DAL LAKE BLAZE Affected Families Seek 'Soft-Loans' To Rebuild Their Houseboats

Majid Nabi

Srinagar: The fire affected families, who lost their luxurious houseboats worth crores to the devastating blaze in Dal Lake last week, today made a fervent appeal to the Lieutenant Governor administration for the soft loans necessary to reconstruct their houseboats.

Given the losses they endured in the tragic fire incident, the affected families claimed that it is rather impossible for them to construct a houseboat from the ground up. They said the government ought to assist them rebuild their houseboats as the prices of Cedar (deodar) have skyrocketed, besides labor and other expenses makes it a herculean task.

"We appeal to the government to lend us money at no interest so that we are able to rebuild our houseboats. Given the skyrocketing cost of imperial wood, it's a monumental undertaking for us," Ghulam Rasool Kanna, who lost his opulent houseboat to the tragic fire, told Kashmir Observer. It may be in place to mention that three Bangladeshi tourists, who were staying in a luxurious houseboat at Mir Mohalla, Dal Lake near Ghat No 09 lost their lives in a tragic fire incident on Saturday last. Five luxurious house-boats, an equal number of wooden dwellings and a few nearby structures were also razed to the ashes in the devastating blaze that created total chaos and confusion in Dal Lake, an iconic tourist attraction in Srinagar. Building a new houseboat, Kanna said, takes years and a significant sum of money, making it seem like a dream impossible. "All we want from the government is interest free loans.

Our whole possessions were lost in the terrible fire. Not even our clothing could be saved. We lost shelters as well and are currently residing at our relatives' houses," he added.

The five houseboats, Kanna said have a present market value of about 30crore and that building new ones would be near impossible under present circumstances.

The premium wood needed to make a lavish houseboat, known as Cedar (deodar) costs between Rs 7500 and 900 per square foot, while a single houseboat's total building expenses are around 6 crore, he added.

Unraveling the Enrollment Enigma at Kashmir University

ashmir University, a once most preferred institution. is grappling with an unprecedented challenge as it struggles to fill numerous vacant seats across its campuses. The statistics available paint a worrisome picture, with 124 seats vacant at the main campus, 45 at the Zakura campus, 32 at the North Kashmir campus, and a staggering 111 at the South Kashmir campus. The Government Degree College's MSc Mathematics program also faces the predicament of five unclaimed seats. This surge in unoccupied seats has compelled the university to extend the admissions window for an unusual five months, sparking concerns among stakeholders.

A brief examination of enrollment figures for certain colleges also reveals a notable decline. For instance, the Government Degree College in Ganderbal experienced a substantial decrease, dropping from 1700 admissions in 2022 to approximately 700 in 2023. Similarly, Beerwa College witnessed a decline from 493 to 311, while Sogam (Kupwara) College recorded 513 enrollments, down from 689 in 2022. Khansahab College in Budgam observed a reduction in enrollment from 300 to 167. Handwara College experienced a sharp decline from 963 to 577, and the Women's College in Srinagar saw a decrease from 220 in 2022 to 145 in 2023.

Traditionally, Kashmir University has held a prestigious position, drawing students from various regions due to its A+ grade recognition and consistent placement within the top 50 institutions in the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF). Students eagerly anticipated their selection into postgraduate departments, making the university a coveted choice for higher education. However, the present scenario starkly contrasts with historical trends, as the university grapples with a significant decline in admissions. To comprehend the underlying reasons behind this enrollment downturn, it is imperative to examine a confluence of factors that seem to be contributing to Kashmir University's struggles

Delayed Exams and Results

One of the most pressing issues Kashmir university has been grappling with for a long time now is the issue of delayed exams and delayed results. Kashmir university students often hit streets because of the increasing trend of delayed examinations and prolonged result announcements. The students often complain that the academic calendar is not followed. The academic calendar plays a pivotal role in attracting students, and any disruptions have cascading effects. The increasing trend of delayed examinations and prolonged result announcements in Kashmir University create uncertainty among Kashmiri students, forcing them to explore alternative educational avenues. The extended waiting period for examination results creates apprehension and frustration among applicants, potentially dissuading them from choosing Kashmir University for their academic pursuits.

Every students prefers to opt for institutions with more streamlined and timely examination processes to ensure a smoother progression through their academic journey. Moreover, the prolonged uncertainty has impacted the overall reputation of Kashmir university, potentially deterring potential applicants who prioritize institutions with a reputation for efficient and well-managed academic processes. Therefore, addressing and improving the timeliness of exams and result announcements can play a pivotal role in maintaining and even enhancing enrollment figures at Kashmir University.

Lack of placements and lower employability prospects

The decline in admissions at Kashmir University can be attributed, in part, to concerns surrounding lower employability prospects for its graduates and post graduates and the lack of placements in professional and technical courses. As students increasingly prioritize tangible career outcomes and professional opportunities, the university's perceived shortcomings in facilitating successful placements acts as a deterrent for potential applicants.

In an era where employability is a key metric for assessing the value of higher education, universities that are perceived to fall short in this regard face challenges in at tracting and retaining students. To reverse this trend, Kashmir University should consider implementing and highlighting initiatives that enhance students' employability skills, foster industry connections, and improve overall placement rates.

C C The journey towards and towards reclaiming its status as a premier institution necessitates not only addressing immediate concerns but also envisioning a future where adaptability, innovation, and student-centric policies define its identity.

novation in teaching strategies are essential. Students today are accustomed to diverse learning environments, and a university's failure to innovate in its teaching methods has rendered it less appealing in comparison to institutions that embrace progressive approaches.

Additionally, though it may sound something novel, there is the scarcity of competent faculty in Kashmir university. The perceived inadequacy of the academic staff has eroded the university's academic reputation, resulting in a diminished learning experience for students. The absence of experienced mentors for research and limited professional networks further deters prospective students. This deficiency not only hampers program accreditation but also undermines the overall appeal of the institution.

The labyrinthine admissions process, delays in awarding degree certificates, faulty re-evaluation system, lack of grievance redressal mechanism and inefficiencies in timely allotment of hostel accommodations for students from far off places creates additional challenges for students seeking a supportive living environment. The cumulative impact of red-tapism not only hampers the academic journey but also fosters a sense of disillusionment and frustration.

As Kashmir University confronts the intricate challenge of declining admissions, the road to renewal demands a collective commitment to transformation. The multifaceted issues, encompassing delayed exams, antiquated pedagogy, a dearth of extracurricular activities, and administrative redtapism, underscore the imperative for comprehensive reform. In charting a course for renewal, it is pivotal for university administrators, faculty, and policymakers to embark on a concerted effort. Recognizing the gravity of the situation and acknowledging the need for strategic changes is the first step. The extended admissions window signals an opportunity for reflection, adaptation, and innovation.

UNDER THIS POLICY, MAKING OF NEW HOUSEBOATS IS STRICTLY PROHIBITED. It encourages houseboat owners to surrender their boats for a meagre compensation. This policy comes at a time when houseboat community is most vulnerable. The policy seeks to relocate houseboats; to where? - Only God knows

t has been a year since I have heard anyone speak in German or in Siamese or even in Marathi. It has been a year of longing, a year of waiting, a year of reverie and a year of silent houseboats -quiet and empty.

At my home, mornings would always be full of activity. Most mornings I would wake up to the smell of omelettes and gentle clatter of knives and forks against china. I would hear my mother talking in broken English, desperately searching for English counterparts of Kashmiri words.

One could see the excitement of heading to Gulmarg or Sonamarg in the early morning rush. Boilers at the back of houseboats would billow smoke; warming the cold water. The roaring engines of Royal Enfields were another hallmark. "Madam main flower wala, flower lega?"

I never knew life would take a drastic turn and take away the only way of life we have ever known.

Over the years, the number of tourists that come to stay in houseboats has been nothing but dwindling. Beeline of agents and cheap hotels are among the factors responsible for the decline. Nothing can replace the exotic experience that a houseboat offers and maintaining its delicacy is not an easy task. Huge investments go into maintaining a boat. The workers skilled in repairing a houseboat are limited, demanding high wages. Additionally, since a houseboat is solely made of deodar, it becomes a very expensive and cumbersome affair to buy timbre when it is needed.

With all the expenses, the price per room of a houseboat has still stayed more or less the same during recent years making it less and less profitable to run a boat. There have been many inserve them.

It's been more than a year now without any business. To top it off, the government recently announced the New Houseboat Policy which requires houseboat owners to re-register their boats after fulfilling certain conditions such as having a digester, a sophisticated menu and a modern kitchen. Under this policy, making of new houseboats is strictly prohibited. It encourages houseboat owners to surrender their boats for a meagre compensation. This policy comes at a time when houseboat community is most vulnerable. The policy seeks to relocate houseboats; to where? – Only God knows.

This policy aims at wiping out houseboats in the name of conservation of Dal. At a time when big businesses around the world have been shattered, this policy requires houseboat owners to make massive investments or risk losing their registration or "Memsahab, would you like to see some jewellery?" would say the Shikarawalas.

Tourists wearing Pherans would pose for the photographer, excited to take in as much Kashmir as they could. That's how my mornings used to be - a showcase of foreign languages and Kashmir's hospitality.

Evenings were filled with chats in languages I couldn't comprehend. An occasional laughter would burst out from dining rooms. Houseboats used to be like that — lively wooden things rever-berating with light, laughter and conversations with a cuppa kehwa to sip.

I haven't had any of that for a year now. The last time there were any tourists was in July, last year. Since then, houseboats are lying vacant. While much of business is turning around now, however, small houseboats and the people associated with them haven't seen any change. The people associated with houseboats have been watching their boats turn into poor irrelevant things.

As a kid, I would play with children from different places - Mumbai, Pune, Australia, Kerala, and Korea to name a few. We would sneak into a houseboat (we have three boats at my home) and play hide and seek; hiding under anything – dining table, beds, chairs and couches.

I never felt any different from them and they showered me with lots of love. They looked at me in awe, surprised, at my fair complexion, long nose and certainly my red cheeks. At times, I along with Dadu, would go to Gulmarg with them or to the Mughal Gardens.

stances in which a houseboat caught fire charring its wooden dexterity, walnut wood furniture, expensive carpets and wood carving. The losses are massive.

The funny part is there is no policy which compensates houseboat owners when their boats are reduced to ashes or when a houseboat submerges requiring investment in crores (the prices of timbre have skyrocketed). What is even worse is the fact that there's no way of insuring houseboats.

Houseboat owners have never been offered any worthy economic stimu-lus whenever situation turned bad in Kashmir and the administration promotes, "Kashmir's potential for tourism" with houseboats and shikaras printed on banners.

Sometimes due to lack of resources an owner sells his boat and prefers another venture. This is the reason why the number of houseboats in Srinagar's water bodies has gone down from 1500 to a mere 900, as recently reported by The Tribune.

Houseboats are Kashmir's and Kashmiris' heritage and have been an important part of Kashmir's tourism industry. Houseboats are an inseparable part of Kashmir's identity and culture. There was a time when Britishers would come to stay in houseboats because of the luxurious experience that they offer.

Houseboats in the past have attracted film stars and many high-profile guests. International celebrities like the Beatles lead guitarist George Harrison too have staved in houseboats but unfortunately no step has been taken by subsequent administrations to promote and pre-

The haphazard manner in which the policy has been rolled out without logical consideration of rehabilitation and preservation, makes the agenda clear: to take advantage of the helplessness of the houseboat community and snatch their livelihoods by relocating their boats away from the Dal.

The houseboat community has always cooperated in the conservation of Dal. It being their source of livelihood, they will willingly make the necessary amendments to their boats. However, the way in which the policy has been framed, its timing and its aim to separate the two is regrettable.

Are only houseboats and Dal dwellers polluting the Dal?

On many occasions I have seen people tossing wrappers and plastic bottles into the lake and going about their lives as if the responsibility to conserve Dal lies solely with the Dal dwellers. But when it comes to taking aesthetic pictures with Dal and Shikaras in the background, the passion with which people do it is hypocritically unparalleled.

The time is not far away when there will be no houseboats lining the waters of Dal and no aesthetic backgrounds. I know many people who are considering selling their boats. It is too painful to see this community losing their boats – for a houseboat owner his boat is his right arm.

Houseboats creak when you walk in them, reminding you to be gentle. They smell of timbre and walnut, Lotus and Lilies, Kehwa and Kashmir. As houseboats fade into the background, abandoned, forlorn and forgotten, I may never wake up to find that gentle clatter of knives and forks against china and might never hear my mother speak in broken English – searching desperately for English counterparts of Kashmiri words.

Delhi pollution: NGT orders more stringent measures to improve air quality

New Delhi: The National Green Tribunal has directed the authorities, including the Central Pollution Control Board and the Delhi Pollution Control Committee, to take "stringent measures" to improve the AQI in Delhi-NCR.

Observing that there has been no "visible improvement" in the national capital's air quality, the green panel directed the authorities concerned to file a fresh action taken report by November 20.

A bench of National Green Tribunal Chairperson Justice Prakash Shrivastava had earlier taken suo motu cognisance of various newspaper reports about Delhi's worsening air quality and issued notices to the Delhi Pollution Control (DPCC), Central Committee Pollution Control Board (CPCB), Municipal Corporation of Delhi (MCD) and the Commission for Air Quality Management for NCR and Adjoining Areas (CAQM).

The bench, also compris-ing Justice Sudhir Agarwal and Expert Member A Senthil Vel, noted that reports were filed by the DPCC, CAQM and the Delhi government.

The tribunal, in a recent order, said according to CAQM's report, the Air Quality Index (AQI) was 'very poor' towards the end of October in the wake of highly unfavourable meteorological and climatic conditions because of which restrictions under GRAP Stage II was "invoked proactively" on October 21. The Centre's Graded Response

Action Plan (GRAP) for Delhi-NCR categorises actions into four stages: Stage I -- Poor (AQI 201-300), Stage II -- Very Poor (AQI 301-400), Stage III -- Severe (AQI 401-450) and Stage IV --Severe Plus (AQI above 450).

An AQI between zero and 50 tion and demolition sites and is considered 'good', 51 and 100 roads, AQI and public awareness 'satisfactory', 101 and 200 'modand media outreach. erate', 201 and 300 'poor', 301 and 400 'very poor', 401 and 450 However, it added that though the CPCB suggested technical in-'severe' and above 450 'severe terventions to regulate and control pollution, it did not disclose plus'. The bench said, "The CPCB report mentions the various heads under which steps are to be taken to comprehensively

"Let the report in respect of the same be placed on record on or before the next date of hearing by the CPCB," the bench said.

It also noted the Delhi government's report, according to which the sources of pollution are vehicular emission, dust from roads and construction and demolition activities, open burning of dry leaves and burning of crop residue.

Though the above agencies in their reports have taken the stand that they are taking steps to control air pollution in Delhi but the ground result is not satisfactory," the tribunal said. Noting the AQI during October 20-30, it said the situation, instead of improving, had "gone from bad to worse".

"Hence, we are of the opinion that the concerned agencies are required to review their strategy and come out with an effective solution to ensure that the AQI in Delhi and NCR is maintained within the permissible limits," the tribunal said.

"Since no visible improvement in the air quality has been witnessed, therefore, the respondents are directed to take stringent measures so that the air quality index in Delhi and NCR improves," it added.

It directed the authorities concerned to file a fresh action taken report and listed the matter for further proceedings on November.

Pay Rs 10 lakh compensation to kin of all those killed in Manipur violence in 4 weeks: NHRC

Guwahati: The National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) on Friday said it has asked Manipur government to pay Rs 10 lakh compensation each within four weeks to the next of kin of all the people who died in ethnic clashes since May.

After completing its two-day camp here to hear cases from the northeastern states, NHRC also ordered the Manipur government to complete the assessment of damaged houses and pay Rs 10 lakh compensation to each of the victims within six weeks

The rights body instructed the state government to clear the blockade on National Highways 2 and 37 passing through Manipur.

"We have been told that the next of kin of 93 persons, who died in the violence, have been given a compensation of Rs 10 lakh. We were told that 180 people were killed till a particular date.

"We have asked them to complete the process to pay compensation to the next of kin of the remaining people within four weeks and report to us," NHRC chairperson Justice Arun Kumar Mishra said at a press conference here. Regarding rebuilding of houses damaged during the violence, the commission directed the Manipur government to complete the assessment within six weeks for distributing the compensation as per the existing scheme, he added.

The government is proposing a compensation of Rs 10 lakh for reconstruction of houses. They have been asked to complete this process so that reconstruction of houses begins soon," Justice Mishra said.

Noting that violence is still continuing in some parts of Manipur, the NHRC asked the state government to prepare a roadmap to restore the situation and clear the blockade on the National Highway 2 and 37 as soon as possible, he added. Justice Mishra further said the commission also heard a case related to the death of 57 people, injuries to 18 persons and missing of four due to negligence of the Northeast

Frontier Railway (NFR) while executing a project of construction of tunnels and railway tracks to connect Jiribam with Imphal.

"Poor condition of the district hospital in Churachandpur due to non-availability of basic facilities and complaints regarding incidences of violence in Manipur were also heard," he added.

Along with Justice Mishra, NHRC members Dr Dnyaneshwar Manohar Mulay and Rajiv Jain, secretary gen-eral Bharat Lal, registrar (Law) Surajit Dey and senior officers also attended the camp.

More than 180 people lost their lives and several hundreds were injured since ethnic clashes broke out in Manipur on May 3, after a 'Tribal Solidarity March' was organised in the hill districts to protest against the Meitei community's demand for Scheduled Tribe (ST) status.

Antiviral Drugs Reduce Risk Of Flu Deaths: DAK

Observer News Service

SRINAGAR: With surge in number of flu cases in Kashmir valley, Doctors Association Kashmir (DAK) on Friday urged doctors to prescribe antiviral drugs for flu patients.

"Antiviral medication reduces risk of flu deaths," said influenza expert and DAK President Dr Nisar ul Hassan. Quoting a large study, he said early treatment with antiviral medication reduces the risk of flu death by 60 percent.

Dr Hassan said clinicians should prescribe antiviral medication to flu patients as early as possible and should not wait for the lab test results as delay could be fatal.

"Flu antivirals work best for treatment when they are started within two days of onset of illness," he said. "However, starting them later can still be helpful," he added.

The DAK President said antiviral treatment is recommended for any patient with

Azad Urges Admin To Enforce Safety Measures To Prevent Accidents

Press Trust Of India

JAMMU: Democratic Progressive Azad Party chief Ghulam Nabi Azad urged the Jammu and Kashmir administration and police on Friday to enforce safety measures for preventing road accidents.

His remarks came after visiting the site in Doda district where a passenger bus fell into a gorge, killing 39 people and injuring 19. The bus skidded off the road and rolled into the 300foot gorge in the district's Thurgal Assar area on Wednesday.

The Democratic Progressive Azad Party (DPAP) chairman said the administration and the police should enforce safety measures to prevent deaths due to accidents in the Chenab Valley.

The authorities need to focus on three to four things to check accidents here, Azad told reporters.

'You have to stop vehicles from speeding or rash driving, increase the number of traffic cops commensurate with the population, stop the use of mobiles, and overloading," he said.

Asserting that these measures will be instrumental in stopping accidents, Azad said, "The police and the administration need to be vigilant. People should also drive carefully.'

Australia Stand Between India & WC Glory

Agencies

AHMEDABAD: India and Australia have faced off in some of the most engaging contests in recent times and a new chapter to their rivalry will be added when they contest 50-over cricket's ultimate glory in Sunday's World Cup final in Ahmedabad.

The familiar foes will con-clude their campaign like they started it, against each other, and none of the 130,000-odd seats at the Narendra Modi Stadium will be empty. Favourites India comprehensively beat number two-ranked Australia in their tournament opener and then strung together 10 wins in a row to storm into the final of their home World Cup with an unblemished record.

Australia, by contrast, began with two defeats before going on an eight-match winning streak. "We want to take on the best. They've been the best in the tournament so far," Australia fast bowler Mitchell Starc said of India. "It's why we play the game." Captain Rohit Sharma and his team's semi-final victory against New Zealand, considered their bogey side, has answered questions about India's fragility in knockouts. Rohit has led by example, with unbridled aggression at the top allowing others to play with more freedom.

Virat Kohli, the tournament's leading scorer, has been the trusted anchor, while others have batted around the senior duo in India's familiar template.

"The top-five-six batters, whenever they've gotten an opportunity, they've made it re-ally count," Rohit said after the semi-final. "All in all, the batting was superb, and that is the kind of template we want to bat with and move forward with.

knowledge of home conditions, has been equally impressive.

Jasprit Bumrah has stifled batters both with the new ball and in the death overs while Mohammed Shami has emerged as the tournament's leading wickettaker despite warming the bench in India's first four matches. The left-arm duo of Kuldeep Yadav and Ravindra Jadeja have shared the spin duties with considerable success on their quest for a third 50-overs World Cup trophy.

Expectation in the cricketmad country is particularly high since the last three editions of the tournament have been won by the host nation. Australia, however, are banking on their ability to lift themselves in big moments to gatecrash the Indian party and earn a sixth World Cup title.

Captain Pat Cummins and his men made heavy weather of a small target in Thursday's semifinal against South Africa, but India would underestimate Australia at their own peril. In Adam Zampa they have a potent legspinner with 22 wickets in the tournament and a three-pronged pace attack finally firing on all cylinders after a stellar show against South Africa.

Glenn Maxwell can bat any team out of contention, as he did with his outdouble rageous century against Afghanistan and 40-ball 100 against the Netherlands. India's coach Rahul Dravid was part of the squad that was blown away CRICKET WORLD CUP by Australia in the 2003 INDIA final.

Australia also beat India in the final of the World Test Championship final earlier this year and skipper Cummins cannot wait to try and lead them to a second global title despite little support from the stands. "It's going to be packed, pretty one-sided I reckon, so you just have to embrace it," Cummins said.

"It's going to be a special final.'

WC Final: Illingworth, Kettleborough On-Field Umpires

Agencies

AHMEDABAD: Englishmen Richard Illingworth and Richard Kettleborough will stand as on-field umpires in the World Cup summit clash between India and Australia here on Sunday.

This will be the second outing for Kettleborough, who also stood in the final of the 2015 World Cup. His partner on that occasion was Kumar Dharmasena.

More than 93,000 spectators watched the 2015 final at the MCG. However, that number will be trumped as a three-figure crowd is expected on Sunday as the host nation will look to replicate their 2011 triumph on home soil.

For Illingworth, too, this will be a sec-ond World Cup final appearance, albeit his first as a match official. He featured in the 1992 Cricket World Cup final as a player.

Among other officials for the grand finale on Sunday is Joel Wilson of Trinidad and Tobago, who will be the third umpire, fourth umpire Chris Gaffaney (New Zealand), and match referee Andy Pycroft (Zimbabwe). All of them were also part of officiating teams in the semifinals.

Illingworth and Kettleborough were both promoted to the ICC International List on the same day in November 2009. Both acted as on-field umpires during this week's semi-finals.

Illingworth was in charge of India's victory over New Zealand in Mumbai, while Kettleborough oversaw Australia's thrilling win against South Africa in Kolkata.

Both umpires have had highly illustrious careers. They've both won the David Shepherd Trophy, awarded to ICC's Umpire of the Year. Kettleborough won it three times in a row, between 2013-15, which Illingworth did the same in 2019 and 2022.

Man United Nears 25% Stake Sale To Jim Ratcliffe: Reports

Agencies

MANCHESTER: Manchester United's American owners, the Glazer family, are set to finalise a $33 per share deal with Jim Ratcliffe that will see the British billionaire acquire a 25% stake in the English soccer club, Sky News reported on Friday.

The deal, which could be confirmed later on Friday, will bring to an end a year-long sale process. The Glazer family announced last November that they were exploring "strategic alternatives" for the club, including a possible sale and were open to fresh investment. Ratcliffe's offer represents a premium of 79.1% to the stock's Thursday closing price of $18.43, valuing the Old Trafford club at about $5.4 billion excluding debt. Manchester United's U.S.-listed shares rose 9.5% to $20.10 in early trading on Friday.

While the deal will not see the back of the Glazers, who are deeply unpopular with the fans of the 20-times English soccer champions, it will result in major changes to the way the club is run. Ratcliffe wants to overhaul the club's football operations. It has underperformed on the pitch since former manager Sir Alex Ferguson retired in 2013 following a period of unprecedented success for the club. has Ratcliffe promised

PCB Names Wahab Riaz As Chief Selector

LAHORE: The Pakistan Cricket Board on Friday named the country's former fast bowler Wahab Riaz as their new chief selector, a week after accepting the resignation of legendary batter and ex-captain Inzamam ul Haq.

Inzamam had on October 30 resigned as the chairman of the national selection committee after the PCB initiated an inquiry to probe if his association with a company that manages a number of national team players amounted to conflict of interest.

The 38-year-old Riaz's first assignment will be to select the squads for the Test tour of Australia and the T20I rubber in New Zealand.

Pakistan will play their Test series in Australia from 14 December to 7 January and a five-match T20I away series against New Zealand from January 12 to 21.

The PCB is expected to announce the other national selectors in a couple of days after consulting Riaz.

Riaz, who is also the sports advisor to the Punjab government, has not played for Pakistan since 2020 but is still active in the Pakistan Super League and appeared in domestic List A matches last year.

The left-arm pacer, who has represented Pakistan in 27 Tests, 91 ODIs and 36 T20Is, also played in three successive World Cups, finishing with 35 wickets.

The bowler said he was honoured to assume the role of chief selector and added the decision to involve former players in cricketing matters by the PCB is commendable and he is willing to work for the betterment of the sport in the country.

Riaz also spoke about his good rapport with the new director and head coach of the Pakistan team, former teammate Muhammad Hafeez. The PCB named a new chief selector after Inzamam resigned from the post last month following PCB setting up an inquiry committee to probe conflict of interest allegations.

The PCB has formed a fivemember panel to probe Inzamam's role in the company --Yazoo International -- where he shares the same agent who manages Babar Azam, pacer Shaheen Shah Afridi and wicketkeeper-batter Mohammad Rizwan.

Though Inzamam resigned, he maintained that his association with agent-and-partner Talha Rehmani had never affected or compromised his decision-making as a selector.
