

The minister said he wants to assure the people that India is not only the largest democracy in the world but the country also has a robust democracy and "even if someone wishes, nobody can erode democracy in the country".

He said he did not want to make a detailed comment on the BBC but its previous actions makes it clear that it was in the "hands of people with an agenda on India"

Talking about the nine-yearachievements of the BJP-led government, he said the work is in progress to reclaim the cultural and historic legacy of the country and make it the world's largest economy.

'Many of the schemes and projects conceptualised in 2014 are either completed or nearing completion. Those talking about price hike are missing many points including three core people living below poverty line and economically weaker sections who have been given affordable houses," he said.

Puri also talked about the challenging situation in the aftermath of the coronavirus outbreak, dry ration to 80 crore population, tap and electricity connections, making country defecation-free and cleanliness drives.

"We are a 3.83 trillion dollar economy and are bound to surpass two other powers, having 4.1 and 4.3 trillion economies, in the near future and become the third largest economy in the world," Puri said. He said by 2047 when India will complete its 100 years of independence, it will not only be a developed country but also free from colonial mindset. On the recent action against wrestlers protesting at Jantar Mantar in Delhi, the minister said he is personally very sympathetic to them as his wife and two daughters are also feminist. "They were holding protest was not a problem at all and nobody stopped them. The day when the new Parliament was being inaugurated, they along with some political elements decided to move (towards the parliament). Senior officials tried to solve the issue." he said.

Puri said section 144 CrPc was imposed there and when somebody breaks the law, action becomes necessary, he added.

Uncertainty Over Mutton Prices

he recent decision by the Jammu and Kashmir government to withdraw control of mutton and chicken prices has sparked concerns and uncertainty among residents and stakeholders. This move comes in response to the central government's opinion that the previous directive, the Jammu and Kashmir Mutton (Licensing and Control) Order, 1973, is no longer valid and applicable. Does this mean that the government wants market forces to determine prices? If so, it is unlikely that the mutton prices can ever be hoped to reduce. This is why the absence of price controls raises several questions and potential challenges.

The issue of controlling mutton and chicken prices in J&K has long been a contentious matter. As is clear from the media reports, over the past four years, the cost of mutton has risen by over 50 percent. The government's approved price of Rs 535 per kg seems to have little impact on the actual market prices, with mutton currently being sold for Rs 650 per kg. With the withdrawal of price controls, consumers fear that prices may skyrocket further, making mutton unaffordable for many.

With the government not deciding the mutton price, it will be determined by market supply and demand. While this approach may seem logical, it fails to address the concerns of consumers who rely on mutton as a staple in their daily diets and for special occasions. The absence of government regulation raises questions about who will now be responsible for ensuring fair pricing and preventing exploitative practices in the market.

The decision to allow mutton retailers to import sheep, a privilege previously limited to licensed agents, may bring some competition and potentially moderate prices. However, it remains to be seen how this will play out in practice and whether it will have a significant impact on affordability.

J&K, heavily reliant on mutton imports, consumes over 600 lakh kg of mutton annually. Prior to the withdrawal of price controls, mutton prices in the region were relatively lower compared to other states. However, it remains to be seen how the new regulations will impact the prices and availability of mutton, especially given the demand in the union territory, especially in the Valley.

As the government's decision takes effect, it is crucial for the administration to provide further clarification on the pricing mechanism and address the concerns raised by people. While market forces can play a role in determining prices, it is crucial for the government to maintain a balance between free-market principles and ensuring fair pricing for the benefit of its citizens.

OTHER OPINON

Off track

here is blood on India's train tracks: nearly 300 passengers have died and hundreds were injured in a nightmarish pile-up involving three trains in Odisha's Balasore in what is certainly one of the worst mishaps in recent times. But the Bharatiya Janata Party-led government at the Centre is, as is its wont, speaking in many voices. The Union railways minister — there have been calls for his resignation — has claimed that the 'criminals' allegedly responsible for the horror have been identified. It appears that the government suspects — is in favour of? — human agency. Yet, quite inexplicably, the minister reportedly informed a news conference that the Railway Board has recommended an investigation of the accident by the Central Bureau of Investigation. Why call the sleuths if the 'criminals' have already been identified? Meanwhile, the railway authorities ruled out the probability of manual error. Suspicions over the vulnerability of the interlocking system have also been swatted away. It is all a bit mysterious. The lack of clarity in the wake of a monumental tragedy is distressing. The government owes the nation some clear answers. It must also assure citizens that the prospects of a repetition of such a tragedy would be minimised. That hate-mongers are eager to give a communal twist to a catastrophe also speaks of the degeneration in New India's zeitgeist.

What has been clear for a while though is a purported shift in policy vision as far as the railways are concerned. There has been a decisive transition towards, arguably, the exclusivity of a crucial public transport system in the name of modernisation. The proof lies in the Mumbai-Ahmedabad bullet train network and Kerala's SilverLine semi highspeed train project that are expected to be a drain on the exchequer. The capital outlay for the railways in this year's budget was one of the highest ever. So the availability of monetary resources is not a problem. The problem, evidently, lies in the distribution of the kitty. Are adequate funds being spent on improving the railways' safety standards? A report by none other than the Comptroller and Auditor General had discovered lapses ranging from 30% to 100% concerning inspections of structural conditions. This despite the fact that derailments on account of poor maintenance are the principal cause of rail accidents in the country. An overhaul is necessary. But can policy reform, if any, resist the bug of populism?

Afghanistan's Taliban rulers of violating a 1973 treaty by restricting the flow of water from the Helmand River to Iran's parched eastern regions, an accusation denied by the Taliban.

s per reports from the Iranian Tasnim News Agency, deadly clashes broke out between Iranian border guards and the Afghan soldiers in the border area encompassing the Zabul district of Sistan and Baluchestan province on the Iranian side and the Keng district of Nimruz province in Afghanistan.

The deadly clashes resulted in the death of two Iranian border guards in clashes with Taliban forces, while the Iranians, on their part, claimed to have killed 12 Talibani soldiers.

Perplexingly, the issue over which tensions between the two neighbours ran high is how to divide the waters of the Helmand River, which the two nations must share.

Iran accuses Afghanistan's Taliban rulers of violating a 1973 treaty by restricting the flow of water from the Helmand River to Iran's parched eastern regions, an accusation denied by the Taliban.

China's Xinhua News Agency reported that Iranian member of parliament Hossein-Ali Shahriari, who represents Zahidan, the capital of Sistan and Baluchestan province, charged the Taliban government in Afghanistan with stopping up the flow of the Helmand River and storing extra water in the Kamal Khan Dam and other reservoirs. He complained that the Afghans have recently built new dams that are storing water that would otherwise have flowed to Iran.

Though this development might be a shocking news to many, however this is not a new phenomenon but was bound to happen not just between Iran and Afghanistan but amongst other countries too. Journalist Fatemeh Aman wrote a good summary of this conflict for the Atlantic Council, noting that drought and climate change have exacerbated the tensions over water sharing.

Both countries have built dams on the Helmand and irrigated off it, often to raise waterhungry crops not suitable to this arid environment.

Fatemeh noted that Helmand is the longest river in Afghanistan, constituting over 40 percent of Afghanistan's surface water. With 95 percent of Helmand located in Afghanistan, it is a critical source of livelihood for the country's southern and southwestern provinces. The river further flows into Iran's arid southwest to feed the Hamoun wetlands on the Iranian side and lakes on the Afghan side, but damming, irrigation, and drought have partially dried these up, creating conditions for toxic dust clouds.

As per environmentalists, Iran and Afghanistan are projected to heat up faster than the world average, twice as fast, in fact. Already, poor water management and extra heat have had a devastating effect on the Helmand basin. Extra heat dries out the soil and contributes to more intense and more frequent droughts. It also causes greater and more rapid evaporation of water from lakes and rivers.

The water resources are critical for people living in the increasingly drought-prone Sistan and Baluchestan region; in addition the Sistan wetland ecosystem also supports flamingos, pelicans, and other migratory birds. And while the history of conflict over the Helmand River is long, the scenario is similar to conflicts over water in other regions of the world. Many social scientists foresee water wars as a result. This border clash is a small omen of bigger conflicts to come.

Tensions between Egypt, Sudan and Ethiopia over the latter's Grand Ethiopian Renaissance Dam (GERD) and Blue Nile River resources haven't been resolved in years, with both Egypt and Ethiopia threatening a military response at various points.

Last year, Russian troops destroyed a Dnieper River dam that diverted water away from Crimea and into Ukraine. Armed groups in Mali, Somalia and beyond destroyed water infrastructure needed by civilians. Mexico, Chile, Israel and Palestine, Kenya and Peru - the Water Conflict Chronology database lists hundreds of conflicts over water in the modern era, as well as across history.

Journal Sustainability Times quoting UN Statistical Division's data pertaining to 2019, reports that the number of water conflicts by different regions globally as of April 2022 runs up to more than 1100 conflicts.

Environmentalist Laureen Fagan in her report for Sustainability Times further quoted Dr. Peter Gleick, co-founder of the Pacific Institute in the United States and author of The Three Ages of Water, as warning that the frequency of waterrelated conflicts has grown in the past two decades. That's due to violence in the Middle East, growing disputes during severe droughts over access to water in regions like the Indian subcontinent and ethnic and community confrontations in sub-Saharan Africa.

Fagan further referred to a February 2023 paper on the database, co-authored by Shimabuku and published in the journal Environmental Research Letters, saying that it's the uneven access to fresh water around the world that makes it a strategic priority during conflict, as is the case along the Iran-Afghanistan border.

Gleick and Morgan are of the view that social, economic, and political challenges associated with freshwater resources pose a variety of severe risks to communities around the world, from water-related diseases, to crop failures, to ecological destruction, to actual violence, the risks and incidences of waterrelated conflicts in recent years, are on the rise, and the factors driving such violence appear to be worsening. We need to understand the root causes of water conflicts and more effective strategies for reducing their probability and consequences.

Increasing tensions over water resources point to the emergence of a new dimension to the global geopolitics, adding to the regional and neighbourly rivalries.

Now indeed the time seems to be apt to work cohesively to find a collective solution to the global demand & supply and sharing of water resources, besides taking a conscious, serious and determined approach to care more for our environment instead of just hollow talks, which seem to have become the trend of most global environmental agencies and plans. If indeed we do not act even now, then it may be too late when the real wars due to scarce water resources start erupting across the globe.

Unfair Wages to Private School Teachers

EACHERS in privately owned and managed schools are being exploited on a regular basis. The teachers employed in such schools are paid a fraction of their authorised salaries and are made to work endlessly for hours. Such malpractice is seen to affect the performance of the teachers in the classroom as well. The school privately trust pays these teachers much less than the amount they were promised, leading to resignations and constant changes in the faculty. This has affected students' performance and led to an atmosphere of uncertainty in the schools which is detrimental to the cause of education.

As a nation that prides itself on respecting its teachers, it must be understood that we cannot build a future for our students if we do not give due credit to our teachers. The government should ensure that such schools pay salaries as per the government's fixed pay scales. Payments should be made through banks and the government agencies should monitor the salary perks etc. The authorities must take up this matter in order to investigate the issue further and mobilise the cause towards calling for a complete overhaul in the education system where needed. Teachers are the builders of the nation, it is a shame that the system fails to provide them the adequate reward they deserve.

DON'T DIET

WHY YOU MAY NOT NEED TO LOSE WEIGHT

Madeeha Hafiz

In today's society, the pursuit of the perfect body has become an obsession for many individuals. Our society has also created a "standard" for what is beautiful and what is not. Often, one's beauty is associated with one's weight. Infact, people with weight disorders are often stereotyped as lazy and lethargic.

In Kashmir, people take the liberty to comment on people's weight. Many interactions start with comments on someone's weight. Greetings in this way become an exchange of unpleasant and unsolicited remarks. Oftentimes, such remarks are demotivating and affect one's overall growth. Body image issues have increased in our society with the proliferation of images of "perfect" bodies on the internet as well. This leads all women, and not just the ones who are medically overweight or obese, to have body image issues.

As a result, everyone is dieting - no one knows to what end!

It is important to know when one is supposed to lose weight and when to not. Women these days, even those with the 'right' BMI, think that something is wrong with their bodies and end up dieting to lose weight. Very often this pursuit for weight loss brings with it adverse consequences especially to health.

Dieting, defined as the intentional restriction of food intake to achieve weight loss, is a common practice adopted by millions worldwide. While the goal of achieving a healthier weight is commendable, it is essential to recognize the harmful effects that dieting can have on both physical and mental well-being.

Nutritional Deficiencies

Dieting often involves severe calorie restriction, eliminating entire food groups, or adopting fad diets. These practices can lead to significant nutritional deficiencies, as essential vitamins, minerals, and macronutrients may not be adequately supplied to the body. Such deficiencies can have detrimental effects on various bodily functions, impair the immune system, and increase the risk of developing health problems in the long term.

Slowed Metabolism

When the body is subjected to prolonged periods of calorie restriction, it adapts by slowing down its metabolic rate. This survival mechanism is triggered to conserve energy and prevent further weight loss. Unfortunately, a slowed metabolism makes it increasingly difficult to lose weight and maintain weight loss in the future. This phenomenon often leads to a frustrating cycle of weight loss followed by weight gain, commonly known as "yo-yo dieting.'

Mental Health Impact

Dieting can have a profound impact on mental health, triggering anxiety, depression, and an unhealthy relationship with food. The obsession with calorie counting, strict food rules, and body image can lead to feelings of guilt, shame, and constant dissatisfaction with one's appearance. Additionally, the emotional and psychological stress caused by dieting can disrupt normal eating patterns and contribute to disordered eating behaviors such as binge eating or emotional eating.

Muscle Loss

Many fad diets and extreme weight loss approaches result in a significant loss of muscle mass. When the body is deprived of sufficient calories and nutrients, it turns to muscle tissue for energy. This muscle loss not only leads to a decrease in strength and stamina but also negatively impacts overall body composition. Losing muscle mass can slow down metabolism further and make it even harder to maintain a healthy weight in the long term.

Hormonal Imbalances

Dieting, especially when accompanied by excessive exercise, can disrupt the delicate balance of hormones in the body. Inadequate calorie intake and rapid weight loss can lead to hormonal imbalances. 66

IN KASHMIR, PEOPLE TAKE THE LIBERTY to

comment on people's weight. Many interactions start with comments on someone's weight. Greetings in this way become an exchange of unpleasant and unsolicited remarks. Oftentimes, such remarks are demotivating and affect one's overall growth."

affecting the menstrual cycle in women and causing reproductive health issues. Hormonal disruptions can also contribute to increased stress levels, reduced energy, and decreased libido.

While the intention behind dieting is often rooted in a desire to improve health and appearance, it is crucial to recognize the harmful effects it can have on both physical and mental well-being. Instead of focusing on short-term weight loss goals, a more sustainable and holistic approach to health should be adopted. This includes promoting a balanced diet, regular physical activity, adequate rest, stress management, and self-acceptance. By shifting our mindset from restrictive dieting to a lifestyle centered around self-care and nourishment, we can create healthier habits that promote long-term well-being and a positive relationship with our bodies. Remember, true health goes beyond a number on a scale. It encompasses mental, emotional, and physical well-being, and it's a journey worth embracing.

How Al Could Soon Take Over Elections And Undermine Democracy, Free Will

Archon Fung

Cambridge, United States: Could organizations use artificial intelligence language models such as ChatGPT to induce voters to behave in specific ways?

Sen. Josh Hawley asked OpenAI CEO Sam Altman this question in a May 16, 2023, U.S. Senate hearing on artificial intelligence. Altman replied that he was indeed concerned that some people might use language models to manipulate, persuade and engage in one-on-one interactions with voters.

Altman did not elaborate, but he might have had something like this scenario in mind. Imagine that soon, political technologists develop a machine called Clogger – a political campaign in a black box. Clogger relentlessly pursues just one objective: to maximize the chances that its candidate – the campaign that buys the services of Clogger Inc. – prevails in an election.

While platforms like Facebook, Twitter and YouTube use forms of Al to get users to spend more time on their sites, Clogger's Al would have a different objective: to change people's voting behavior.

How Clogger would work

As a political scientist and a legal scholar who study the intersection of technology and democracy, we believe that something like Clogger could use automation to dramatically increase the scale and potentially the effectiveness of behavior manipulation and microtargeting techniques that political campaigns have used since the early 2000s. Just as advertisers use your browsing and social media history to individually target commercial and political ads now, Clogger would pay attention to you – and hundreds of millions of other voters – individually.

It would offer three advances over the current state-of-the-art algorithmic behavior manipulation. First, its language model would generate messages — texts, social media and email, perhaps including images and videos — tailored to you personally. Whereas advertisers strategically place a relatively small number of ads, language models such as ChatGPT can generate countless unique messages for you personally – and millions for others – over the course of a campaign.

Second, Clogger would use a technique called reinforcement learning to generate a succession of messages that become increasingly more likely to change your vote. Reinforcement learning is a machine-learning, trial-and-error approach in which the computer takes actions and gets feedback about which work better in order to learn how to accomplish an objective. Machines that can play Go, Chess and many video games better than any human have used reinforcement learning.

How reinforcement learning works.

Third, over the course of a campaign, Clogger's messages could evolve in order to take into account your responses to the machine's prior dispatches and what it has learned about changing others' minds. Clogger would be able to carry on dynamic "conversations" with you – and millions of other people – over time. Clogger's messages would be similar to ads that follow you across different websites and social media.

The nature of AI

Three more features – or bugs – are worth noting. First, the messages that Clogger sends may or may not be political in content. The machine's only goal is to maximize vote share, and it would likely devise strategies for achieving this goal that no human campaigner would have thought of.

One possibility is sending likely opponent voters information about nonpolitical passions that they have in sports or entertainment to bury the political messaging they receive. Another possibility is sending off-putting messages – for example incontinence advertisements – timed to coincide with opponents' messaging. And another is manipulating voters' social media friend groups to give the sense that their social circles support its candidate.

Second, Clogger has no regard for truth. Indeed, it has no way of knowing what is true or false. Language model "hallucinations" are not a problem for this machine because its objective is to change your vote, not to provide accurate information.

Third, because it is a black box type of artificial intelligence, people would have no way to know what strategies it uses.

Clogocracy

If the Republican presidential campaign were to deploy Clogger in 2024, the Democratic campaign would likely be compelled to respond in kind, perhaps with a similar machine. Call it Dogger. If the campaign managers thought that these machines were effective, the presidential contest might well come down to Clogger vs. Dogger, and the winner would be the client of the more effective machine.

Political scientists and pundits would have much to say about why one or the other Al prevailed, but likely no one would really know. The president will have been elected not because his or her policy proposals or political ideas persuaded more Americans, but because he or she had the more effective Al. The content that won the day would have come from an Al focused solely on victory, with no political ideas of its own, rather than from candidates or parties.

In this very important sense, a machine would have won the election rather than a person. The election would no longer be democratic, even though all of the ordinary activities of democracy – the speeches, the ads, the messages, the voting and the counting of votes – will have occurred.

The AI-elected president could then go one of two ways. He or she could use the mantle of election to pursue Republican or Democratic party policies. But because the party ideas may have had little to do with why people voted the way that they did – Clogger and Dogger don't care about policy views – the president's actions would not necessarily reflect the will of the voters. Voters would have been manipulated by the AI rather than freely choosing their political leaders and policies.

Another path is for the president to pursue the messages, behaviors and policies that the machine predicts will maximize the chances of reelection. On this path, the president would have no particular platform or agenda beyond maintaining power. The president's actions, guided by Clogger, would be those most likely to manipulate voters rather than serve their genuine interests or even the president's own ideology.

Avoiding Clogocracy

It would be possible to avoid AI election manipulation if candidates, campaigns and consultants all forswore the use of such political AI. We believe that is unlikely. If politically effective black boxes were developed, the temptation to use them would be almost irresistible. Indeed, political consultants might well see using these tools as required by their professional responsibility to help their candidates win. And once one candidate uses such an effective tool, the opponents could hardly be expected to resist by disarming unilaterally.

Enhanced privacy protection would help. Clogger would depend on access to vast amounts of personal data in order to target individuals, craft messages tailored to persuade or manipulate them, and track and retarget them over the course of a campaign. Every bit of that information that companies or policymakers deny the machine would make it less effective. Strong data privacy laws could help steer AI away from being manipulative.

Another solution lies with elections of Another solution lies with elections commissions. They could try to ban or severely regulate these machines. There's a fierce debate about whether such "replicant" speech, even if it's political in nature, can be regulated. The U.S.'s extreme free speech tradition leads many leading academics to say it cannot.

But there is no reason to automatically extend the First Amendment's protection to the product of these machines. The nation might well choose to give machines rights, but that should be a decision grounded in the challenges of today, not the misplaced assumption that James Madison's views in 1789 were intended to apply to Al.

European Union regulators are moving in this direction. Policymakers revised the European Parliament's draft of its Artificial Intelligence Act to designate "Al systems to influence voters in campaigns" as "high risk" and subject to regulatory scrutiny.

One constitutionally safer, if smaller, step, already adopted in part by European internet regulators and in California, is to prohibit bots from passing themselves off as people. For example, regulation might require that campaign messages come with disclaimers when the content they contain is generated by machines rather than humans.

This would be like the advertising disclaimer requirements – "Paid for by the Sam Jones for Congress Committee" – but modified to reflect its Al origin: "This Al-generated ad was paid for by the Sam Jones for Congress Committee." A stronger version could require: "This Al-generated message is being sent to you by the Sam Jones for Congress Committee because Clogger has predicted that doing so will increase your chances of voting for Sam Jones by 0.0002%." At the very least, we believe voters deserve to know when it is a bot speaking to them, and they should know why, as well.

The possibility of a system like Clogger shows that the path toward human collective disempowerment may not require some superhuman artificial general intelligence. It might just require overeager campaigners and consultants who have powerful new tools that can effectively push millions of people's many buttons.

Slowly but surely, KIIT has evolved into a qualitative institution." He credited the diligent students, dedicated faculty, and staff for their collective efforts in attaining this recognition.

NCB makes India's 'largest-ever' LSD seizure, arrests 6 in darknet-based drugs trafficking bust

New Delhi: The Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) on Tuesday said it has made the "largest-ever" single operation seizure of about 15,000 LSD blots in the country with the arrest of six people as it busted an international drugs trafficking network operating on the darknet.

The seizure, as per officials, is estimated to be worth over Rs 10 crore in the international market (about Rs 5K-7K per blot) and all the six who have been taken into custody, beginning late last month, are students and youngsters who wanted to make "easy money" by remaining anonymous within the deep layers of secret internet-based apps and messenger service like WICKR.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah congratulated the federal anti-narcotics agency on the achievement, saying it reflected great coordination between cyber vigilance and human intelligence and this was in line with Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision of a drug-free India.

LSD or lysergic acid

diethylamide is a synthetic chemical based-drug and is categorised as a hallucinogen. It is trafficked by painting it on blots, half the size of a stamp paper, and is consumed by licking or swallowing.

"This is the "largest-ever" seizure of LSD blots in the country in a single operation. Six youngsters have been arrested till now and we are on the trail of one more such cartel," NCB deputy director general (northern region) Gyaneshwar Singh told reporters here

These dogs have been trained to detect lives under rubble.

The federal contingency force will also identify tracks on the slopes that are away from the possible course of flash floods so that no lives are harmed in case water gushes down no lives, he said.

Speaking during an event here on Tuesday, NDRF Director General (DG) Atul Karwal said the force is training its rescuers in combatting disasters occurring in high altitudes and mountains even as a team of the force recently scaled a 6,500 meters tall Himalyan peak.

"We undertook this maiden expedition as training for high-altitude rescue instills confidence in the rescuers that they can save lives without being adversely affected by tough weather," the DG said.

The annual pilgrimage to the holy cave shrine of Amarnath, located at a height of 3,880 metres in the south Kashmir Himalayas, will begin on July 1 and continue till August 31.

EC Should Tell

if they get some pleasure out of it, let them do it. We also have some selfrespect and dignity," he said.

He said the Chief Election Commissioner, during his last visit to the Union territory, admitted that there was a vacuum in Jammu and Kashmir.

"If CEC saw a vacuum here at that time, why is it not being filled? What is the compulsion?" he asked.

Asked about an army commander's statement that the time was not right for withdrawal of army from hinterland in Kashmir, Abdullah said he agreed with the General as the situation has worsened over the past few years.

"We are also saying that the situation is not normal. General is also saying the situation is not right. There is militancy in the areas which were cleared of militancy earlier. Look at how their people are seeking security from the government as they are scared. General sahib has said it right," he said

The National Conference vice president said there was an attempt to cover up the situation in Kashmir by holding the G20 meet here but the local people know the reality.

"You cleaned the roads for the G20 (delegates) but local people know what it takes to travel from one place to another. Where they used to take five minutes to cover a particular distance earlier, they now spend 40 minutes. Students are not able to reach schools in time, employees are late to work, patient dies in ambulance. We know what the situation is," he added.

The third G20 Tourism Working Group meeting was held in Srinagar last month.

the enquiry officer performs a quasi judicial function, who upon analyze the documents must arrive at a conclusion that there had been preponderance of probability to prove the charges on the basis of material on record."

While doing so, the court said, he cannot take into consideration any irrelevant fact and cannot refuse to consider relevant facts. "As is evident from the record of this case, the evidence has been collected in this matter and the enquiry officer has considered the evidence and the evidence so produced make the probability of proving the charges."

The evidence after having been appreciated by the enquiry officer was held to be sufficient to prove the charges which otherwise have not been denied by the petitioner, Khan.

"There is no dispute with regard to the effect that the petitioner has remained absent after availing 22 days leave which was sanctioned in his favour," the court said, adding, "He was report back on 06.06.2010, after availing leave, but he overstayed and despite letters sent to him by the respondents (CRPF authorities), he did not report back to his duty." Khan pleaded certain ailments not only of his parents but his wife and also about his own self, but he could not produce any documentary proof before the enquiry officer to substantiate such ailments, the court said.

"The enquiry officer has appreciated and considered the evidence in this matter," the court said, adding, "The petitioner (Khan) has not availed remedy of appeal /revision which was available to him under the provisions of CRPF Act and Rules and instead of challenging is dismissal from the services in appeal/revision, he has approached this Court seeking an order quashing of order of dismissal which is based upon the proof of the charges in the enquiry conducted that too on the evidences produced."

Eventually, the court said sufficient and reasonable opportunity had been granted to Khan to defend his case, but he overstayed the leave and remained unauthorizedly absent from the duties for about 177 days. "The order of dismissal, therefore, cannot be said to be harsh or excessive. Thus, the instant writ petition is dismissed."

Real Estate Summit

project will be taken this month, he

The Union Minister of Housing, Urban Affairs, Petroleum and Natural Gas said the real estate summit is on the cards in Srinagar shortly after the successful first-ever such event in Jammu in December 2021.

Puri, who was here to highlight the nine-year achievements of the Prime Minister Narendra Modi-led central government, said the petrol and natural gas regulatory board is evaluating the bids with regard to the Gurdaspur-Jammu gas pipeline project.

Talking to media persons at BJP headquarters here, he said, "The technical survey has been done and financing (of the project) is underway. The final decision will be taken this month only".

The pipeline will enhance the energy security of the region by facilitating the transportation of natural gas from Gurdaspur in Punjab to Jammu. It provides a reliable and cleaner energy source to meet the growing energy demands of these regions.

The minister said the gas pipeline in 2014 was about 14,000 km long. "We have set a target of 33,500 km and have already managed 23,000 km," he said

Referring to the December 2021 first Real estate summit in Jammu, which opened the Union Territory to the country's investors -- who signed 39 MoUs worth nearly Rs 19,000 crore for the development of housing, hotel and commercial projects, Puri said the ministry is holding one more summit in the coming times in Srinagar.

"The real investment potential of the region will be explored fully. The general feeling among the outside analysts was that the 21st century belongs to Asia but they have changed their opinion and are now saying that the 21st century belongs to India.

"Jammu and Kashmir is an integral part of India and we are proud of it," he said, adding the Union Territory has great significance for the country and has witnessed a lot of development over the past nine years.

After the abrogation of Article 370 and Article 35A, the minister said, Jammu and Kashmir has witnessed a change in the ground situation at a very fast pace.

"The available data and specific figures of Jammu and Kashmir shows significant improvement in the security situation, which facilitates investment. The youth are qualifying in national level competitions and also actively take part in the economic resurgence," Puri said.

Asked about the delay in the assembly elections, he said the region is going through a transition phase and is coming out of a prolonged insurgency. "The progress is achieved because the security situation has improved and the concerned people will take the decision (on holding of much-awaited assembly elections)."

On regularisation of unauthorised colonies, he said this is a different issue and will be dealt with in the same way as other parts of the country.

On frequent hikes in petrol, diesel and cooking gas prices, the minister said India is importing 80 per cent crude oil and 50 per cent natural gas from outside to meet its requirements and therefore the prices of these entirely depended on international prices.

"Prime minister reduced the central excise duty twice in November 2021 and May 2022. The BJP-ruled states also joined in and provided concessions to the public but the states run by non-BJP parties made no concession," he said, adding the fuel prices in BJP-ruled states are lower than the non-BJP-ruled states.

He also blamed the previous UPA government for the price hike and said the government in 2012 came up with a novel way to keep the prices down by coming out with oil bonds, putting pressure on the new government.

On the question of freebies offered by several opposition parties to the people in their ruled states, he said there are two competing models before the public to decide.

"The Modi model of governance is development centric and includes 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas', while the second model is of freebies model. It is basically the taxpayers' money, which is being misused," he said.

as part of government-owned company's corporate social responsibility.

"I am immensely grateful to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Minister Hardeep Singh Puri for Amarnath shrine board's yatri niwas at Jammu. This new facility will ease the lives of devotees embarking on annual pilgrimage of Baba Amarnath," Sinha was quoted as saying in an official statement.

Designed by School of Planning and Architecture, New Delhi, the yatri niwas is set for completion within 18-month time period

Sinha also said the government was trying to "scale up the facilities including lodging, transportation, medical, and better connectivity for the safe and hassle-free pilgrimage of the devotees".

Road connectivity is also being improved which will provide smooth passage to the pilgrims, the LG said.

A complex has already been built in Chanderkote in Ramban district and more such complexes are being planned to ensure a smooth and comfortable pilgrimage experience to the yatris. The installation of mobile towers as well as the efforts of the Border Roads Organization (BRO) to prepare the track for the pilgrimage are also underway, the LG said.

"We are making dedicated efforts to strengthen communication connectivity. Telecommunication towers, Cell on Wheels (used to provides temporary network coverage to areas with limited cellular connectivity) are being installed by the telecom service providers. Army is laying an optical fibre cable from Sonamarg to the holy cave," he added.

Last year, 3.65 lakh pilgrims visited the holy shrine, the highest since 2015. As many as 120 additional bank branches were added last year to facilitate the registration of pilgrims. Registration this year is being provided through 542 branches across the country, Sinha said.

Meanwhile, Union Minister Puri expressed gratitude for being a part of "this momentous" occasion.

He said the yatri niwas will comprise 54 rooms and 18 dormitories.

Puri, the Housing and Urban Affairs minister, said the central government was ready to provide all possible support to built more facilities for the Amarnath Yatra pilgrims.

Sinha said the complex, to be built in the scenic lower Shivaliks range on the outskirts of the city, will accommodate 2,500 pilgrims at a time, adding that it will provide accomodation over 30,000 Amarnath pilgrims every year. It will help in traffic management and ensure a seamless experience, he added.

Pertinently, the Board has taken several measures for enhancing the efficiency of the operation of door-to-door delivery of Prasad boxes, Panchmewa Prasad and minimising the delivery time with real time tracking of Prasad.

Five dedicated Prasad Kendras cum Souvenir Shops have been made operational in the last 10 months besides operationalization of 07 counters in existing establishments. A Modern Prasad Kendra cum Souvenir Shop was inaugurated at Bhawan by Lt Governor in the month of February this year.

WTC Final: India Face Tough Australia Challenge

Press Trust of India

LONDON: A formidable bunch of Indian cricketers will require a perfect blend of skill and temperament when it clashes with an equally-strong Australia in the World Test Championship final, starting Wednesday, with an aim to end a decade-long global trophy jinx.

India have been the most consistent side over the past two WTC cycles and also reached knockout phases of major white-ball tournaments over the last 10 years but a trophy has eluded them.

The last major ICC trophy India won was way back in 2013 when it bagged the Champions Trophy in England. Since then, the side has lost three finals and on four occasion it bit dust at the semifinal stage. It also made an exit at the preliminary stage of the 2021 T20 World Cup. The country has been pretty much driving the finances of the sport and considering the vast talent pool on offer, the expectations of dominating the game on field seem only fair.

Out of the six series India played in this cycle, their only series loss came in South Africa and that led to an unexpected change of guard with Rohit Sharma taking over the leadership role from Virat Kohli. They remained unconquerable at home, drew a hard-fought series in England before surviving a slight scare in Bangladesh. Winning the big titles is what defines the legacy of a team but whatever may be the outcome of the final at The Oval, India head coach Rahul Dravid's opinion about his team won't change.

"In the context of things, you look at this and you see this is the culmination of two years of work. It's a culmination of a lot of success that gets you here," said Dravid ahead of the title clash.

"Winning the series in Australia, drawing series here, being very competitive evervwhere that this team has played in the world over the last five or six years. I think those are things that will never change just because you have or you don't have an ICC trophy," he said.

India No Longer Taken Lightly By Australia, Says Kohli

LONDON: Prolific batter Virat Kohli says the Indian Test team has earned formidable Australia's respect after beating them twice in their own backyard and they are no longer taken lightly in the traditional format.

Putting up a solid show of grit and gumption, India pipped Australia in the 2018-19 and 2020-21 editions of the Border-Gavaskar trophy by a similar 2-1 margin.

'Rivalry was intense in the beginning, the environment was also very tense. But since we have won in Australia twice, the rivalry has turned into respect and we are not taken lightly anymore as a Test team," Kohli told Star that all 11 players are on the

"We can feel that respect when we play against Australia, that 'they have beaten us twice in our own backyard back-to-back and it will be a battle of equals'." "There used be tension in the air which is not the case now. When you achieve a standing, make your presence felt in the ground no one takes you lightly.

The familiar foes are slated to play the World Test Championship final at The Oval starting Wednesday. The talismanic Indian batter said he is always motivated to do well against Australia as they seldom give opportunities to their opponents to excel. "I understand that mindset to capitalise on even an inch. So, my motivation increases against this team (Australia) that is so aware and competitive, I have to elevate my game. "The motivation and drive they have, they won't let you comeback in the game. So

The former India skipper reckons the result of the WTC final will boil down to teams adjusting and adapting to the conditions.

I had to take my game to the next level," Kohli said.

Both Australia and India have struggled at The Oval. While Australia have won just seven of their 38 Test matches. India have managed just two victories in 14 games

Pakistan May Pull Out Of Asia Cup After SL, Afghan, Bangladesh Reject 'Hybrid Model'

PCB

Press Trust of India

KARACHI: Left with no option after Sri Lanka, Bangladesh and Afghanistan backed out of their proposed 'Hybrid Model', hosts Pakistan may pull out of the Asia Cup in September.

According to the 'Hybrid Model' proposed by Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) chief Najam Sethi, Pakistan were to conduct 3 to 4 games of the Asia Cup in their country, while the rest of the matches involving India could be held at a neutral venue. The idea was floated after India refused to travel to Pakistan because of security concerns.

However, it has become clear now that Sri Lanka, Bangladesh and Afghanistan have all backed the BCCI's push for moving the tournament out of Pakistan.

"It is just a formality now that the Asian Cricket Council executive board members meet virtually or a proper meeting is called later this month. "But the PCB is now aware that Sri Lanka, Bangladesh and Afghanistan are not backing their hybrid model proposal for the Asia Cup," said a well-informed source aware of the developments.

The source said that Sethi was already in touch with his cricket management committee members and also with the relevant government officials to discuss Pakistan's stance if they do not get to host any matches of the Asia Cup at home.

Sethi has repeatedly said that if the tournament is moved to one neutral country from Pakistan, it will not take part in the competition and the source said it is on the cards that PCB will go for a boycott of the Asia Cup.

'Pakistan only has two options. Play the tourney at neutral venue or withdraw," an Asian Cricket Council (ACC)

''In case Pakistan doesn't play, it will still be called Asia Cup but broadcaster will renegotiate the deal in absence of Pakistan.' Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, Afghanistan and India have all taken the stance that it is not logistically or financially feasible to host the Asia Cup in Pakistan and some other country and it should be held in one country i.e Sri Lanka since India can't travel to Pakistan.

The source also said there is a possibility that the Asia Cup might be scrapped entirely this year and India, Sri Lanka, Bangladesh and Afghanistan could end up playing a multi-team event in 50-overs format before the World Cup. There is every possibility the Asia Cup might not be held this year because without Pakistan and India matches the broadcasters are not likely to offer the same amount they were offering to the ACC with Pakistan included," the source said. The source added that India is also preparing for a four or five nation event at home in the window which would be left open if the Asia Cup is not held. What effect Sri*Lanka, Bangladesh and Afghanistan's decision could have on the relations between these boards remains Pakistan has already rejected a proposal to play some ODI matches in Sri Lanka when it tours the country for a two-Test series after the island nation offered to host all the matches of the Asia Cup.

The source said the recent developments could force Pakistan to show its hand as far as its decision to send its team to India for the World

West Ham, Fiorentina Meet In ECL Final

Agencies

PRAGUE: West Ham and Fiorentina haven't won a European trophy for more than 50 years.

The drought will end for one of them when they play out the Europa Conference League final on Wednesday in Prague.

West Ham earned its lone European title in 1965, the old European Winners' Cup. Alan Sealey scored twice to beat 1860 Munich 2-0 at Wembley Stadium. The Hammers reached the final again in 1976.

En route to this, West Ham's third European final, forward Jarrod Bowen contributed four goals and can't wait to play it.

Fiorentina's only European trophy was also the Cup Winners' Cup, the first one back in 1961 when it defeated Rangers in a two-leg final 4-1 on aggregate.

By reaching the second finale of the Europa Conference League, Fiorentina has become the first club to contest a final in four major continental competitions.

Fiorentina was defeated by Real Madrid for the 1957 European Cup (the forerunner of the Champions League), and by Juventus in the 1990 UEFA Cup final. It also failed to win the Cup Winners' Cup back to back, losing the 1962 final to Atletico Madrid. Fiorentina has had a good buildup. It played the Italian Cup final two weeks ago and was beaten by Inter Milan 2-1. That's the only loss for the Florence-based club in its last six matches. The last warmup for the Conference final was beating Sassuolo 3-1 last Friday for an eighth-place finish in Serie A.

Despite struggling to a 14thplace finish in the English Premier League, West Ham has been a European title contender for a second straight year under manager David Moyes.

Footballers Demand Change For Rampant Online Racist Abuse, Turn To Al For Protection

Agencies

LONDON: Missing penalties in a major international soccer final was bad enough for three Black players on England's national team. Being subjected to a torrent of racial abuse on social media in the aftermath made it even worse.

Monkey emojis. Being told to go home. The N-word. The even sadder part? Everyone knew it was coming.

"It's stupid," said Nedum Onuoha, a retired Black player who was in the top divisions of English and U.S. soccer for 16 years. "But are we surprised?" It's the latest form of racism: technology-fueled, visual, permanently intrusive and 24/7 a haunting reminder of the 1980s-style monkey chants and media era. And it is spiraling out of control on platforms where anonymity is the golden ticket for banana-throwing in a social

"Every time it happens, it knocks you back and floors you," Onuoha told The Associated Press. "Just when you think everything is OK, it's a reminder that it's not. It's a reminder of how some people actually see you."

Racism is the predominant form of abuse on social media reported to Kick It Out, an antidiscrimination campaigner in soccer, according to statistics compiled over the past three seasons in English soccer.

A report last year from FIFA, the governing body of world soccer, showed that more than 50% of players competing in two international tournaments in 2021 — the African Cup of Nations and the European Championship – received some form of discriminatory abuse in more than 400,000 posts on social media. More than a third were of a racist nature.

The problem is, there's barely any accountability and it's so easy. Pull out your phone, find the handle of the player you want to abuse, and fire off a racist message.

Largely speaking, the abuse hasn't stopped Black players from using social media. It is an essential tool for marketing, leading to the paradox of soccer players using the same platforms on which they are abused.

Kylian Mbappe, who has 104 million followers on Instagram and more than 12 million followers on Twitter, was subjected to racial abuse along with reduce their exposure to offenfellow Black teammate Kingslev Coman after their French national team lost in the 2022 World Cup final to Argentina.

Real Madrid winger Vinícius Júnior, who has repeatedly been the target of racial insults, is followed by 38 million people on Instagram and nearly 7 million on Twitter.

Saka, who has more than 1 million followers on Twitter, remains on social media despite the abuse after England's Euro 2020 loss and more just few weeks ago, when a message posted on Twitter showed the Arsenal winger with his face made to look like a monkey, alongside the words: "This clown has cost us the league." Minutes before the message, Saka had missed a penalty in an important Premier League game.

With social media continuing to fuel abuse, players and teams are coming up with ways to both raise awareness and sive users. GoBubble is a company that configures AI software to act as a filter to stop discriminatory comments from being seen by a social media user. It has customers from the Premier League down to the fourth division in English soccer, around Europe and in Australia.

The company's AI technology is plugged into players' accounts and scans for toxic and potentially harmful words, images and other types of messages which can be filtered out using a traffic-light system. Governing bodies are reacting, too. During last year's World Cup in Qatar, FIFA and players' union FIFPRO had a dedicated in-tournament moderation service that prevented racist and other forms of hate speech from being seen online by players and their followers. This service will be offered for the upcoming Women's World
