Pension Is A Basic Entitlement And Its Payment Cannot Be Denied: Bombay High Court

Press Trust of India

MUMBAI: Pension is a basic entitlement and retired employees cannot be deprived of this payment, which is a very source of livelihood for them, the Bombay High Court has said, rapping the Maharashtra government for withholding the dues of a man for more than two years after his retirement

A division bench of Justices G S Kulkarni and Jitendra Jain on November 21 said such a "state of affairs was totally unconscionable"

The HC was hearing a petition filed by one Jayram More, who used to work as a 'hamal' (coolie) with the Savitribai Phule Pune University since 1983, seeking a direction to the Maharashtra government to release his pension amount.

The high court noted that More had rendered a meritorious and unblemished service but still on untenable and technical grounds for a period of two years from his retirement (May 2021), he was not paid pension.

More in his plea claimed that the pension was not being paid despite submission of all necessary documents by the University to the concerned department of the state government.

"From the beginning of the present proceedings, we were wondering as to whether any person who superannuates after a long unblemished service should at all suffer such a plight, after having rendered a long service of about 30 years and be deprived of basic entitlement of pension, being the very source of livelihood," the bench said.

The bench referred to a fourdecade-old Supreme Court order and said the antiquated notion of pension being a bounty, a gratuitous payment depending upon the sweet will or grace of the employer and not claimable as a right, was held as wrong.

"In such a decision, the Supreme Court had authoritatively ruled that pension is a right and payment of it does not depend on the discretion of the government and would be governed by the rules," the high court said.

The bench noted that from a large number of cases coming to this court with people seeking for their pension amount to be paid to them, it appears that the SC order was "more forgotten than applied and imple-mented in its true spirit".

The high court had in its earlier orders noted that More had suffered for three years and had directed the government to take all necessary steps to release the pension benefits to More within four weeks.

Israel, Hamas Agree On Four-Day Truce, Hostage Release And Aid Into Gaza

Agencies GAZA/TEL AVIV: Israel's government and Hamas agreed on Wednesday to a four-day pause in fighting to allow the release of 50 hostages held in Gaza in exchange for 150 Palestinians imprisoned in Israel, and the entry of humanitarian aid into the besieged enclave. Officials from Qatar, which has been mediating secret negotiations, as well as the US, Israel and Hamas have for days been saying a deal was imminent.

Hamas is believed to be holding more than 200 hostages, taken when its fighters surged into Israel on Oct. 7, killing 1,200 people, according to Israeli tallies.

A statement by Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's office said 50 women and children will be released over four days, during which there will be a pause in fighting.

For every additional 10 hostages released, the pause would be extended by another day, it said, without mentioning the release of Palestinian prisoners in exchange.

"Israel's government is committed to return all the hostages home. Tonight, it approved the proposed deal as a first stage to achieving this goal," said the statement, released after hours of deliberation that were closed to the press.

Hamas said the 50 hostages would be released in exchange for 150 Palestinian women and children who are held in Israeli iails. The truce deal will also allow hundreds of trucks of humanitarian, medical and fuel aid to enter Gaza, the Palestinian group said in a statement.

Israel had committed not to attack or arrest anyone in all parts of Gaza during the truce period, it added.

US President Joe Biden said he welcomed the deal. "Today's deal should bring home additional American hostages, and I will not stop until they are all released," he said in a statement.

Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas also welcomed the foreign-mediated humanitarian deal and called for wider solutions to the long-Israeli-Palestinian running conflict

Abbas' administration, based in the occupied West Bank, "appreciate(s) the Qatari-Egyptian (mediation) effort", wants an extended truce

What We Know: Israel-Hamas Truce Deal with Israel and "the implementation of a political solution based on international legitimacy," a social media post by senior Palestinian aide Hussein Al-Sheikh said.

The Qatar government said 50 civilian women and children hostages would be released from Gaza in exchange for the release "of a number of Palestinian women and children held in Israeli prisons."

The starting time of the truce would be announced within the next 24 hours, it said in a statement.

The accord is the first truce of a war in which Israeli bombardments have flattened swathes of Hamas-ruled Gaza, killed 13,300 civilians in the tiny densely populated enclave and left about twothirds of its 2.3 million people homeless, according to authorities in Gaza. But Netanyahu said Israel's broader mission was unchanged.

Ramayana, Mahabharata Should Be Included In Social Sciences Curriculum: NCERT Panel

Press Trust of India

NEW DELHI: Epics such as the Ramayana and the Mahabharata should be included in social sciences textbooks and the Preamble of the Constitution written on classroom walls, a high-level NCERT panel has recommended, according to its chairperson C I Issac.

The seven-member committee, which was constituted last year, has made several recommendations for its final position paper on social sciences, which is a key prescriptive document for laying down the foundation for the development of new NCERT textbooks. The National Council for Educational Research and Training (NCERT) has not taken a call on the recommendations yet.

"The panel has stressed teaching epics like Ramayana and Mahabharata in the social sciences syllabus to students. We think that students in their teenage years build their selfesteem, patriotism and pride for their nation," Issac said.

He noted that every year thousands of students leave the country and seek citizenship in other countries because of a lack of patriotism among them. "Therefore, it is important for them to understand their roots and develop love for their country and their culture. Some boards already teach Ramayana and Mahabharata but it should be done in a more elaborate way," he said. Issac earlier said that the same panel had also recommended replacing the country name 'India' with 'Bharat' in textbooks, introducing 'classical History' instead of ancient History in the curriculum, and highlighting 'Hindu victories' in the textbooks for classes 3 to 12. "Our Preamble gives importance to social values including democracy and secularism. It is noble. Therefore, we have recommended writing it on the walls of the classrooms so that everyone can understand and learn from it," Issac added.

The NCERT is revising the school curriculum in line with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020.

The new NCERT textbooks are likely to be ready by the next academic session.

The panel's recommendations may now be taken into consideration by the 19-member National Syllabus and Teaching Learning Material Committee (NSTC) notified in July to finalise the curriculum, textbooks and learning material for these classes.

Gandhi Family Must Pay For Its 'Sins': BJP On ED's Attachment Of National Herald Assets

Press Trust of India

NEW DELHI: The BJP on Wednesday hit back at the Congress over its condemnation of the seizure of National Herald assets, as the ruling party as-serted that the Gandhi family must pay for its "sins".

Former Union minister and BJP leader Ravi Shankar Prasad accused the Gandhi family of capturing National Herald assets by converting the now-defunct newspaper's properties into its "personal properties". An online version of the publication is, however, available. Addressing a press confera company where the two controlled 76 per cent of shares. It was a shameful new low in democracy, he claimed. The Gandhi family not only appropriated the Congress' legacy of spearheading the freedom movement but also the assets associated with the party, he alleged, adding that both Congress leaders moved judiciary against actions of probe agencies, including Income Tax, but did not get relief.

What the family did was a case of the "Congress and commerce", he said, citing the use of the phrase in past cases of similar nature involving opposition leaders.

7.25 Lakh Indians Are Illegal Immigrants In US: Report Press Trust of India

WASHINGTON: There were about 725,000 Indian illegal immigrants in the US -- the third largest population of unauthorised immigrants after Mexico and El Salvador, according to new Pew Research Centre estimates. As of 2021, the country's 10.5 million unauthorised immigrants represented about three per cent of the total US population and 22 per cent of the foreign-born population, the Washington-based think tank said.

Almost every region in the world had a notable increase

The six states with the largest unauthorised immigrant populations in 2021 were: California (1.9 million), Texas (1.6 million), Florida (900,000), New York (600,000), New Jersey (450,000) and Illinois (400,000), the report said.

In 2021, the population of unauthorised immigrants from other countries was 6.4 million, up by 900,000 from 2017, the report said.

JERUSALEM: Israel and Hamas announced a deal on Wednesday allowing at least 50 hostages and scores of Palestinian prisoners to be freed, while offering besieged Gaza residents a four-day truce after weeks of all-out war. The first major diplomatic breakthrough in the conflict follows weeks of painstaking negotiations brokered by Qatar with help from Egypt and the United States, and is also intended to allow the delivery of desperately needed food, medicines and fuel to the 2.4 million civilians in exchange for 50 of the hostages Islamist militants hold in Gaza.

in the number of unauthorised immigrants in the US from 2007 to 2021, with the largest increase from Central America (240,000) and South and East Asia (180,000).

While the number of unauthorised immigrants from Mexico living in the US -- 4.1 million in 2021 -- was the lowest since the 1990s, El Salvador -- 800,000 -- and India with 7,25,000 immigrants saw an increase in the numbers, the report said.

Among countries with the largest numbers of US unauthorised immigrants, India, Brazil, Canada and former Soviet Union countries all experienced growth from 2017 to 2021, the report said.

Other countries which accounted for most unauthorised immigrants were Guatemala (700,000) and Honduras (525.000).

The report said India, Guatemala and Honduras all saw increases from 2017 with the unauthorised immigrant population in the US reaching 10.5 million in 2021, according to new Pew Research Centre estimates.

There were increases in unauthorised immigrants from nearly every other region of the world - Central America, the Caribbean, South America, Asia, Europe and sub-Saharan Africa.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's cabinet approved the truce accord early Wednesday after a nearall-night meeting, in which he told ministers this was a "difficult decision but it's a right decision". The deal is crafted to take effect in stages that the mediators hope can be extended and broadened. Here is what we know so far. Mediator Qatar to announce nounce the start of the fourday humanitarian pause in Gaza, during which Palestinian prisoners will be released

"The st time pause will be announced within the next 24 hours and last for four days, subject to extension," Qatar's foreign ministry said in a statement.

"The agreement includes the release of 50 civilian women and children hostages currently held in the Gaza Strip in exchange for the release of a number of Palestinian women and children detained in Israeli prisons," it said.

Qatar said the deal would include "the entry of a larger number of humanitarian convoys and relief aid, including fuel designated for humanitarian needs"

'Truce can be extended' Qatar's foreign ministry spokesman Majed Al-Ansari

"The truce begins and then every day within the four days we will have a number of hostages coming out... and that number should reach 50 by day four," he said. The expectation was that the initial 50 women and children hostages freed by Hamas would be followed by further releases to extend the initial four-day truce.

"If by then the Palestinians can commit to an additional number, then the truce can be extended," Ansari said.

During the period hostages are moved. Israeli reconnaissance of Gaza will be put on temporary hold, said the spokesman, who is also a key adviser to Qatar's prime minister.

After the ED attached assets of the Congress-promoted National Herald on Tuesday, the Congress said such "petty vendetta tactics" cannot frighten it and dubbed the probe agency a "coalition partner" of the BJP. Its leader K C Venugopal slammed the BJP and the probe agencies as "murderers of democracy".

Prasad said the newspaper had prime properties in many cities and alleged that senior Congress leaders Sonia Gandhi and her son Rahul Gandhi appropriated these pricey assets as the shares of the firm owning it were transferred to that the ED's action was an outcome of the BJP's frustration as it was losing in the current round of assembly polls, Prasad claimed that it was the Congress which will be defeated soundly and noted that the National Herald case probe began on a private complaint before the Modi government came to power in 2014. Both Sonia Gandhi and Rahul are facing cheating and forgery charges and are currently on bail, he noted and cited the trial court's critical observations about the allegations against them to make his point.

"You think that you keep looting but no action should be taken. The family must pay for its sins, corruption and misuse of power," he said.

Every Judicial Order Should Contain Sound Reasons: HC

M Ahmad

JAMMU: The High Court of J&K and Ladakh on Wednesday said that every judicial order should contain sound reasons.

Allowing an appeals against an order passed in July last year by Additional Deputy Commissioner (with the powers of Agrarian Reforms Commissioner) Jammu, a bench of Justice Rajesh Sekhri observed that the judicial order must be based on sound reasons on two counts-one- if valid reasons are not found in the order, such an order become erroneous and two; if an order is informed of reasons, the person aggrieved can avail the opportunity to demonstrate that reasons were erroneous.

"It is trite that inevitability to document reasons is aimed to prevent injury in reaching the conclusion and disclose how mind was applied in substance of the litigation," the court underlined. Therefore, the court said, recording of reasons in support of a decision on a disputed claim would ensure that decision is not a result of fancy, but was arrived at having due regard to the position of law.

"What emanates from the perusal of the impugned order is that learned appellate court has failed to judicially sift the contentions of the parties and inspect the plea made in the appeal," the court said and allowed the appealed filed against the July order.

"The petitioner had not only detailed factual aspects of the case in the appeal before the appellate court but raised various legal issues against the order passed by learned court below," the court observed.

In the circumstances, the appellate Court was required to scrutinise the pleadings in its wisdom and obliged to pass the orders on merits, the high court said. However, the appellate Court, by merely referring to the pleadings of the parties and arguments advanced at bar, has dismissed the appeal preferred by the petitioner in a cryptic fashion without assigning any reason.

"Despite reflection of pleadings and legal grounds urged by the petitioner in the impugned order, learned appellate court has neither adverted to the pleadings nor addressed the legal issues to show thoughtful consideration of the controversy," the court said, adding "It is surprising to note that learned appellate court on the one hand observed that court below had violated Section 28 of the Act and then refused interference. It is absurd."

A Fragile Truce

he agreement between Israel and Hamas, brokered through intense negotiations and mediated by Qatar, has paved the way for a temporary pause in the ongoing conflict. The delicate truce signifies a momentary respite from the violence that has plagued the region for the past six weeks resulting in over 13,000 Plaestinians getting killed, most of them children.

The agreement hinges on a prisoner exchange a gesture that aims to bring relief to families torn apart by war. However, this truce remains tenuous, contingent upon the release of hostages-Israelis held captive in Gaza in exchange for Palestinians in Israeli prisons. While this humanitarian act is welcome, it underlines the intricate web of geopolitical tensions and human suffering that continues to define the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

This pause offers some optimism, albeit fragile, amid the wreckage of war. It lets the international community to step forward and seize this moment to work to prolong the ceasefire. Yet, it also demands caution and vigilance, recognizing the fragility of temporary ceasefires in a conflict riddled with deepseated grievances and complex historical narratives.

The toll of this conflict is immeasurable. Homes destroyed, lives lost, and communities shatteredthese scars are etched deep into the psyche of people of Gaza. The United Nations reports staggering numbers: over 13,000 killed, millions displaced. Each life lost underlines the urgent need for a durable resolution that goes beyond fleeting pauses in violence. Qatar's played a critical role in mediating the truce. However, their work is far from over. This ceasefire presents an opportunity to engage in substantive dialogue, to address the root causes of the conflict, and to chart a course toward comprehensive peace.

As the guns momentarily fall silent, the international community must not retreat into complacency. The four-day truce, extendable with further releases, must serve as a platform for meaningful negotiations, not merely a hiatus before resuming hostilities. It is incumbent upon all stakeholders to capitalize on this fragile window of opportunity, and to earnestly commit to a roadmap that ensures the cessation of violence and fosters a sustainable peace for generations to come.

The stakes are high, and the road ahead is fraught with challenges. But in this delicate moment of pause, let us not squander the chance to steer the course of history towards reconciliation and understanding, and a future where the Israeli state and a sovereign Palestinian state live side by side.

To Save Democracy, Fight Inequality

KAUSHIK BASU

G G When future generations look back at today's world, they will likely be shocked by the extreme levels of inequality and social injustice we have tolerated, just as we are horrified by our ancestors' acceptance of practices like slavery and feudalism. But, beyond their inherent immorality, the political implications of today's economic disparities often go unnoticed

n these tumultuous times, it often feels like one shock quickly eclipses another. Before one problem can be solved, another crisis emerges. Just a few weeks ago, the war in Ukraine dominated headlines, but the recent outbreak of violence between Israel and Hamas has since taken center stage. To be sure, during times of crisis, our instinct is to focus on extinguishing the fire that is closest to us. But it is equally crucial to understand and address the root causes so that we have fewer fires to fight.

As populist forces have polarized electorates and deepening social divides worldwide, the global political climate has grown increasingly volatile. While determining the causes of this shift will undoubtedly take some time, one could argue that the rapid advance of digital technologies, unchecked globalization, and rising inequality have transformed our political and economic systems, fueling sociopolitical unrest.

While the debate over whether economic inequality has increased over the past few decades is still ongoing, the question is moot. We know for certain that global economic inequality increased steadily between 1820 and 1910. Since then, it has fluctuated, and any estimate depends on the specific methods and metrics researchers use. But the data clearly show that economic disparities have reached intolerable levels, with the world's richest 1% gaining 38% of the increase in global wealth between 1995 and 2021, compared to just 2% for the bottom 50%.

Moreover, regardless of the overall inequality, it is undeniable that the concentration of wealth continues to increase. Between 1995 and 2021, global wealth grew by 3.2% annually. Over the same period, the richest 0.000001% increased their wealth by 9.3% per year. When future generations look back at today's world, they will likely be shocked by the extreme levels of inequality and social injustice we have tolerated, just as we are horrified by our ancestors' acceptance of practices like slavery and feudalism. But, beyond their inherent immorality, the political implications of today's economic disparities often go unnoticed. In this age of digital connectivity and globalized commerce, excessive wealth concentrations undermine democracy in two main ways

First, the globalization of finance and supply chains has enabled wealthy and powerful countries to affect the well-being of citizens far beyond their borders. But while the citizens of Burkina Faso, for example, cannot vote in US presidential elections, the decisions made by American presidents affect their daily lives as much as those made by their own leaders, if not more so. Imagine a scenario where only the residents of the District of Columbia were allowed to vote in a US presidential election - such a system could hardly be called a democracy

This dynamic suggests that globalization erodes global democracy. Yet, there is not much that developing countries can do to challenge American hegemony, given that the United States is not going to allow the whole world to participate in its presidential elections.

Second, given that extreme wealth often translates into political power, the concentration of wealth in few hands is anathema to democracy. This is particularly evident in the age of Big Tech, when billionaires can gain an outsize influence on public discourse by taking over critical media platforms or manipulating search results. One can hope that advances in generative artificial intelligence will level the play ing field in the tech sector and thus help curb inequality. As an economist, I recognize the potential damage that poorly designed interventions can cause. History is replete with examples of well-meaning but ill-conceived policies that sought to reduce inequality, only to backfire and inadvertently bolster the right-wing narrative that all government intervention is inherently problematic.

Nevertheless, by combining moral intentions with thoughtful design, such policies can yield significant returns. In a recent paper that I co-authored with my students Fikri Pitsuwan and Pengfei Zhang, we explore the megaprofits generated by Big Pharma and Big Tech companies. While imposing patent waivers might reduce the incentive to innovate, just as placing profit caps can cause production to fall, it is possible to design mechanisms that limit excess profits without sacrificing efficiency. One such strategy is to use a commodity tax to cap the profit of a group of companies, such as all the Big Tech firms. By heightening competition within the group, this intervention can neutralize the incentive to cut production.

We must also recognize that be yond a certain threshold, what matters most to people, including the wealthiest, is relative rather than absolute inequality. Therefore, we can levy significant taxes on the rich without reducing their incentives, provided that they maintain their relative standing. In other words, as long as billionaires like Elon Musk and Jeff Bezos understand that the taxation will not alter their rankings among the world's wealthiest individuals, they will remain motivated to increase their earnings, and the rest of us will reap the rewards of their efforts.

In short, neoliberals got it wrong: pursuing greater equality without reducing incentives is entirely feasible. By mitigating inequality and curbing the outsize influence of a few ultra-wealthy individuals, we can establish a fairer society. If we want to save democracy, we cannot afford to wait. ## Caste out nsecurity can be triggered by the environment. The situation today has made caste an acutely sensitive issue in institutional contexts. Students view it with suspicion: it is their peers in different educational institutions who allegedly face discrimination, occasionally culminating in suicide. In spite of the negative associations, a few companies conducting placement interviews in Indian Institute of Technology campuses asked students for their caste or their Joint Entrance Examination results in the application forms. Students foresaw in this a "potential career risk" since their credentials as engineers have nothing to do with their caste background. Applicants from scheduled castes, scheduled tribes and other backward classes feared that the companies would promote discrimination at the entry point or later. They blamed the IITs, which were either complicit in allowing or ineffectual in preventing such inquiry. The JEE ranks would indicate whether they came in on reserved seats, since the entry marks are lower for these. So asking for three-year-old JEE results was just a roundabout way to reach the same information — the caste identity of the applicant. It was not surprising that the students felt anxious or insulted.

Among the protests, one alumnus wrote to the SC and ST minority commissions and the education ministry, focusing on the complicity of the IITs in creating the fear of discrimination. Other alumni said that these questions were asked earlier as well, but there had been no protests. Clearly the protests this time suggest that not just the fear but also the experience of being discriminated against is sharp enough for students to speak up. Oppressive divisiveness is too widespread now for the environment to emanate security. There might be a contributory reason too. As another alumnus pointed out, many students from reserved categories did not apply when asked their caste background for they felt a sense of 'shame', however misplaced. Here, then, the discrimination is silent, invisible, as though it never happened. Others have said that recruiting companies should not ask for caste backgrounds unless they are offering benefits. This relates to a broader point — asking for caste identity is a breach of privacy; it can only be relevant in the case of reservations. No assurances of non-discrimination and diversity in recruitment from the companies would be adequate answer for the questions the students' protests have raised.

Addressing Obesity

T is well known that a large population of the country is battling obesity, the root of all diseases. due to which diseases like diabetes, thyroid, and high blood pressure have increased not only among adults, but also in adolescents and children. The good thing is that like the epidemic, now the government has also become alert about the increasing obesity. NITI Aayog, the country's policy-making body, has recommended to identify the major factors of its growth such as sugar. salt and fat-rich foods and increase the excise duty on these foods to make citizens free from obesity. In this episode, it has been said to take steps like 'front of the pack labeling' on products, so that people can be warned about the danger of obesity. The purpose is that people should be careful while choosing food items and they should know what is dangerous for their health. The report of the Research Institute of NITI Aayog for the year 2021-2022 warns that the problem of overweight and obesity among children, adolescents and women is increasing continuously in the country. NITI Aayog is taking steps in this direction in collaboration with the country's Institute of Economic Development and the Public Health Organization of India. In fact, Indian food has traditionally been a trend of namkeen, chips, bhujia, etc., but in recent years, in the name of snacks, there has been an increase in the popularity of such foods which are injurious to health. It should be a matter of our concern that according to the National Family Health Survey, the number of women suffering from obesity in the country has gone up to 24 percent, while the figure for men is 22.9%. In such a situation, the need of the hour should be said that the government should take steps in this direction. Undoubtedly, obesity is the root of all diseases and the Indian medical system feels the pressure due to the diseases caused by it.

Actually, due to change in urban lifestyle and eating habits, the problem of obesity has become worrying. Talks continued about this problem, but no serious initiative was seen in this direction. Due to the market gimmicks, the use of junk food and packaged food items increased in the country. In this, the producers searched the market but did not care about the health of the common man. The irony was also that there was mention of factors that increase obesity, but serious efforts were not seen to stop them. The steps taken to stop them were only symbolic. The market is full of such foods which are tempting in taste, but are heavy on health. They have a long-term harmful effect on health, due to which obesity increases and under its guise serious diseases ranging from diabetes to heart disease start growing. Which over time takes a frightening form due to neglect. Undoubtedly, the need of the hour is to strictly regulate the factors causing obesity. People should know that what they are consuming affects their health. In fact, due to the change in eating habits, the problem of obesity in developed countries has started spreading rapidly in India too. In India, such a problem assumes a formidable form because people are not conscious in time. We have failed to create awareness among the general public about obesity. We do not care when the factors that increase obesity have become a part of our daily life. Also which foods are really fattening. When the body becomes a home of deadly diseases due to such carelessness, the person does not even realize it. But while taxing such food items, keep in mind that the lives of common and poor people are not affected. Along with this, there is also a need to run an awareness campaign against obesity in the country. Vijay Garg

From the Bridges of Old City, I Found Jehlum Dying

Mushtaq Hurra

Last Sunday, I and my close friend visited Zaina Kadal, Aali Kadal, Kadi Kadal, lamalta and other adjoining areas of old Srinagar city to procure a pair of pruning secateurs and hedge shears, as this area of the city is famous for indigenously made agrarian and gardening tools. We parked our vehicle near a big mosque, and went straight shopping. We approached almost a dozen smithies, and bought the hedge shears very easily but couldn't find a pair of pruning secateurs despite a deep hunt. One of the shopkeepers suggested we visit one said shop. We at once proceeded towards our destination with a hope to gain possession of the desired tool. But we were dejected and sad when a young salesman of the warehouse shook his head in denial.

Though we failed to procure the secateurs, the fragrance of the old Srinagar city left us fascinated and hypnotized. The aroma of spices opened the unexplored corners of our brains. A youngman selling mutton barbecue adjacent to the guardrails of the historic Zaina kadal bridge, induced us to relish the piquant and appetizing barbeques. Blobs of molten butter would burn on the blazing embers of the brazier, to fill the surroundings with a tempting and spicy smell. Our urge to gulp the grilled mutton pieces instantly reached its climax. We asked the vendor to roast half a dozen skewers for us. The vendor put six metallic skewers on the brazier, and began to fan the embers with a strong piece of cardboard. My friend asked for some spicy chutney to solace his hungry taste buds. But, I was lost in the picturesque beauty of the river Jhelum.

Below the Zaina kadal bridge, I saw a group of young men angling with their sophisticated rods, and interestingly, it is still one of my favorite sources of amusement. When I peeped through evenings of the river but even respected butchers of the area maim the river with stinky offal and trash in the wee hours of mornings the tough metallic balustrade, erected on the edges of the bridge to have a glimpse of the gushing waters, the sight of whirlpools beneath the bridge was looking quite petrifying. Surroundings of the river with alluringly magnificent buildings were testimonial to the prosperity of its custodians. Tall minarets were enough to make a dense network of mosques evident to my eyes. Even a temple with typical architectural style was quite distinguishable from a good distance. Asar Azaan resonating from multiple loudspeakers scratched our devotional vibes. Artistic stonework done on the embankments of the river exhibited official care and concern for the safety of the river and the buildings erected on and around its banks. My admiration for local people and administration of the city grew in abundance.

Meanwhile, the vendor placed the simmering barbeque skewers before me. I took a skewer and began to draw the crispy mutton pieces stacked tightly together. Dipping the hot pieces in cold chutney of coriander and curd, would add new volumes of flavour to these barbecues. Though my taste buds had been relishing the legacy of the old city, my eyes were struck on an ugly blot which was enough to irritate and exasperate me. My appreciation and respect for the locals of the area began to abruptly evaporate. A sense of retribution and revenge for the local people, obsessed with my nerves. I was appalled and enraged.

I was shocked and disappointed to see that all the human excreta from the surroundings was thrown into the bosom of the river. Dense network of pipes, leading into the center of the river, was enough to mar my little joy and admiration that I had experienced a while ago. Black stinky sewerage was blemishing the Adam's ale. My friend asked me to empty the skewers as the sun had begun to spread its yellowish red hue over the horizon. A couple of locals were basking on the bridge rails. I at once approached them, and narrated the ordeal of the jugular vein (River Jhelum ) of my land to them. They bowed their heads down in shame and obloquy. They had no answers to my queries, which might have pierced their hearts like poisonous arrows.

My monologue attracted a good crowd, when I lamented the plight of the Veath, and shot volleys of curses on the enemies of Vitasta:

"It is not only human excreta which greets the mornings and the evenings of the river but also respected butchers of the area maim the river with the stinky offal and trash in the wee hours of mornings.

O my Jhelum! How long shall you nourish a buffoonish and selfish nation that vandalises and scars you in the broad daylight. Let them know that their own brethren down the line, have no access to tap water from Alstaing and Doodhgangah water supply schemes, except the water of the Veath, which they have turned as poisonous as Hemlock. Let someone tell these braying donkeys that we consume the water of the Veath without any filtration and processing. Who will tell these obliviously egomaniacal masses that we consider the water of the river, as the only nectar and the antidote known to us. Alas! Our children are caught up in deadly diseases of hepatits. Your callousness and insensitivity has subject us to lethal and murderous ailments. Are you really the vicegerents of Allah

THOUGH MY TASTE BUDS HAD BEEN RELISHING THE LEGACY OF THE OLD CITY, my

eyes were struck on an ugly blot which was enough to irritate and exasperate me. My appreciation and respect for the locals of the area began to abruptly evaporate. A sense of retribution and revenge for the local people, obsessed with my nerves. I was appalled and enraged

SWT? Have you really been to Universities and colleges? I wonder if your magnificent mosques do any good to you. Your prayer and charity are an act of boasting and bragging. Your degrees and diplomas haven't brightened up your conscience. You are moving statues of pride and showoff. Compassion and empathy are none of your stations. Heavenly deluge is in store for you lest you mend your ways."

My words moved their hearts, a sense of guilt was obviously visible in their eyes but they couldn't even reassure me with promises of action because they have reached the state of Summum, Bukmun, Umyun (Deaf, Dumb, Blind). Official apathy has worsened the situation. If this is preservation and conservation of the Veath, then keep it in your pockets.

I appeal to the LG administration of J&K to take concrete steps to save the river qualitatively and quantitatively for the continuation of life in the valley because Vitasta is the only major source of irrigation and drinking water for most of the valley populace. Any further complacency can lead to catastrophic consequences. Custodians of the river should ignite their civic sense to save Jhelum from further damage and destruction.

Social Media Showoff vs. Reality: The Illusion Unveiled

Syed Faraz

In the digital age, social media has become an integral part of our lives, offering a platform for self-expression, connection, and networking. However, behind the glossy filters and meticulously crafted posts lies a pervasive issue – the culture of social media showoff. People often present idealized versions of themselves, showcasing only the highlights while concealing the struggles and imperfections that make us human.

The Allure of the Perfect Image

Social media platforms entice users to showcase an image of perfection. From exotic vacations to mouthwatering meals, glamorous events, and envyinducing possessions, users often project an idyllic life that appears to be the epitome of happiness and success. This portrayal, albeit a curated one, garners attention, likes, and validation from followers, feeding a cycle of seeking external approval and admiration.

The Psychological Impact

As individuals constantly compare their realities to the seemingly perfect lives of others, it can lead to feelings of <section-header> inadequacy, anxiety, and even depression. The pressure to maintain an impeccable image pushes many to strive for unattainable standards, triggering a detrimental impact on mental health. Moreover, this obsession with external validation may hinder authentic connections and discourage vulnerability, essential components of genuine human interaction.

Unveiling the Reality

Amidst the facade of grandeur, a growing movement emerges, encouraging transparency and authenticity on social media. Influencers, celebrities, and everyday users are stepping forward to unveil the reality behind the perfectly curated images. Some share their struggles, setbacks, and moments of vulnerability, breaking down the illusion of perfection and encouraging a more genuine, relatable online presence.

Embracing Realness and Balance

While social media can be a powerful tool for inspiration and connection, it's crucial to strike a balance between its benefits and potential pitfalls. Acknowledging that life is a mix of ups and downs, and that imperfections are part of the human experience, is essential in fostering a healthier relationship with social media.

Tips for a More Authentic Online Presence

1. Be Genuine: Share your authentic experiences, joys, and challenges. Embrace vulnerability, as it fosters meaningful connections with others.

2. Limit Comparison: Remember that social media is a highlight reel, not the full story. Comparing your life to others' curated posts only fosters negative emotions.

3. Mindful Consumption: Be conscious of the content you consume. Unfollow accounts that trigger feelings of inadequacy or promote unrealistic standards.

4.Seek Support: If social media is affecting your mental well-being, don't hesitate to seek support from friends, family, or mental health professionals.

5. Balance Online and Offline:Take breaks from social media to focus on real-life connections, hobbies, and personal growth.

In conclusion, social media showoff culture has created a stark contrast between online personas and authentic lives. By embracing transparency and vulnerability, we can foster genuine connections and ultimately redefine the way we use social media, making it a force for positivity, understanding, and authentic self-expression.

Problem Screen Use Hits Attention, Higher-Level Thinking: Study

Press Trust Of India

roblematic screen use impairs range of cognitive processes, in particular the ability to concentrate and the so-called executive functions, which include impulse control, planning, organisation and problem solving, a study shows.

The research, published in the journal Neuropsychology Review, is an overview of more than 30 studies of people who fall into the broad category of disordered screen use.

The classification includes excessive gaming, internet browsing, or use of social media or smartphones, that result in serious negative effects on the person's life.

These effects can include deterioration in mental health, poorer performance at school or work, social isolation and relationship problems, and neglect of personal health or hygiene, the researchers said.

Disordered screen use shares characteristics with behavioural addictions like problem gambling, and some people may even develop symptoms of severe dependency like those associated with addictions to alcohol and illicit substances.

The researchers from Macquarie University in Australia identified 43 studies that assessed the neuropsychological effects of disordered screen use, ultimately including 34 in their analysis.

Twenty of the 34 included studies were on online and offline gaming, 12 were on internet use, and one each on social media and smartphone use, the researchers said.

The bias towards gaming and internet use were due to these platforms having been around longer, while smartphones and social media are relative newcomers to the screen-use landscape.

The research mostly looked at young males, and tested a total of 58 different neuropsychological measures, with most examining attention and executive functioning.

"This is the first time anyone has reviewed all the available evidence together," said study lead author, Mic Moshel from Macquarie University.

"The studies used different tests, which makes it more difficult to compare apples with apples, but there was clear evidence across the board of a reduction in cognitive performance in people with disordered screen use," Moshel said.

While there is an effect, the researchers noted that the extent of that reduction is unclear because only eight of the studies assessed the severity of symptoms.

Previous research has shown that children and adolescents are the most vulnerable to disordered screen use, and developing brains are highly sensitive to cognitive impairment.

While cognitive impairment resulting from some other causes can be remediated, if left untreated, it can compound over time, the researchers said. Moshel says mild traumatic brain injury provides a good analogy, as it can lead to reduced cognitive performance that affects their ability to learn.

"If it is not remediated quickly and effectively, then you have what is called the widening of the gap, where you see an increasing distance develop between these children and their peers academically," the researcher added.

Tougher Unsecured Loan Norms A Preemptive Move, In Interest Of Sustainability: RBI Governor

Press Trust Of India

MUMBAI: Reserve Bank of India Governor Shaktikanta Das on Wednesday said the central bank's tougher stance on unsecured loans earlier this month is a "preemptive" move in the interest of sustainability.

Underlining that the banking system continues to be resilient and there is no immediate cause of worry for the system, Das advised lenders to be more cautious and spot any trend of risk building early.

"We have recently announced a few macro prudential measures in the overall interest of sustainability. These measures are pre-emptive in nature, they are calibrated and targeted," Das said, addressing the annual FI-BAC event here.

Speaking to reporters after delivering the speech at the event organised by industry lobby groupings Ficci and IBA, Das said it is very early to speak about a sunset date for the newly introduced norms.

It can be noted that after asking lenders to be cautious, the Reserve Bank had increased risk weights on unsecured lending for both banks and non-banks earlier this month.

More capital will have to be devoted for such riskier loans by a lender which will result in higher buffers in case of any stress, and the move will also make personal loans and credit card borrowings dearer for an individual.

Das said the RBI has left out loans taken for vehicle and home buying, and also lending to small businesses because of the benefit to growth that such segments portend, and also added that the central bank does not see a possibility of stress building up in such segments. He asked lenders to strengthen their risk management practices and build additional buffers to face any situation if the business cycle turns adverse, and added that RBI has significantly strengthened its regulation and supervision.

"While banks and NBFCs are showing good performance now, sustaining it requires concerted efforts. In good times like these, banks and NBFCs need to reflect and introspect as to where potential risks could possibly originate," he said.

Das said lending entities will continue doing stress tests and in a departure from the past, also advised entities in the "real sector" to undertake similar efforts.

On the RBI's part, the central bank is undertaking efforts like on-site and off-site inspections, stress testing, vulnerability assessments, thematic studies and data-dump analysis, Das said, adding that these initiatives are being undertaken as part of its efforts to be proactive and forward looking in supervisory approach.

fairs Minister S Jaishankar on Wednesday sought investments from Nordic-Baltic countries in the development of ports, renewable energy, food processing and fisheries, saving India has put in place institutional frameworks for closer business-to-business cooperation.

Addressing the India Nordic Baltic Business Conclave here. Iaishankar also said that India has opened embassies in Tallinn and Vilnius recently and plans to start an embassy in Latvia very soon.

He said India has set up an ambitious target to set up renewable energy capacities of 450 gigawatts by 2030, lined up port-led development involving over 600 projects under the Sagarmala program, while the food processing sector has the potential to attract USD 33 billion over the next decade.

"So these offer real opportunities for the NB8 (Nordic-Baltic) countries for investment. for trade and for tech collaboration and exchange of mutual expertise and best practices. The growth of fisheries, too, is a domain of natural collaboration," Jaishankar said.

He said more than 700 Nordic companies were present in India. and close to 150 Indian companies have their presence in that region.

"So this is the economic baseline on which we need to build further," Jaishankar said. He said India's talent pool, digital adoption and start-up ecosystem align well with the Baltic region's prominence in egovernance, digital innovation, supply chain management, and other frontier industries.

"As open economies, they have adopted a model of a responsive government, a prudent fiscal policy, a favourable investment climate, and flexible labour markets, hence a natural synergy to expand and deepen our relationship further with this region." Jaishankar said.

The minister said India's space programme has opened up new opportunities for collaboration with the NB8 group. "Given the fast-transforming nature of space technology, the significance of launching sites in the Arctic region and commercialisation of space and geospatial sectors in India can boost public-private collaboration," Jaishankar said

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the Centre to review by January 17 the legal question of whether a person holding a driving licence for a light motor vehicle is also entitled to legally drive a transport vehicle having unladen weight not exceeding 7,500 kilograms.

Observing that these are policy issues impacting "the livelihood of lakhs of people", a five-judge Constitution bench headed by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud had said the government needed to take a "fresh look" at the matter which needed to be taken up at the policy level.

"Whether a person holding a driving licence in respect of 'light motor vehicle' (LMV), could on the strength of that licence, be entitled to drive a 'transport vehicle of light motor vehicle class' having unladen weight not exceeding 7500 kgs," reads the legal question being dealt by the bench. rise to various disputes over payment of claims by insurance companies in accident cases involving transport vehicles being driven by those having licences to drive LMVs.

During a brief hearing on Wednesday, the bench noted that the exercise for amendment would require consultation with multiple stakeholders which will take time.

"We direct the Union to pursue the exercise with utmost expedition. Since the consultation with the state government is envisaged, we direct all state governments to comply with the timeline set by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways. "The proceedings shall now be listed on January 17, 2024, by which date we expect that the consultation will be concluded in its entirety and a clear road map of further steps which Union proposes to take should be placed before this court," the bench, also comprising

P S Narasimha, Justice Pankaj Mithal and Justice Manoj Misra, said.

At the outset, Attorney General R Venkataramani submitted a note from the Centre and said the Union Government was considering a larger picture rather than piecemeal amendments to address the issue.

The top law officer urged the bench to adjourn the proceedings sine die (indefinitely) in the meantime. The apex court, however, refused to adjourn the proceedings and posted the matter for hearing on January 17. It also clarified that during the pendency of the matter, the judgment in the Mukund Dewangan case shall hold the field. The apex court had earlier asked the Union government if a change in law is warranted on the legal question of whether a person holding a driving licence for a light motor vehicle is entitled to legally drive a transport

It had earlier sought the assistance of the attorney general in dealing with the legal question.

The constitution bench had said that knowing the posi-tion of the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways will be necessary after it was argued that the apex court's 2017 verdict in the case of Mukund Dewangan versus Oriental Insurance Company Limited was accepted by the Centre and rules were amended to align them with the judgement.

In the Mukund Dewangan case, a three-judge bench of the top court had held that transport vehicles, the gross weight of which does not exceed 7,500 kg, are not excluded from the definition of LMV.

"There may be lakhs of drivers across the country who are working on the basis of Dewangan judgment. This is not a constitutional issue. It is purely a statutory issue," the bench had said.

"This is just not the question of law but also the social impact of the law... Road safety has to be balanced with the social purpose of the law and you have to see if this causes serious hardships. We cannot decide issues of social policy in a constitution bench," it had said.

The apex court had said once the government informs its stand to the court, the hearing in the constitution bench will be taken up thereafter.

On July 18, the constitution bench commenced hearing as many as 76 petitions to deal with the legal question.

It had then heard the arguments of senior advocate Siddharth Dave, appearing for one of the petitioners, on alleged anomalies in the Motor Vehicle Act about regimes for dealing with the grant of driving licenses for different categories of vehicles.

The lead petition was filed by M/s Bajaj Allianz General Insurance Co Ltd.

Stage IV invoked in Delhi New Delhi: The Delhi government has notified that the entry of buses, barring CNG, BSVI diesel and electric ones, will be automatically banned in the city whenever restrictions under the final stage of the Centre's air pollution control plan are invoked.

Stage IV is the final stage of the Graded Response Action Plan (GRAP).

Delhi Transport Minister Kailash Gahlot shared the notification on microblogging site X.

"Entry of all buses, including All India Tourist buses/ Contract Carriage buses/State Transport Buses or holding any other kind of permit into Delhi from other states except CNG / Electric or BS-VI diesel buses will be restricted as and when GRAP IV invokes.

"The above-mentioned restrictions shall stand automatically applicable, as and when GRAP-IV is invoked from the date of issuance of this order in Delhi Gazette, and if the GRAP IV is revoked the said restrictions stand terminated automatically, no separate order will be issued," the notification said. Last month, the Delhi government directed that all buses entering the national capital from Haryana will have to run on electricity, CNG or BS-VI diesel. Buses entering from the NCR regions of Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan also need to follow these norms.

The Commission for Air Quality Management (CAQM), a statutory body responsible for formulating strategies to combat pollution in the NCR region, had on November 18 asked Delhi and NCR states to revoke all emergency measures under which only CNG, electric and BS VI-compliant vehicles from other states are allowed to enter Delhi, with exemptions granted to those involved in essential services.

Officials said the operation has been intensified with induction of additional troops.

Local residents said that a cordon-and-search operation has been going on in the area since Sunday to track down terrorists operating in the area.

"Due to the operation we were asked to stay back at home and not venture out. Our children stayed back at home and did not attend the school," a villager told PTI.

The firing is going on in the forest area close to the village, he said.

Officials said the two terrorists trapped at the encounter site in Bajimaal appeared to be foreign nationals and had been moving around in the area since Sunday. They even took shelter at a place of worship, they said.

The latest encounter in Rajouri comes close on the heels of another gunfight in Behrote in Budhal area on November 17, in which one terrorist was killed.

Two earlier ambushes in the Mendhar area of Poonch and Kandi forest of Rajouri on April 20 and May 5 respectively had claimed the lives of 10 soldiers.

According to officials, 46 deaths have been recorded in terrorism-related incidents in the twin border districts of Rajouri and Poonch and nearby Reasi district since January this year.

While 23 people, including seven terrorists and nine security personnel, were killed in Rajouri, 15 terrorists and five security personnel have been killed in Poonch district. Three terrorists were killed in Reasi district.

KPDCL Cracks

The KPDCL has accelerated the pace of night patrolling and inspections across all 10 districts of Kashmir Division to combat incidents of massive hooking and power theft by consumers that often result in outages and damage to distribution transformers, an official spokesperson said.

KPDCL, he said, also warned that legal action shall be taken against offenders who are found involved in rampant hooking and connecting electricity lines of their own.

"While incidents of hooking in metered areas on bare conductor has witnessed a steep rise over the last one month, consumption of energy by consumers in unmetered areas over and above their agreed load has also sharply grown, putting huge strain on the power curtailment schedule. In unmetered areas, the usage of power by consumers is three to four times their registered load, leading to frequent DT damages, low voltage condition thereby resulting in distress cuts," he said.

Giving more details, the spokesperson said that extensive inspection drives have been conducted by KPDCL in the first seven months of the current financial year.

"53,016 inspections have been conducted till October 31 this year, which includes 2370 by the Central Squad targeting high-end commercial and industrial consumers," he said, adding that a penalty of Rs.12.68 crore has been imposed for unauthorized power use in terms of Section 126 of the Electricity Act.

The spokesperson further stated that special teams have been constituted across all 6 Circles of KPDCL for late night inspections to book those resorting to illegal hooking and using crude heating gadgets including banned nichrome based, in a bid to reduce soaring energy demand in winter. "On a tip off through social media, inspection teams from Electric Division II, Srinagar, conducted surprise inspections in Ikhrajpora, KP Bagh and Sadaat Colony areas of ESD Chanapora and booked many offenders for illegal hooking. Fines in terms of Section 126 of the Electricity Act for unauthorised use of power have been imposed on such consumers," he said. The spokesperson also attributed damage to Distribution Transformers (DTs), LT AB cables and Distribution Boxes to illegal hooking by consumers and use of crude heating gadgets.

electricity scenario and it is expected to improve within a week only.

The Div Com further said that the peak power demand has risen to 1900 megawatts while the supply remains around 1000-1200 megawatts. Bidhuri also urged people to use electricity judiciously and avoid using crude gadgets.

in terms of Article 311 of the Constitution of India, they said

In the last three years, the Union Territory administration has invoked Article 311 (2)(c) of the Constitution to sack more than 50 employees, who were allegedly operating in shadows within the government and drawing a salary from the public exchequer, officials said.

However, they were helping Pakistani terror outfits, providing logistics to terrorists, propagating terrorists' ideology, raising terror finances and furthering secessionist agenda, they said.

The General Administration Department, in separate but almost identical dismissal orders, said the Lt Governor was satisfied with the action taken after considering the facts.

On the basis of the information available, the activities of the four employees are such as to warrant their dismissal from service. The Lt Governor is satisfied under subclause (c) of the proviso to clause (2) of Article 311 of the Constitution that in the interest of the security of the State, it is not expedient to hold an enquiry in the case of the employees, it said.

The officials said the dismissals were a part of the ongoing crackdown against the terrorist ecosystem and its key stakeholders who were surreptitiously inducted into the government machinery by previous regimes of different shades in the past.

The officials said Hassan, a self-styled president of Doctors' Association Kashmir (DAK) from Sopore in north Kashmir's Baramulla district, has been spearheading "secessionism brazenly and unabatedly" and had a "clear mission mandated from across and was instructed to orient the medical professionals in J&K, towards secession against India."

said Hassan, who has established himself as Thev survived in the trade for more than a decade, using his official position and connections.

Bhat was part of the syndicate which was receiving heroin consignments sent from Pakistan through Hizbul Mujahideen terrorist handler Shakir Khan to fund terror activities in the valley, the officials said.

Mir, also a resident of Kupwara, was a Pakistan-trained terrorist who was initially appointed to the education department in 1994 and was later promoted to a teacher in 2007, the officials said.

Dismissed Teacher

was appointed despite being a terrorist of the banned Hizbul Mujahideen and paid a salary while he was in jail, officials said.

Mir, who has been sacked under the provisions of Article 311 of the Constitution, is a resident of Kupwara in north Kashmir and had exfiltrated in 1990 and received arms training at ISI-operated camps before infiltrating back after a year.

He was a top commander of the Hizbul Mujahideen terror outfit before being arrested in 1991, the officials said.

He was arrested by security forces and remained under detention for two years to be subsequently released in 1993, they said, adding immediately after his release, Mir made good use of his affiliation and influence within the secessionist-terrorist ecosystem to get himself appointed as a Class-IV employee in the education department.

Jammu and Kashmir was under Governor's rule at that time.

Mir, a resident of north Kashmir's Kupwara district, was initially appointed to the education department in 1994 and was later promoted to the post of a teacher in 2007, a time when the PDP-Congress government was in power.

"Propriety and sanity would expect that after joining the government, Mir would refrain from indulging in anti-national activities. But he openly began preaching and practising secessionist ideology and emerged as the most active and remarkably senior functionary of secessionist organisation Tehreek-e-Hurriyat (TeH) led by hardline Hurriyat Conference leader Syed Ali Shah Geelani," the official said.

The charge sheet showed that Mir had gained promi-

Tuesday night, they said.

Qazigund, the gateway town to Kashmir, recorded a low of 1.0 degrees Celsius while Kupwara recorded a low of minus 1.4 degrees Celsius.

Gulmarg ski resort in north Kashmir and Kokernag in South Kashmir were the only places where the minimum settled above the freezing point on Tuesday night. Gulmarg recorded a minimum temperature of 0.6 degrees Celsius while Kokernag recorded 0.3 degrees Celsius, they said.

Announcement On Winter

Bhiduri said while it is easy for the administration to announce winter vacations, it also has to ensure that the students do not suffer academically.

"We have to balance both things. The academic session of schools is planned and we have to figure in several things, including board examinations. The way the weather has changed, the government is considering this issue (winter vacation). A formal announcement will be made in a day or two," he said.

The officials said schools are likely to be closed in a phased manner according to past practice.

"We may not close all the classes in one go. Maybe primary classes will be closed in the beginning, then middle level and later senior secondary classes. In all likelihood, the primary classes will continue only till the end of this week,' he said.

The minimum temperature in Kashmir valley has fallen significantly since Sunday night with the mercury in a freefall in Srinagar where the minimum temperature last night was minus 1.8 degrees Celsius, two degrees below normal for this time of the year.

Over the last three days, dense fog has been witnessed in the early morning when children go to school.

Asked if the government has directed educational institutions to make heating arrangements, Bhiduri said the schools have been sensitized about this need.

"We cannot issue general instructions as some schools have good heating arrangements and some don't. However, we have sensitised the schools about the issue,' he said.

Private Schools Association of Jammu and Kashmir has asked the government to consider announcing winter vacations for lower classes because of the cold wave conditions in the valley attended the meeting, a police spokesperson said.

The officers, he said, briefed the IGP on various aspects, including security challenges and measures taken.

Emphasizing the need for a robust security grid, he said, IGP Kashmir urged officers to enhance coordination among ground agencies.

"He stressed proactive measures to strengthen the anti-terrorist grid, generate specific intelligence and intensify operations for peace and stability in the district," the spokesperson said.

He further said that special attention was given to monitoring anti-national elements, particularly terrorist

He said that 64 DTs were damaged on Tuesday alone, a direct outcome of heavy loading of the electric transformers, over and above their approved capacity.

"While 64 DTs were reported damaged on November 21, 67 DTs were also repaired and replaced by the Central Workshop at Pampore and Workshops across all 19 Electric Divisions in Kashmir Valley," he added.

KPDCL assured the consumers that all DTs are serviced and maintained to provide smooth power supply, provided they are not overloaded due to power pilferage and illegal hooking.

The spokesman further assured the registered consumers of improvement in power situation if they use power judiciously as per agreed load, especially during peak time, in the mornings and evenings. "Cases of power theft increase in winter months, which leads to severe overloading of the distribution system at certain places, resulting in unscheduled power cuts". he said.

"In a bid to improve revenue realization, Circle I, Srinagar, disconnected 448 commercial and 147 industrial units on Tuesday for having failed to pay energy dues for the last three months amounting to Rs. 13.50 crore. The commercial and industrial units whose power connections were disconnected are situated in Sheikhbagh. Dalgate, Habbakadal, Nishat, Khunmoh in Electric Division I and Khanyar, Hawal, KK Moulla, Rainawari and Zakura in ED IV," he added.

The spokesperson further stated that KPDCL is targeting improvement in billing and collection efficiency to improve revenue realization and bringing down AT&C losses to the levels fixed by the Government under RDSS norms.

Power Scenario

in the Valley within a week.

"We are expecting an improvement in the power scenario as Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha and Chief Secretary have constituted a committee over the issue of power purchase and a decision in this regard is expected soon," Divisional Commissioner Kashmir, Vijay Kumar Bidhuri said Wednesday.

He said that the power schedule announced earlier by the Kashmir Power Development Corporation Limited (KPDCL) was not being adhered to as the demand has abruptly gone high due to the early onset of winter.

He added that the government is aware of the sufferings of people as the unscheduled power cuts are more painful, but the administration is focused on improving the staunch separatist and would consistently provide moral and background support to secessionists and terrorists, is a "potential time-bomb" who can be re-installed by Pakistan and its terrorist-secessionist network at any given point in time to cause wide-spread violence and disturbance against the sovereignty and territorial integrity of India.

Rather, a resident of south Kashmir's Kulgam has a long history of terror links who got his adopted daughter married to Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) commander Habibullah Malik alias Sajad Jutt of Kasoor area of Pakistan's Punjab.

Malik remained active in the valley for several years before fleeing to Pakistan in 2005, officials said.

Rather's real job was to recruit gullible youth for terrorist outfits Hizbul Mujahideen and LeT, and build a network of overground workers and logistic supporters, they said.

He was first inducted into the government system in 1990 as a daily wager and was subsequently regularised in 1998, they added.

Besides, several attacks on police and security forces, dozens of workers of mainstream political parties were killed by LeT terrorists under Malik's command, duly supported by Rather between 1998 and 2005, the officials said.

They said the investigation has also revealed that Rather gave shelter to Malik in his house. But when the noose tightened, Rather facilitated Malik's escape to Pakistan.

Malik not only spearheaded a wide terrorist network while being active in Kashmir but also continued to mastermind several attacks from across the border like the suicide attack on the Army in Hyderpora, Srinagar resulting in the deaths of eight personnel and Station House Officer of Chadoora Police Staton Shabir Ahmad in 2013

In cohorts with killed terrorist commander Abbas Sheikh of Kulgam, Malik established a terror outfit The Resistance Front' (TRF), as an offshoot of the LeT, which continues to pose a serious security challenge and is linked to dozens of innocent killings of Kashmir Pandits, non-local labourers and off-duty policemen, the officials said.

They said Malik has been sending money, weapons and contraband through drones and other means from Pakistan besides grooming and luring gullible youth to recruit them in terror ranks.

Being his close relative, Rather is the most important entity and confidante for Malik in Kashmir who continues to be in contact with him directly or indirectly through his daughter, the officials said.

Rather visited Pakistan on two occasions to meet Malik on February 5, 2016, and July 11, 2017, staying there for 18 days on the first visit and for 10 days during his second visit, they said.

The officials said constable Bhat was arrested last year following recovery of 1.8 kg of heroin and is presently under judicial custody for his involvement in narco-terror activities.

Bhat, a resident of the Kunan area of Kupwara district, was appointed as a special police officer in 2011 and was confirmed as a constable five years later even though he had studied only up to ninth standard, the officials said.

They said Bhat got involved in narcotic trafficking of an organised syndicate operating in Kupwara and successfully nence in Kupwara as a staunch supporter and sympathiser of the banned Jamaat-e-Islami (JeI).

"Being a Pakistan-trained terrorist and having a significant position in the secessionist camp, bestowed him with huge powers. Like many such other entities, his name would instil fear and awe in common people and local administration," an official said.

Continuing his secessionist and terrorist incitation, the officials said Mir played a major role in the 2008 Amarnath land row agitation and was openly propagating 'Jihad' against India and exhorting the youth to join terrorism.

A case under relevant sections of the law, including the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, was registered against him at Kupwara police station on November 13, 2009.

In this particular incident, he not only incited and provoked youth to join terrorist ranks but also hatched a criminal conspiracy with other secessionist elements to orchestrate large-scale violence in Kupwara.

On July 23, 2010, the officials said he instigated, incited and provoked an unruly mob to commit violence and leading the violent mob he made forcible entry in the police guard room at Kupwara district hospital and set the guard room on fire.

In this connection, another criminal case was registered against him and others in police station Kupwara, they said, adding for his incorrigible unlawful behaviour, he was finally detained under the provisions of the Public Safety Act (PSA) in 2010 and lodged in Central Jail Kot Balwal, Jammu for a period of six months.

"The strange and sad state of affairs is that despite being detained under PSA and arrested many times, no disciplinary action was taken against him by the department. He paradoxically was never marked absent despite being in jail for six months for one occasion and was shown on duty and paid full salary," the official said, adding this evidence shows the "influence and penetration of adversary" within the government system.

Not mending his ways, they said, Mir played a major role in the 2016 violent agitation that erupted after the killing of poster boy of Hizbul commander Burhan Wani and was at the forefront of mobilising mobs and instigating violence in Kupwara town

"The actions of Mir were at a huge cost to human lives and property. Many young people were killed and many more got injured due to his incitation. Public and private property worth scores of crores got destroyed," the charge sheet reasoned.

"It is not a hidden fact that thousands of unscrupulous people, having affiliation with the secessionist-terrorist ecosystem and even the Pakistan-trained terrorists were appointed in government services blatantly throwing all norms to the winds.

Mir was dismissed along with an assistant professor (medicine) at SMHS Hospital, Srinagar, Nisar-ul-Hassan, constable Abdul Majeed Bhat and laboratory bearer in the Higher Education Department Abdul Salam Rather in terms of Article 311 of the Constitution of India, they said.

India's Young T20 Stars Face Australia Test

Press Trust of India

VISAKHAPATNAM: Suryakumar Yadav will have to suppress the massive disappointment of a World Cup final defeat somewhere in the deeper confines of his heart while leading a sprightly bunch of 'Gen-Next' stars against a strong Australian side in a five-match T20 International series, starting here on Thursday.

The scars of defeat are too deep and it would take time for those wounds to heal. With just around 96 hours of turnaround time from World Cup to the next series, it hardly leaves 'SKY' with any chance of introspection as he gets ready to play his favourite format. As the captain of the side, he will not only want to win the series but also check out some of the best young Indian exponents of the shortest format, who will be on trial for next year's ICC T20 World Cup in June and July in the Americas (West Indies and USA).
