From Vitasta to Ganga, Lal Chowk to Lal Qila, There's Just One Heart Beat: LG

KO Web Desk

Srinagar: Jammu and Kashmir's Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinah Monday said that with peace gradually becoming a permanent feature in the UT, from Vitasta to Ganga, Shahre-Khas to Banaras and from Lal Chowk to Lal Qila, there is just one heart beat and one thinking.

Addressing a gathering at historic Lal Chowk, after dedicating the three major projects of smart city—Redevelopment of Residency Road, Redevelopment of Srinagar Square, and Redevelopment of Clock Tower, to people of UT, the LG said that today there is just one goal and one desire i.e. peace.

"From Vitasta to Ganga, Shahr-e-Khas to Banaras and from Lal Chowk to Lal Qila, there is one heartbeat and one thinking," the LG said. He said that some people had made "conflict as an industry and enjoyed conflict profiteering." "Today they are seeing the crumbling shadow of terror across the border," he said. "They are witnessing the fall of the terror-eco system and separatism. They are watching the dreams of common citizens of J&K getting fulfilled."

He said that due to personal benefits, development in J&K remained choked. "These people were assigned the charge of enforcing hartals, bandhs due to which people suffered a lot. The benefits reached to conflict profiteers only while common citizens were left to lurch," he said. "Poor was made the poorest and some rich became the richest."

The historic clock tower, locally known as 'Ghanta Ghar', has been renovated along with Lal Chowk as part of the Srinagar Smart City Project.

On the eve of the country's 77th Independence Day, the clock tower was illuminated in the colours of the national flag as a large number of people including tourists braved rains to participate in the inauguration event.

The visitors who gathered at the function waved the national flag and also raised patriotic slogans such as 'Vande Mataram' and 'Bharat Mata ki Jai'.

Rajani Raseeli from Delhi said she considers herself lucky to be present at Lal Chowk when the renovated clock tower was being inaugurated.

"This is my first time here and I am feeling lucky to be a part of

PM Modi To Deliver 10th I-Day Address Today

Press Trust of India

New Delhi: Prime Minister Narendra Modi will deliver on Tuesday his 10th consecutive Independence Day address which will also be his last before the 2024 Lok Sabha elections as a mood of anticipation builds around the annual showpiece event that he has used to present his government's report card, unveil flagship schemes and lay down his vision for the country.

There is a view that the prime minister may choose to chart the country's journey on his watch in various sectors since 2014 and outline his vision for the years ahead, something he has done in previous addresses as well.

Experts will also be looking for political messages in the address. PM Modi has mostly refrained from launching any direct political attack on opposition parties in his Independence Day addresses but has often stressed on the governance changes his dispensation has ushered in after a spell of "corruption" and policy paralysis.

Since his first Independence Day speech from the ramparts of Red Fort in 2014, when he had announced a host of new programmes such as Swachh Bharat and Jan Dhan accounts, PM Modi has made key announcements on the milestone day and sought to engage with citizens on a range of issues, including social ills like crimes against women and social conflicts. Researchers From 8 Countries, Led By IIT-M, Study Climate Impact Of Power Plant Emissions

Press Trust Of India

Researchers from eight countries led by the Indian Institute of Technology-Madras have conducted a study on how gaseous emissions from power plants lead to changes in cloud formation to ascertain the impact of coal-fired power plants on the climate.

The study, conducted during the COVID-19 lockdown in India, imparts insights into the consequences of reduced human-related emissions on aerosol traits and cloud formation, thereby advancing the comprehension of the implications of coal-fired power plant emissions in the context of climate change, officials said.

The findings of the study have been published in the reputed journal "Climate And Atmospheric Science". The team included 27 researchers from India, China, the USA, Germany, the UK, Mexico, Italy, Saudi Arabia and Finland.

No. TLMD7/TS/ 1426-2945

DIPK-NB-2606/23

Dated: 14/08/2023

The researchers delved into the impact of emissions from the Neyveli coal-fired power plant, located about 200 km south of Chennai, on aerosol growth and cloud-forming properties during the Covid lockdown.

The team studied how atmospheric conversion of gaseous emissions from power plants into particulate matter results in particles that are rich in sulphate and consequently have high cloudforming potential compared to natural counterparts.

This study may provide important scientific insights for framing policies related to controlling PM 2.5.

"Our study provides a rare opportunity to examine the sensitivity of cloud-forming aerosol particles to new particle formation and growth due to SO2 emissions from a coal-fired power plant under relatively cleaner conditions.

"These findings have important implications for assessing the climate impacts of anthropogenic aerosols and highlight the need for comprehensive emission control measures," said Sachin S Gunthe, the coordinator of the Centre for Atmospheric Sciences at IIT-Madras.

Gunthe explained that observations and analyses presented in the research paper offer a rare chance to explore how aerosols with the ability to form clouds react to new particle formation and growth resulting from SO2 emissions from a coal-fired power plant.

"This occurs under relatively cleaner conditions in tropical India. These findings are of immense importance to climate modellers as they establish a baseline for comparison against the typically prevalent conditions in heavily polluted coastal Indian cities." he said.

A doctoral student at the Centre for Atmospheric and Climate Sciences, IIT Madras, Aishwarya Singh calibrated, maintained and operated the set of six advanced and state-of-the-art instruments during the COVID-19 lockdown under extraordinarily challenging and adverse conditions.

"We had started running our aerosol characterization equipment for routine measurements just a few days before the lockdown was announced and I was presented with an option of shutting down all the instruments and going home by my doctoral advisor.

"Upon discussing the possibility of continuing the measurements during the lockdown with him, I decided to stay back to carry out the observations, anticipating some interesting scientific findings," Singh said.

During the lockdown, as anthropogenic emissions such as traffic and industries significantly decreased, the researchers observed a drastic reduction in the overall aerosol burden over the study region.

"This provided a unique opportunity to isolate the impact of specific emission sources, mainly from the power plant, which continued operation during the lockdown, to understand the underlying processes of aerosol formation and its impact on cloud formation and climate," he said.

Iran Judiciary Says Suspects In Shiraz Shrine Attack Are Foreigners

Agencies

DUBAI: Iran has detained eight suspects related to Sunday's attack on Shiite Muslim shrine in the southern city of Shiraz, the judiciary said on Monday, adding that all were foreigners.

One person was killed and ten people were wounded, Iran's Nournews reported, calling it a "terrorist attack" on the shrine known as Shah Cheragh. Authorities said a man had opened fire at the shrine before being arrested.

The judiciary's Mizan news agency said the main perpetrator was identified as a citizen of Tajikistan while the nationalities of the other suspects, all foreign nationals, remained unknown. No group immediately claimed responsibility for the attack on the shrine, where 15 people were killed in an attack last October claimed by Islamic State.

The militant group has claimed other attacks in Iran, including the deadly twin bombings in 2017 that targeted Iran's parliament and the tomb of the Islamic Republic's founder, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini

Bangladesh Seeks To Extradite Sheikh Mujibur Rahman's Killers From US, Canada

Press Trust of India

KOLKATA: Bangladesh is trying to bring back two of the fugitive army officers who were involved in shooting dead the country's founding father Sheikh Mujibur Rahman and members of his family in cold blood at their Dhaka house on August 15, 1975.

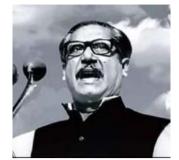

Bangladesh's Law and Justice Minister Anisul Huq, in an exclusive interview with PTI, said that his country was negotiating a return of two "self-confessed killers" of Sheikh Mujib - Rashed Chowd-hury from the US and SHBM Noor Chowdhury from Canada.

"While the whereabouts of Major Shariful Haque Dalim, (a principal plotter behind the killing) is still not known, we know that Col Rashed Chowdhury is in the US and Noor Chowdhury, another of the coup plotter involved in the killing of Bangabandhu is in Canada. We are still in talks with the US on getting the killer officer back," said Mr Huq. Canada has laws which do not permit a person facing a death sentence at home to be extradited and this has proven to be a hurdle.

"They killed the father of the 2021 that August 14 will be observed as the Partition Hornation and 17 members of his family...Given the heinous nature of the crime, we have tried to convince Canada to return Noor Chowdhury," the minister said. The gruesome killing of Sheikh Mujib and his entire family save his two daughters Sheikh Hasina and Sheikh Rehana - who were travelling abroad, at their Dhanmondi bungalow on India's Independence Day had 28-years-ago shaken the entire world.

"They are self-confessed killers and the available evidence is conclusive of their crime," Mr Huq, a London-trained senior advocate of the Bangladesh Supreme Court said.

In 1975, a coterie of middlelevel Army officers planned a coup to topple Sheikh Mujib's elected government and replace it with a military government. They chose August 15, India's Independence Day, to carry out the coup.

Four groups of soldiers led by the coup plotters entered Dhaka in the early hours of August 15, 1975. The first group entered Sheikh Mujib's house and killed him after an argument and then went on to slaughter all members of the family as well as personal staff present, including a pregnant daughter-in-law of the family.

Other groups took over the radio station, key government buildings and disarmed security forces stationed at Savar in the city.

Four Awami League leaders - the first Prime Minister of Bangladesh Tajuddin Ahmed, another former PM Mansur Ali, a former Vice President Syed Nazrul Islam and former home minister AHM Qamaruzzaman were also arrested and incarcerated in Dhaka jail, and later murdered in prison.

Libya Offers Lebanon Assistance To Determine Musa Al-Sadr's Fate

Agencies

Sor the first time, Libyan operate with the Lubyall operate with the Lebanese judiciary to determine the fate of prominent Shia cleric Imam Musa al-Sadr and two of his companions, who disappeared in Libya over four decades ago, Asharq Al-Awsat reported on 14 August.

The offer of assistance came in a letter sent by Libyan judicial officials seeking the release of Hannibal al-Gaddafi, the son of the late Libyan President Moammar al-Gaddafi. Hannibal has been detained in Lebanon without charge since 2015 in connection with the Sadr case.

Imam Musa al-Sadr was born in Iran but became a prominent Shia cleric in Lebanon. He formed the Shia protest movement Harakat al-Mahroumin (Movement of the Dispossessed) and its armed wing, the Amal Movement. Sadr's movement also led to the establishment of the Shia resistance group, Hezbollah. Sadr mysteriously disap-

A Lebanese judicial source said that the letter sent by Libyan judicial authorities asked their Lebanese counterparts for information about the accusations leveled against Libyan officials accused of kidnapping and disappearing Sadr and his two companions, Sheikh Mohammed Yaacoub and journalist Abbas Badreddine.

Lebanon has previously issued arrest warrants in absentia for numerous Libyan officials thought to be involved in Sadr's disappearance.

A Lebanese judicial source told Asharq Al-Awsat that Oweidat referred the letter to Judge Zaher Hamadeh to provide the answers requested by the Libvan side peared in Libya in 1978 while on his way to a meeting with President Gaddafi.

Lebanon's public prosecutor, Ghassan Oweidat, received the letter from the Libyan public prosecutor, Al-Siddig al-Sour.

Hannibal al-Gaddafi fled Libya in 2011, when western and Qatari-backed extremist groups toppled the Libyan government with the help of NATO airpower, killing his father. Hannibal fled to Syria, after which he was abducted and brought to Lebanon, where he was arrested on accusations of involvement in the Sadr case.

In June, he began a hunger strike to protest his ongoing detention.

The source explained that Judge Hamadeh began studying the Libyan request and is preparing a report to detail the accusations directed at Gaddafi. The Lebanese judiciary ac-cuses Gaddafi of concealing information regarding the fate of Sadr and his two companions. Gaddafi is also accused of direct connection to the crime because he was responsible for political prisons during the last vears of his father's rule.

The Libyan public prosecutor requested approval from the Lebanese judiciary to question Gaddafi, find out the information he withheld, and provide his findings to the Lebanese authorities.

Change In Kashmir

s the nation prepares to celebrate its 76th Independence Day, Kashmir finds itself at a significant crossroads: Only ten days ago, the region observed four years of the revocation of Article 370 which has radically transformed the situation. The state-turned-union territory has witnessed a drastic decline in violence and unprecedented growth in tourism. So this year's August 15 celebration in Kashmir holds a special resonance, reflecting both the challenges and the opportunities that lie ahead.

One of the most significant developments in recent times has been the gradual return of calm and security to the valley. The efforts of the government and the security forces have contributed to a reduction in militancy and a consequent atmosphere that has made a normal state of affairs possible. This shift has paved the way for socioeconomic development, leading to increased tourism, investment and job opportunities for the people of Kashmir.

A measure of this change was Sunday's Tiranga rally flagged off by the Lieutenant Governor, Manoj Sinha. The rally, marked by an overwhelming participation of people, served as a response to naysayers who once doubted the people's embrace of the Tricolour following the revocation of Article 370. The Tiranga, once a point of contention, has now become a symbol of unity.

Beyond the rally too, the change in the situation is self-evident. August 15 is now as peaceful as in any other state or region of the country. Gone seem the days when there used to be a complete hartal on the day. The prevailing peace has made the government confident enough not to even tighten security or disconnect internet.

But while we highlight the achievements and progress made, it is important to acknowledge that there is still much work to be done. True development is not only measured by economic growth but also by the empowerment and wellbeing of every individual. Initiatives that focus on education, healthcare, and infrastructure are vital to ensure that the benefits of progress reach every corner of Kashmir.

In the spirit of inclusivity, it is also essential to engage in meaningful dialogue with the local population. Their perspectives, aspirations, and concerns must be considered in the formulation of policies that impact their lives. Building trust and fostering a sense of ownership among the people of Kashmir will undoubtedly contribute to the region's development and lasting peace.

Independence Day Liberation in Diversity, Celebration in Unity

Dr. Ashaq Hussain

In a land where dreams alight and spirits soar, A nation's heart beats with a resounding roar.

Independence, a cherished gift we hold dear, A legacy of struggle, hope, and cheer ndependence Day is a momentous occasion that holds profound significance in the history of India thereby the day holds a significant place in the hearts of every citizen of a nation. It is a day of pride, reflection and unity, where a country celebrates its hard-fought freedom. Every year on the 15th of August, India's tricolor flag unfurls across the nation, marking the celebration of Independence Day. This significant day commemorates the hard-fought freedom struggle that led to India's liberation from colonial rule. As India moves forward in the 21st century, the significance of Independence Day has taken on new dimensions beyond the patriotic fervour and historical context. This day serves as a unique opportunity to foster communal harmony and strengthen the bonds of national integration. In a diverse and multicultural society, this occasion offers a platform to bridge gaps, build understanding, and promote a sense of shared identity and belonging.

August fifteenth, a day of significance grand When India broke free from colonial hand

With courage and sacrifice, hearts all aligned Independence was gained, a destiny defined

India, being a land of numerous diversities, stands as a testament to the richness of cultures and traditions and national integration is the force that unify all these diverse communities, cultures, languages, and religions into a cohesive and harmonious nation. However, these diversities can also pose challenges to unity but Independence Day serves as a day to acknowledge and celebrate this diversity, highlighting the unity that can be found amidst the differences. As citizens from different backgrounds come together to commemorate the struggles and sacrifices made during the freedom movement, a sense of shared history and identity emerges, reinforcing the idea that despite the differences, they are all part of the same nation. One of India's greatest strengths lies in its cultural amalgamation.

Independence Day celebrations provide a space for various cultural performances, showcasing the rich tapestry of the nation's heritage. Through music, dance, art, and literature, people from different corners of India contribute to the celebration in their unique ways. This integration of cultures fosters mutual respect and appreciation, ultimately strengthening the can thrive harmoniously.

Independence Day fosters a sense of shared patriotism among Indians, irrespective of their backgrounds. The tricolor flag flying high, the national anthem reverberating in unison and the collective pride in the achievements of the nation all contribute to a powerful sentiment of unity. This shared patriotism helps bridge gaps and encourages citizens to look beyond their differences and work towards the common good of the nation. The map of India might be divided by political boundaries, but the spirit of the nation remains undivided. This day is a reminder that the dreams and aspirations of every citizen are interlinked, regardless of their geographical location. By emphasizing the idea of "One India," Independence Day inspires us to think beyond narrow constraints and to work collectively for the progress of the entire nation.

As India progresses, it is essential to educate younger generations about the struggles and sacrifices that led to the country's independence. Independence Day acts as a yearly pendence Day is more than just a day of patriotic sentiment; it is a powerful catalyst for communal harmony and national integration and stands as a symbol of national pride and unity, reminding us of the sacrifices made by our forefathers to secure our freedom. Beyond the celebrations and festivities, it serves as a potent reminder of the urgent need for national integration, communal harmony and the realization of a united India. This day calls upon every citizen to uphold the values of unity, diversity, and shared identity. By celebrating diversity, promoting shared values, encouraging civic participation and fostering understanding among communities, this day offers a unique opportunity to bridge gaps and build a stronger, more united nation. By embracing these principles, we can create a society that is not only strong and prosperous but also a shining example of unity in diversity for the rest of the world. As we raise our flags and sing the national anthem on Independence Day, let us also raise our collective commitment to forging a nation that embodies the spirit of "Ek Bharat,

In present-day India, Independence Day is not merely a historical event; it's a pathway to unity. As the nation grapples with modern challenges and opportunities, the values of freedom, unity, and diversity become even more crucial. he news that the tiger is, once again, burning bright is a testament to the success of Project Tiger. India's tiger population has doubled to an average of 3,682 from the low of approximately 1,800 animals in the wild in 1972. But with shining success comes added responsibility and serious challenges. India must learn to sustain its tiger population; otherwise, it risks undoing all the progress made. Foremost among the challenges is the uneven distribution of tiger populations. Around 80% of India's tigers now roam across eight states. Madhya Pradesh has the highest tiger population of 785, followed by 563 in Karnataka and 444 in Maharashtra; Odisha, Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh have recorded dips in tiger numbers; Nagaland and Mizoram have no tigers left; and northern Bengal reportedly has just a handful. In forests with choked carrying capacities - the Sunderbans are an example — rising numbers could push some apex predators into buffer zones, drastically increasing the chances of man-animal conflicts. There are other risks. The greater the concentration of tigers in a reserve, the higher their threat of perishing to vector-borne contagions: canine distemper outbreaks pose a significant threat. Moreover, a healthier distribution of tigers in India's forests would also be less disruptive to their respective ecological habitats. The relocation of tigers, the attendant challenges notwithstanding, must be looked into seriously. A pilot study involving the Sunderbans in India and Bangladesh could be useful. Petty politics should not hinder collaborations in conservation: it is pertinent to mention that political oneupmanship has prevented the transfer of lions from Gir in Gujarat to Madhya Pradesh even after the Supreme Court directed the Centre to enact plans to shift some of the animals

The future of the tiger is also inextricably linked to the future of India's forests. India's forest cover continues to fall short of the target of 33% that is important to maintain ecological balance. More worryingly, the share of dense forests the home of tigers — is declining precipitously in many parts of the country, as was evident from the Forest Survey of India in 2021. The fragmentation of moderate and dense forests accompanied by the rise of plantations - the 'new forests' of New India — is inimical to the future of the striped species. Telegraph India bonds of unity.

Secondly communal harmony, the peace-ful coexistence of different religious and ethnic groups, is a fundamental pillar of a strong and progressive society. Independence Day reinforces the idea that every religion and culture has contributed to the tapestry of India's history, and it is essential to maintain an atmosphere of mutual respect and understanding. The freedom fighters who led the struggle for independence were from diverse backgrounds, displaying that unity can be achieved regardless of differences. This day encourages us to reject divisiveness, divisive forces and work towards creating an environment where all individuals, irrespective of their backgrounds reminder to reflect upon the past and learn from it. Through different programs, events, and ceremonies, the youth gain a deeper understanding of the nation's history, which in turn fosters a greater sense of unity and responsibility towards preserving and enhancing India's democratic values and freedom.

To conclude, it can be added that in presentday India, Independence Day is not merely a historical event; it's a pathway to unity. As the nation grapples with modern challenges and opportunities, the values of freedom, unity, and diversity become even more crucial. Thus, IndeShrestha Bharat" - One India, Great India. So let's celebrate this day with pride, remembering the struggles, far and wide. Happy Independence Day, to the land so dear, let's remember India's story of freedom, forever. Wish you all a Happy Independence Day.

Need for Community Engagement Events

n an era where the world seems to grow increasingly interconnected yet distant, community-focused programs play a crucial role in fostering a sense of belonging and unity among residents. These programs serve as avenues for individuals to come together, share experiences, and collaborate for the betterment of their localities. By focusing on the unique needs and aspirations of a community, such initiatives contribute to creating safer, more vibrant, and tightlyknit neighborhoods.

One of the most remarkable benefits of community-focused programs is their ability to address specific challenges faced by residents. Whether it's improving educational opportunities for children, providing healthcare services for underserved populations, or enhancing access to job training and employment resources, these programs can make a significant difference where it matters most. By tailoring their efforts to local needs, they empower communities to overcome obstacles and unlock their full potential. Moreover, community-focused programs promote social interaction and bridge gaps that might otherwise exist between diverse groups. Through shared activities, events, and collaborative projects, people from various backgrounds can interact, learn from one another, and develop mutual understanding. This not only promotes social cohesion but also enriches the fabric of our society by celebrating diversity and promoting inclusion

The ripple effect of communityfocused programs extends beyond immediate beneficiaries. As neighborhoods thrive, there is often a positive impact on the overall economy, property values, and local businesses. A vibrant community attracts new residents and fosters a sense of pride that encourages people to invest in their surroundings. This virtuous cycle of growth reinforces the importance of sustaining and expanding such programs.

I urge readers to support and participate in community-focused programs, whether through volunteering, donations, or simply spreading awareness. By doing so, we can contribute to the growth of neighborhoods that prioritize the well-being of their residents and work together to create a brighter future for all.

In conclusion, community-focused programs are not just about addressing local needs; they are about nurturing connections, encouraging growth, and building a better society from the ground up. As responsible citizens, let us recognize and celebrate the invaluable contributions of these programs in shaping our communities for the better.

THE DREAMS OF

A Call for True Freedom Voices from the Heart of the Common Man

Aubaid Ahmad Akhoon

WHAT IS FREEDOM?

Freedom is the state of being able to act, speak, and make choices without constraints or oppression. It encompasses personal autonomy, civil liberties, and the absence of undue control. It enables individuals to pursue their aspirations and live their lives according to their values, within the bounds of societal norms. Freedom is like having the ability to do things you want to do without anyone stopping you. It's not just about being able to vote or say what you think. It's also about having enough food, a good job, and being treated fairly no matter where you're from or what you look like. It's like making sure everyone has a chance to be happy and do their best.

In the vibrant tapestry of history, every year, Independence Day marks a significant chapter of struggle, valor, and determina-tion. As we celebrate, let's peel back the layers and explore the essence of freedom that resonates with ordinary citizens and aspiring youth alike.

From the experienced voice of the common man to the passion-ate cries of the educated youth, a unified plea echoes: "Grant us freedom from unemployment, ignorance, and failures. Empower us with opportunities and a just society."

True freedom, the kind that matters, goes beyond political sovereignty. It is the freedom to pursue education without barriers, to engage in dialogue with-out fear, and to live without the gnawing pangs of hunger. As one voice asserts, "Let religious freedom thrive, let every belief find respect. Let not hunger claim lives, let no one suffer."

In this vision, the famed slogan "Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas" finds its tangible expression. It's not merely a political catchphrase, but a pledge to uplift all corners of society. It's an aspiration where the common man's welfare stands as the measuring stick of progress.

As we shape our nations' destinies, the role of the government is pivotal. The common man looks to the authorities, echoing Abraham Lincoln's timeless words, "Government is of the people, by the peo-ple, for the people." Their hopes are pinned on policies that bridge gaps, uplift lives, and ensure that the marginalized are not forgotten.

In this shared journey towards a brighter future, we weave the dreams of our forefathers into reality. The common man's voice resonates through history, echoing the essence of Mahatma Gandhi's words, "Freedom is not worth having if it does not include the freedom to make mistakes." This kind of freedom is a teacher, a guide that enables growth and collective progress.

The spirit of our unity remains unwavering. A society where the roots of bias and prejudice are eradicated, where religious and cultural identities coexist harmoniously, is a society that stands on the threshold of true progress. A voice from the heart of the youth resonates, "Give us a world where we are free to learn, free to flourish, and free to embrace diversity.'

In addition, let's envision a land where the ground reality echoes the ideals we uphold. Where the 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas" slogan transforms into a reality that we can see, feel, and experience. Let's ensure that the foundations of our society are strong and just, and that the common man's dreams are nurtured, not thwarted.

As we celebrate Independence Day, let's unite to build a society where freedom is not just a memory but a living, breathing reality. Let's carry forward the vision of our forefathers, shaping our countries into places where every individual thrives, where unity paves the way for progress, and where true freedom reigns in the hearts and lives of all.

To sum up, being truly free means that everyone can go everywhere in this country without any fear and everyone is treated everywhere equally. We will be truly free when we raise our country's flag willingly at our homes, schools, hospitals, cars, bikes; etc by heart not as a one day show.

The true freedom is also when our leaders can walk among the common people without bodyguards, just like the leaders of this nation did in the 1950s. As George Washington has it,"If true freedom is taken away, then dumb and silent we may be led, like sheep to the slaughter."

Friendships Are Not Optional

Britt Frank

Friendships are not a luxury. They are as important to our well-being as water and oxygen.

The statistics on the health risks associated with a lack of friendships are shocking. People with no friends or poor-quality friendships are twice as likely to die prematurely, according to Holt-Lunstad's meta-analysis of more than 308,000 people-a risk factor even greater than the effects of smoking 20 cigarettes per day.

More simply put: Adult friendships are not optional if we want health and happiness. Ultra runner, master life coach, and doctoral student in somatic psychology (and a dear friend) Nicole Whiting writes, "What if we celebrated our friendship stories in the same way we celebrate our love stories? We can. We should."

While academic literature is full of why we need adult friendships, there is a dearth of information on how to do it. It can be helpful to sort fact from fiction when it comes to friendships, and I've identified what I believe are the top four myths of adult friendships that contribute to keeping us stuck in dangerous isolation patterns.

4 Myths of Adult Friendships 1. YOU NEED A BEST FRIEND

Having a "bestie" is aspirational but, as an adult, not always possible. Childhood "best friends" are often easier to access due to proximity and frequency of contact, which are factors more difficult to sustain into adulthood

Luckily, it is not necessary to have a best friend to fully reap the benefits of social connection. Relationship expert Esther Perel writes in Mating in Captivity, "Today we turn to one person to provide what an entire village once did: a sense of grounding, meaning, and continuity...is it any wonder that so many relationships crumble under the weight of it all?"

Though she was talking about romantic relationships in that quote, the concept also applies to friendships. You do not need to find your one-and-only best friend to reap the health benefits of connection.

2. IF YOU DON'T INVEST A LOT OF TIME, THE FRIENDSHIP ISN'T WORTH IT

Whiting writes, "The reality is that friendship, any relationship, cannot be built without some sort of foundation that requires time, energy, and intentionally, but we do not need to define what those are. Each relationship is unique. Intimacy can be built in moments and in years."

With life's complexity and the demands on our days, it is unreasonable and unnecessary to expect a friendship to require all of our time. Many deep and rich friendships can exist with little day-to-day contact. Quality, not quantity of time, matters most when it comes to friendships.

3. SOCIAL MEDIA FRIENDS DON'T COUNT AS FRIENDS

When dating sites first became popular, most people would've preferred to gnaw off their own fingers rather than admit they met their partner online. We may have normalized online dating, but the stigma continues to permeate online friendships.

I have incredible friends who exist only within the digital squares of Zoom or Facetime. Your life, your rules. If social media is a space where you feel connected, seen, validated, and supported, there is no reason to discount your online friends.

Being in person comes with perks not found in online relationships, such as the ability to hug, but the overall benefits of friendships do not demand that you meet in person.

4. FRIENDS ARE FOREVER

Friends are not always forever. Staying in a relationship out of fear of appearing disloyal is a form of self-betrayal. Outgrowing people and places is a natural part of life.

Sometimes the journey means evolving our limits, saying "no," or stepping back from friendships. There is no rule that says you have to keep people in your life "just because" they've always been there. While it can be sad to leave friendships behind, you are allowed to be both sad and unwilling to remain in an unhealthy relationship.

WHITING WRITES:

If you find a friendship changing or dissolving, remember, nothing has necessarily gone 'wrong.' Life and people are moving in different directions, ebbing and flowing, and this is part of being human, even if it may feel painful and confusing.

There are a million friendship concepts that could occupy real es-tate in this post. Setting boundaries, how to say no, how to navigate conflict, how to worry about your friends without sacrificing your serenity-all useful and important topics.

But the biggest takeaway I hope you'll grab is said best by friendship expert and author Lydia Denworth: "The science of friendship gives you permission to hang out with your friends and call it healthy."

Need Batting Depth: Dravid After T20 Series Loss

Press Trust of India

LAUDERHILL: India head Dravid has Rahul coach stressed on the need to add batting depth following the 2-3 loss to the West Indies in the T20 series.

India played the series with a long tail comprising Arshdeep Singh, Yuzvendra Chahal, Kuldeep Yadav and Mukesh Kumar. Spin all-rounder Axar Patel batted at number seven. In the series decider, India failed to accelerate in the death overs to end up with a below par 165/9. West Indies overhauled the target with two overs to spare. "I think in terms of our squad here, probably it didn't allow us the flexibility in some ways to be able to change the combinations a little bit. But I think going forward, we've got to look at certain areas in which we can get better.

"Finding depth in our batting has been an area we are trying to address. We are trying to do the best we possibly can but that's certainly an area we can look at, how we cannot weaken our bowling attack but ensure we have a certain amount of depth in batting," said Dravid on Sunday.

On the contrary, West In-dies had Alzarri Joseph coming in at number 11 with their side packed with bowling allrounders. "As these games are going on, and scores are becoming bigger and bigger, if you look at West Indies, they had Alzarri Joseph coming in at No. 11 and he can hit a mean ball. So you have sides which have that depth. "Obviously, we have some challenges on that front and we need to work on that. It's certainly something that this series has shown us and we need to build on that depth," the India coach pointed out.

Tilak Varma, Yashasvi Jaiswal and Mukesh Kumar made their debuts in the T20 series and Dravid was left impressed by all of them. Varma made his international debut in the series and showed he was here to stay. "I thought all the three guys who made debuts for us in this series, stood up. Yashasvi Jasiwal in the fourth game, I thought he played a very good innings. He's shown us what he can do in the IPL and it was nice to see him replicate that in international cricket.

"Tilak Varma, I thought, was really good, to come in in the middle order. He came in sometimes in very difficult situations. But every time, he plays with a lot of intent, plays very positively, looks to move the game along, fielded brilliantly throughout the series, showed us he can bowl one or two overs as well.

"So really positive signs from Tilak and to have that left-hander in the middle order does make a huge difference against some of the attacks that we've been playing against."

Shaheen Afridi Signs With ILT20 Franchise Desert Vipers

Press Trust of India

DUBAI: Star left-arm pacer Shaheen Afridi has signed a threeyear contract with Desert Vipers for the second season of the UAE's ILT20, and will become the first Pakistan player to play in the league in January next year.

"I am excited to join the Desert Vipers. I know there are many Pakistan cricket fans in the UAE and I hope they will support our team in the upcoming ILT20," Afridi said in a statement. The next season of ILT20 is scheduled to begin on January 13, and Afridi could join the team after returning from Australia.

The Vipers had tried to sign a few players from Pakistan last vear as well but those attempts didn't materialise.

Last year, Vipers had signed Azam Khan, which would have made him the first Pakistan player in the ILT20, but the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) did not grant him the no-objection certificate to play in the league.

The PCB's current chairman Zaka Ashraf has, however, is allowing players to participate in various T20 leagues.

"Shaheen is undeniably a player of world-class calibre who has had a significant impact not only for Pakistan but for every team he's played for in recent times," Vipers director of cricket Tom Moody said on their new signing.

"He offers a huge amount as an impact pace bowler that has destroyed many, many top-orders and he also boasts terrific leadership skills that will add a huge amount of value to the Desert Vipers moving forward." Afridi will join a bowling attack that has Wanindu Hasaranga, Matheesha Pathirana, Tom Curran and Sheldon Cottrell among others.

Madrid Sign GK Arrizabalaga On Loan From Chelsea

Agencies

MADRID: Real Madrid and Chelsea have reached an agreement for goalkeeper Kepa Arrizabalaga's season-long loan to the Spanish club, the clubs announced on Monday.

The 28-year-old Arrizabalaga will arrive as a temporary replacement for Thibaut Courtois, who will be sidelined for several months after suffering a torn anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) in his left knee during a training session last Thursday. Arrizabalaga joined Chelsea from Athletic Bilbao in 2018 for a record 80 million euros fee for a goalkeeper but fell out of favour in the London club, who signed goalkeeper Robert Sanchez from Brighton & Hove Albion this summer.

He has reportedly been targeted by Bayern Munich as the German side are seeking to replace their own injured goalkeeper, Manuel Neuer, but Real Madrid moved faster to secure the deal. Courtois' injury is a major blow for Real as they will have to make do without the driv Lunin.

services of one of their key players for the foreseeable future.

Courtois joined Real from Chelsea in 2018 after winning two Premier League titles, the FA Cup and the League Cup during his time at Stamford Bridge. He was named Player-of-the-Match following the 2022 Champions League final after producing one of the greatest goalkeeping performances in a European Cup final.

Courtois recorded nine saves to deny Liverpool in Paris, leading his club to a record extending 14th European title after a 1-0 win. Real Madrid had only one other goalkeeper in their first team squad, Ukraine's An-

FCC Surasyar Lifts SPL Trophy

BUDGAM: The 2023 Surasyar Premier League (SPL) cricket tournament concluded on Sunday at Khudwani Cricket Ground in Surasyar, Chadoora.

The final match was played between FCC Surasyar and LCC Dadompora. Additional Secretary to Govt Youth Services and Sports Department (YSS) Raja Waseem was chief guest on the occasion. The cricket tournament was sponsored by Sajad Medicos Surasyar with more than a dozen teams participating.

LCC Dadaompora smashed 171 runs in 20 overs, with Ishfaq making 51. The players of FCC Surasyar played well and there was a neck to neck fight at the end. Due to loose fielding from LCC Dadaompora, the FCC Surasyar players managed to get around two to three boundaries in their kitty which helped them to win the match. Parvaiz Ahmad Parra from FCC Surasyar Riyaz Ahmad Wani, Captain LCC Dadaompora, was given an award for being the most disciplined player of the tournament. He was also chosen as man of the series.

Additional Secretary YSS Department Raja Waseem while addressing the youth and players assured them that the government would explore ways and means to set up a good cricket ground in Surasyar.

Agencies RIYADH: Neymar is set to complete a move to the Saudi Pro League after Al Hilal agreed to a reported 90 million euros (USD98 million) transfer fee with Paris Saint-Germain on Monday. The fee would be a record for the league, backed by the oilrich state, in its spending spree on high-end soccer talent.

Al Hilal could finally seal a statement signing to match Al Nassr, its city rival in Riyadh, which lured Cristiano Ronaldo in January. Recent offers to Lionel Messi and Kylian Mbappé, teammates of Neymar last season at French champion

PSG, were not accepted. Neymar has reportedly been offered a two-year contract expected to pay the 31-year-old Brazil star an annual salary of about USD100 million.

Neymar and PSG agreed last week he could leave although his widely reported preference, like Messi several weeks ago, was on returning to their former club Barcelona.

Barcelona's troubled finances make such deals tough and Messi instead chose Major League Soccer's Inter Miami in June

Kishan Makes Strong Case For Reserve Opener's Slot

Press Trust of India

NEW DELHI: India went on an experimentation spree in the limited overs series against the West Indies but not much came out of it except Tilak Varma emerging as a contender for a World Cup middle-order slot on the back of his exploits in the T20 series.

Ahead of the Asia Cup and subsequent World Cup, India were looking for options in the middle-order in the ODI series but the number four slot remains up for grabs.

Knowing that it was their final chance of trying out players ahead of the two multi-team events, skipper Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli did not bat in the series and watched the action from the sidelines.

With series going down to the wire, the move was criticised but it allowed the likes of Ishan Kishan, Sanju Samson and Suryakumar Yadav to make a strong case for themselves.

Before the start of the series, Samson and Kishan were seen as contenders for the wicket-keeper's spot but by the end of it, the latter emerged as a strong contender for the reserve opener's slot with Rohit and Shubman Gill set to open in the Asia Cup.

Rohit's absence allowed Kishan to open in all three games and he made the most of the opportunity with scores of 52, 55 and 77. Samson, who is used to being in and out of the side.

the team is likely to carry him till at least the Asia Cup if not the World Cup.

In the absence of K L Rahul and Shreyas Iyer, Suryakumar had to ace the middle-order audition but the master of T20 batting fell short on the expectations. Considering what he can do for the team in the middle-overs, it will be a tough call for the management to ignore him for the final 15 for World Cup. Even if Rahul and Iyer regain full fitness in time for the Asia Cup beginning August 31. the team will have to be convinced of their form in the middle after a long injury lay off.

"Look, No. 4 has been an Whipping an express pacer

He got only better as the series progressed and played a huge role in India's fightback in the T20 series before the Hardik Pandva-led side lost the series-decider on Sunday. The cricketing world took note of Varma's arrival on the big stage including the great and insightful R Ashwin who backed the youngster to make the World Cup squad as an X factor player.

Kuldeep Yadav continues to be India's go to spinner

Kuldeep Yadav reinforced his reputation of being India's go to bowler for wickets in the middle overs. The left-arm wrist spinner picked up seven wickets in three ODIs, putting himself well ahead of of his good friend Yuzvendra Chahal in the pecking order. Medium pace Mukesh Kumar too got the job done with the new ball on the slow wickets of the Caribbean.

Umran Malik, whose raw pace has generated a huge amount of interest, got another opportunity on the big stage but he was not able to step up. Ever since making his debut in June last year, the 23-year-old has not been able to raise his game. As the great Brian Lara

51 killed in Himachal rains, 14 of them in Shimla landslides

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Shimla: At least 51 people were killed as rains wreaked havoc in Himachal Pradesh, triggering landslides that blocked key roads, damaged homes and buried devotees in the rubble of a temple here.

Fourteen bodies were recovered from the sites of two landslides in the state capital, and officials feared there could be more people trapped under the debris of the Shiva temple in Summer Hill area.

The shrine was crowded with devotees, offering prayers on an important day of the holy month of Sawan.

Nineteen people died in rain-related incidents in Mandi district, Deputy Commissioner Arindam Chaudhary told PTI.

In Solan, another badly affected district, 11 people including seven members of a family have been killed.

The weather office predicted extremely heavy rains in nine out of 12 districts of the state, barring Kullu, Kinnaur and Lahaul and Spiti, on Monday and issued a yellow warning for Tuesday.

Shimla SP Sanjeev Kumar Gandhi

told PTI that 14 bodies have been pulled out of the rubble at the two landslide sites of Summer Hill and Fagli, while 17 persons rescued.

The officials said heavy rains are hampering rescue operations in Shimla several parts of which were without electricity since Sunday night as landslides and uprooted trees damaged power lines.

Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu earlier said nine bodies have been pulled out of the debris from a Shiva temple in the Summer Hill area and the other site in the Fagli area where several houses were buried under mud and slush.

All schools and colleges in the state were closed on Monday. According to the state emergency operation centre, 621 roads were closed in the state because of the calamity.

In Hamirpur district, four people have died due to incessant rains. Hamirpur Deputy Commissioner Hemraj Bairwa said that two persons are missing.

One person was swept away by the flood waters while two others were rescued on Sunday night. In another incident, an elderly woman was buried alive while her son was rescued after their house collapsed due to rains, the officials said.

In Rangas area of Hamirpur, a woman was killed in a landslide, while an 80-year-old man died in a house collapse incident in Bhagatu panchayat. In Solan district's Jadon village, seven members of a family were killed in a cloudburst on Sunday night. Two houses in the district were washed away following the cloudburst. While six people were rescued, seven others were killed, a police official said.

The dead have been identified as Harnam (38), Kamal Kishore (35), Hemlata (34), Rahul (14), Neha (12), Golu (8) and Raksha (12), Superintendent of Police, Solan, Gaurav Singh said.

In Balera panchayat of Solan, two children died as their makeshift house collapsed in a landslide. Another woman died in a landslide in Banal village of Ramsheher tehsil, said Deputy Commissioner of Solan Manmohan Sharma, adding a person died in Baddi area.

In Mandi district, seven members of a family, including a two-yearold, were killed in a landslide late on Sunday night in the Seghli panchayat. Three persons were rescued, Deputy Commissioner Chaudhary said.

Six bodies have been recovered at Sambhal near Pandoh. The bodies are yet to be identified, the deputy commissioner said, adding two deaths have been reported from Dharampur area. One boy died in Sirmaur district, according to reports. In Kangra, heavy rains claimed lives of two persons, including an 11-yearold boy, District Magistrate Nipun Jindal said. The chief minister visited the site of the temple collapse in Shimla and said

all efforts are being made to rescue people buried underneath the debris. "Distressing news has emerged from Shimla where the Shira Mandir from Shimla, where the Shiva Mandir collapsed as a result of the heavy rainfall. As of now, nine bodies have been retrieved. The local administration is diligently working to clear the debris in order to rescue individuals who may still be trapped. Om Shanti," he posted on X (formerly Twitter).

Later, talking to reporters at the site, he said, "There was a gathering in the Lord Shiva temple at the time of the incident as it was Monday of the holy month of Sawan. All possible efforts are being made to rescue the people buried under the debris."

Meanwhile, Union Home Minister Amit Shah said teams of the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) are engaged in relief and rescue operations in the hill state.

The Unesco world heritage Shimla-Kalka railway line was damaged near Summer Hill here after a landslide swept away a 50-metre bridge, leaving a portion of the track hanging in the air.

Along with the Army, personnel from the SDRF, NDRF, ITBP, and state police, among others, were involved in relief and rescue works, an official statement said.

Deputy Commissioner of Shimla Aditya Negi told PTI that many people were feared buried in the two landslides in Summer Hill and Fagli areas.

Meanwhile, the Shimla-Chandigarh road, which was closed near Chakki Mor in Solan district, opened for light vehicles after almost 12 hours, the officials said. The government announced that the Independence Day celebrations across the state would be ceremonial without any cultural programme in the wake of huge loss of life and property. Making the announcement, Chief Minister Sukhu said the state-level I-Day function which was scheduled to be held at Manali has been shifted to Shimla.

Heavy rains battered Himachal Pradesh since Sunday, triggering landslides that blocked several roads.

Kangra received 275 mm rainfall since Sunday evening followed by Dharamshala 264 mm, Sundernagar 168 mm, Mandi 167 mm, Berthin 149, Shimla 135 mm, Dhaulakaun 111 mm and Nahan 107 mm.

The weather department has predicted a wet spell in the state till August 18.

So far, the state has suffered losses to the tune of Rs 7,171 crore since the onset of monsoon on June 24, as per the state emergency operation centre.

A total of 170 incidents of cloudburst and landslide have been reported in the state this monsoon season and about 9,600 houses partially or completely damaged.

In his message, the LG also paid tribute to all those freedom fighters, who made supreme sacrifices to secure "freedom for us"

"I salute our JKP personnel, soldiers, Jawans of CAPFs who laid down their lives to protect the integrity and sovereignty of the nation. On this occasion, I recall the hard work and dedication of great personalities of the country, who are working tirelessly for the progress and prosperity of the people," he added.

'Committed To Create Investment, Economic Climate In J&K'

Earlier talking on the sidelines of an event in Ganderbal the Lieutenant Governor, Manoj Sinha assert that his administration was fully committed to create business, investment and economic climate in Jammu and Kashmir, adding state-of-the-art highways, rural roads and village-level women-led industries have registered a marked rise over the last few years in the UT.

Sinha made these comments during his visit to the tourist resort of Sonmarg here during which he inaugurated the 'Golden Glory Eco Park' and dedicated it to the people.

He also attended the 'Meri Maati Mera Desh' programme and paid tributes to the freedom fighters and martyrs who sacrificed their lives for the motherland.

Recalling the contribution of the prominent personalities of Jammu Kashmir in building a progressive and prosperous society, the LG said that 'Meri Maati Mera Desh' is also a grand occasion for the society to pay tribute to its sons and daughters, who have succeeded in reaching the pinnacle in diverse fields and played a significant role in nation building. He also shared the efforts of the Administration to maintain peace and accelerate economic and development activities across UT. He said the arrangements have been made in a way that no one should be inconvenienced. "The lieutenant governor is going to inaugurate the Ghanta Ghar project. We have made arrangements to ensure that the businessmen or ordinary people are not inconvenienced," he said.

Kumar also said internet services, which used to be suspended for security reasons before 2019, will continue uninterrupted in Kashmir on Independence Day.

"There will be no suspension of internet services on Independence Day. We have not done it for the past three years. Schools will be open, shops will be open, traffic will ply as usual. I have appealed to people to participate in numbers in the Independence Day functions," he added.

"Accordingly, general public including the civil society members, trade unionist, trade and transport federations, politicians, students etc. are hereby cordially invited to attend Independence Day Function-2023 at Bakshi Stadium and be seated before 9.00 AM to make the event more graceful and colourful," he said.

The spokesperson said that the valid identity cards shall be treated as entry passes for the venue.

up vigilance as the inimical forces have evil designs to create disturbance on the eve of Independence Day. "While the nation prepares to celebrate the Independence Day, our enemy also plans on how to create disturbances here. To tackle their designs, we get orders from the high command for upping the vigil along the Line of Control and border by way of patrolling and area domination exercises. We try our best to live up to the expectations," Rai said. The plight of these boys mirrored that of countless individuals trapped in the vicious cycle of addiction. Substance abuse has seen a drastic surge in recent years with Kashmir bearing the burden of approximately a million drug addicts. Shockingly, a recent study shows that drug abuse in Kashmir has surpassed that of Punjab, earning the region second position on the all-India list of states grappling with rampant substance abuse.

The use of intravenous opioids, mainly heroin, is leading to a spike in Hepatitis C cases in Jammu and Kashmir. Hepatitis C is a contagious, bloodborne disease that causes inflammation of the liver. The virus can cause both acute and chronic hepatitis, ranging in severity from a mild illness to a serious, lifelong illness including liver cirrhosis and cancer. One of the most prevalent modes of transmission is through the sharing of needles that are used for injecting drugs with individuals who are already infected with the virus.

"This is an epidemic," says Dr. Yasir Rather, an addiction psychiatrist at Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (IMHANS) in Srinagar. "We routinely screen all our patients for different infections, and it has been found that approximately 70% of drug users test positive for HCV. Injecting drugs is becoming increasingly common in Kashmir and this group is more vulnerable to acquiring Hepatitis C because of their high-risk behaviors like needle sharing," he told Kashmir Observer.

IMHANS, a prominent rehabilitation facility, witnesses a constant influx of drug addiction cases, with heroin abuse accounting for a significant majority. Official data reveals that the Institute receives a staggering number of 150 drug addiction cases per day, encompassing both new admissions and follow-up visits. The sheer volume of syringes, over 33 thousand in number, used daily for heroin injections exemplifies the terrifying reality. OST involves replacing or substituting the use of illicit opioids with prescribed medications under strict supervision of de-addiction experts, providing individuals with a safer and controlled alternative.

The addiction psychiatrist explained that in order to address the cravings and withdrawal symptoms experienced by drug addicts, medically prescribed drugs such as Buprenorphine and Methadone are administered during Opioid Substitution Therapy (OST). These prescribed medications have been proven to be safe, legal, and have a sustained and ceiling effect, meaning that their effectiveness plateaus at a certain dosage, reducing the risk of overdose. "OST not only helps in reducing complications and secondary harms like HCV but also improves patient retention in treatment programs. The opioid medicines used for OST are available free of cost at government centers or hospitals, ensuring accessibility for individuals seeking treatment," he said. "The primary goal of this therapy is to eliminate the need for continued drug administration and enable injecting drug users (IDUs) to cease their injecting behavior.

"The inconsistent behavior among drug users can negatively impact their adherence to treatment and worsen the overall consequences of Hepatitis C. So, incorporating psychological interventions alongside treatment are crucial for reducing the risks," Dr. Umar, who works at a drug addiction centre in south Kashmir, said.

He said that OST not only addresses the physical aspects of opioid dependence but also plays a vital role in destigmatizing the experiences of individuals who inject drugs. "In society, people engaged in illicit drug use are often stigmatized and viewed as criminals or anti-social individuals. However, when receiving OST within clinic settings, they are recognized as patients and victims of a chronic brain illness." the doctor saidadding that this shift in Furthermore, SSP CID, SB, Kashmir (Srinagar) Mohd Aftab Mir has been awarded the President's Police Medal for Distinguished Service.

the detenue under preventive detention," a bench of Justice Sanjay Dhar said, adding, "A simple case of cheating and fraud, without having wider ramifications, cannot be made the basis of issuing the detention order in the name of maintaining the public order. The impugned order is, therefore, not sustainable in law."

Sofi had been arrested in case (FIR No.17/2023) for offences under Section 420, 384, 506 IPC.

"...the allegations in the FIR registered against the petitioner (Sofi) may be a problem of law and order but would not certainly come within the purview of the term "public order There is nothing mentioned in the grounds of detention to demonstrate that the activities of the detenue (Sofi), on the basis of which the FIR came to be registered against him, had an impact of disturbing even the tempo of life of the community or had the effect of affecting the public at large," the court said, adding, "The offences with which the detenue has been charged in the FIR are substantive offences and the ordinary law of the land is sufficient to deal with the detenue, if he is ultimately found guilty of the allegations leveled against him in the FIR." Subsequently, the court quashed the detention order against Sofi and ordered his release from the preventive custody forthwith, provided he is not required in connection with any other case. Meanwhile, the court also quashed detention order dated 26 June 2022 against Asif Ahmad Lone of Gundpora Rampora Bandipora; PSA detention odder dated 20 October 2021 against Bilal Ahmad Dar of Baramulla; PSA detention order dated 8 April 2022against Muzaffar Ahmad Rather of Munand Yaripora Kulgam and PSA detention order dated 14 July 2019 against Bilal Ahmad Lone of Mohand Mohalla, Heff Shopian.

"We are fully committed to creating a business, investment and economic climate in J&K. State-of-the-art highways, rural roads and village-level women-led industries have registered a marked rise over the last few years," Sinha said.

He added that the decisive steps taken for adequate investment in infrastructure is rebuilding tourism for the future and Ganderbal has immense tourism potential to stimulate socio-economic growth.

"The Eco Park inaugurated today will add to the major tourist attraction in the district," he added.

At Sonamarg, also known as the gateway to Ladakh, the LG administered the Panch Pran pledge to the people and called for united efforts in taking the nation and the UT forward on the path of peace and development.

"We must set certain goals to transform our young generation's enthusiasm, courage, and aspirations into actions," he said.

The LG also lauded the cooperation and support of people of Ganderbal in ensuring smooth conduct of the annual Amarnath Yatra.

On the occasion, Sinha e-inaugurated Universal NCD Screening under comprehensive Primary healthcare through Ayush Bharat Health and wellness Centres in Ganderbal. He also launched Ganderbal Chronicles magazine and distributed Kits among Sakhi Club members.

Lal Chowk and Bakshi stadium, the venue of the main Independence Day function in the valley, officials said.

They said unlike past years, there are no barricades in the city but the security forces are randomly frisking vehicles and passersby to keep anti-national elements at bay.

"We have made adequate security arrangements. As there are more events planned this year, we will provide three-tier security. There will be drone surveillance, helicopter recce as well," Additional Director General of Police (Kashmir) Vijay Kumar said. He said the jawans posted along the LoC have to exhibit a level of alertness higher than the usual borders due to tough terrain.

"We have to increase the alertness because this is an area of dense vegetation where one cannot be sure of the identity of a person even at a short distance of 50 metres. We have to stay alert to any suspicious movement of terrorists while also ensuring our own safety. The dangers at the LoC are anyways more compared to normal borders," he added.

Magan, deputy commandant of the unit, said the drill to secure the LoC was "nothing new for my boys" but the guard has to be kept up in view of the Independence Day celebrations.

"This is not new for us. This is our routine practice but the alertness increases as the terrorists want to instill fear among the people ahead of the Independence Day. To foil the evil designs of the terrorists, we step up patrolling and intensify firing practice. While the operation has begun recently, the preparations for this operation began several months ago," he said. (PTI) directly into their veins. I was always aware of the risks of needle-sharing, including Hepatitis, but amidst the grips of addiction, the warnings always felt distant," he confided, his voice laden with worry."I knew I had contracted HCV. It was present there in the circle and nearly 200 boys I know have Hepatitis."

Akin to Irfan, another young boy's struggle with substance use disorder had led him down a dark and perilous path. He was unaware of the toll it was taking on his body and the hidden dangers lurking within his bloodstream. Eventually, when he hit his rock bottom, he decided to confront his demons and seek help at a local rehabilitation center in south Kashmir. As part of the intake process, he underwent a thorough medical examination, including tests for various infectious diseases. To his surprise, the results revealed that he had tested positive for hepatitis C, a silent intruder he never knew had invaded his body.

"I had been experiencing fatigue, persistent abdominal pain, and a loss of appetite for months, but I always believed that they were merely the fallout of my drug use," the boy said. "Now, it has badly infected my liver," he lamented. "Unlike HCV, Kashmir has a low prevalence of HIV among drug users. There are several factors that contribute to this situation, and one of them can be that HIV has not entered the chain of transmission in a significant way within the drug using population." Dr Yasir said.

A study conducted by IMHANS titled, 'Seroprevalence of HIV, Hepatitis B and Hepatitis C; the associated psychiatric co morbidities and stigma among injection drug users in Kashmir: A Hospital-Based, Cross-Sectional Study', found the prevalence of Hepatitis C among drug abusers in Kashmir to be 72 percent.

Lecturer psychiatric social worker, Government Medical College, Srinagar, Mohammad Sameer Khan, also said a significant observation has been made regarding drug addicts who tend to use drugs in pairs. In many instances, they either reuse needles or share them, particularly in secluded areas where access to clean equipment, such as distilled water, is limited.

According to various reports, it is estimated that each injecting drug user (IDU) who is infected with hepatitis C can potentially transmit the virus to about 21 other individuals. Many individuals may remain unaware of their infection for weeks, months, or even years. This increases the likelihood of sharing the drug equipment with an infected person, facilitating the further spread of the virus. Unlike Hepatitis A and Hepatitis B, there is currently no available vaccine that provides protection against Hepatitis C. However, there are antiviral medications that are used to help clear the infection from the body and prevent it from progressing into a chronic condition.

Relapses often involve a return to drug use and engagement in risky behaviors such as sharing needles and these behaviors significantly increase the likelihood of Hepatitis C transmission. Individuals who relapse may find it difficult to resist the temptation of using drugs and might revert to unsafe practices, perpetuating the spread of Hepatitis C.

Dr. Yasir also opined that opioid dependence is now widely recognized as a chronic brain illness, where individuals often experience recurrent relapses even after periods of remission from drug addiction. So, in order to address the issue of illicit drug use and prevent infections such as HIV and Hepatitis C, health professionals at addiction treatment facilities across the Union territory employ a harm reduction strategy called Opioid Substitution Therapy (OST). perception from criminality to a healthcare approach is crucial in reducing the societal stigma surrounding drug users.

These Are Most Liveable Cities In Asia-Pacific. How Do Indian Cities Rank?

Agenceis

Singapore: As a global city, Singapore is no stranger to being on "best" lists. Recent accolades it has picked up include the country with the "best business environment" (EIU), "freest economy in the world" (The Heritage Foundation), fourth most competitive economy in the world (International Institute for Management Development), and eighth place in Schroders's global city index.

Therefore, it was with little surprise that it did not make it into the top ten cities in the latest Economist Intelligence Unit (EIU) ranking of the most liveable cities in the world. The Southeast Asian city did however sneak into the top among Asia-Pacific cities in tenth place.

This year's EIU liveability index, which provides a snapshot of the most, and least, desirable cities to live in, recorded the highest global average score in 15 years, showing that living conditions in cities across the world have fully recovered from the COVID-19 pandemic which disrupted lives and impacted lifestyles.

The index rates living conditions in 173 cities across five categories: stability, healthcare, culture and environment, education, and infrastructure.

Of the categories covered by the survey, only the stability score dropped on average in 2023. Although stability scores in many eastern European cities, which fell in 2022 because they are close to Ukraine, rose this year, stability deteriorated elsewhere.

Stability scores were negatively affected by striking workers and protests in various European cities like Greece and France as well as deadly clashes in Israel and Peru. The EIU said that "inflation could lead to further falls in stability scores, and thus damage overall liveability scores, in many parts of the world over the next year."

The index revealed that cities in the Asia-Pacific region have rebounded the most with eight of the ten biggest upward movers coming from the region. New Zealand's Wellington rose 35 spots to take 23rd place, while Auckland rose 25 places to land at number 10. Hanoi, Vietnam moved up 20 places to 129, whereas Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia jumped 19 positions.

Post-pandemic improvements in education and healthcare led to an improvement in scores across Asia. These two factors are also the main reason scores in Africa and the Middle East rose.

The EIU named Vienna, the "City of Music", also known as the "City of Dreams", the most liveable city in the world for the fourth time in five years.

The Economist report credited Vienna for its excellent mix of stability, culture and entertainment, and reliable infrastructure. Copenhagen, a similarly sized city with many of the same characteristics, is second. Melbourne, which regularly features among the top in the ranking came in third place. Fellow Aussie city Sydney is fourth.

Canada has three cities in the top ten – Vancouver in fifth, Calgary in 7th and Toronto in 9th. The other cities that made it into the top ten are Zurich (6th), Geneva (joint 7th), Osaka (10th) and Auckland (joint 10th).

Às an expat, the downside of living in these cities is that you should not expect to receive any form of "hardship" compensation. The liveability survey was designed by the EIU to help companies calculate hardship allowances for staff who were moving to a new and possibly less tolerable city.

In all, nine of the top ten cities are small to mid-sized. All ten, and indeed most of the top 50, are in rich countries. Big cities with high levels of crime, congestion and density tend to fare less well.

Of the 10 cities to slip farthest down the rankings, three were in the UK — Edinburgh, Manchester and London — and two in the US, Los Angeles and San Diego. London fell 12 places from a year ago to 46th and New York tumbled ten spots to 69th. Most Chinese cities were "broadly stable when compared to last year's results," according to the survey.

The four Indian cities in the study, New Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai and Bangalore, are ranked between positions 45 and 50 among Asia-Pacific cities.

In the Asia-Pacific region, Karachi, Port Moresby (Papua New Guinea) and Dhaka are the three least desirable cities to live in. In the global rank, they are in positions 169, 168, and 167 respectively.

At the bottom of the global table, Damascus took the dubious honour of the least liveable city in the world. It has held this place in the index for more than ten years. Tripoli is one space above in 172, although its score is nearly ten points higher than that of Syria's war-ravaged capital.

Kyiv, despite its efforts to protect itself from the war, also features in the bottom ten. It was excluded from the index in 2022 because Russia invaded Ukraine while the data were being collected. Its infrastructure score of 23.2 out of 100 is the lowest in the index, thanks to Russian bombs. CANCER SOCIETY OF KASHMIR کینسر سوسا ئیٹی آف کشمیر
