Pvt Schools In Kashmir Flout Norms Parents Allege Covert Charges, Forced Book Purchases

Syed Mohammad Burhan

Srinagar: In the midst of stringent directives from the Directorate of School Education Kashmir (DSEK) regarding the charging of admission fees by private schools alongside other grievances, allegations have surfaced from parents of students saying some private schools are flouting government norms.

Parents alleged that some schools charge money by minting money under 'miscellaneous' charges and allege that their children are forced to purchase additional books from prescribed book shops.

Pertinently, the Director of School Education Kashmir (DSEK) had instructed private schools to introduce additional books only with the consent of parents. These directives came about during a meeting organized by the Director

Including Evidence In Question Confuses ChatGPT, Lowers Its Accuracy, Study Finds

Press Trust Of India

sking ChatGPT a health-related question that included evidence was seen to confuse the AI-powered bot and affect its ability to produce accurate answers, according to new research. Scientists were "not sure" why this happens, but they hypothesised that including the evidence in the question "adds too much noise", thereby lowering the chatbot's accuracy.

They said that as large language models (LLMs) like ChatGPT explode in popularity, there is potential risk to the growing number of people using online tools for key health information. LLMs are trained on massive amounts of textual data and hence are capable of producing content in the natural language.

The researchers from the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO) and The University of Queensland (UQ), Australia, investigated a hypothetical scenario of an average person asking ChatGPT if 'X' treatment has a positive effect on condition 'Y'. They looked at two question formats - either just a question, or a question biased with supporting or contrary evidence.

The team presented 100 questions, which ranged from 'Can zinc help treat the common cold?' to 'Will drinking vinegar dissolve a stuck fish bone?'. ChatGPT's response was compared to the known correct response, or 'ground truth' that is based on existing medical knowledge.

The results revealed that while the chatbot produced answers with 80 per cent accuracy when asked in a question-only format, its accuracy fell to 63 per cent when given a prompt biased with evidence. Prompts are phrases or instructions given to a chatbot in natural language to trigger a response.

"We're not sure why this happens. But given this occurs whether the evidence given is correct or not, perhaps the evidence adds too much noise, thus lowering accuracy," said Bevan IRO Principa nan

The team said continued research on using LLMs to answer people's health-related questions is needed as people increasingly search information online through tools such as ChatGPT.

"The widespread popularity of using LLMs online for answers on people's health is why we need continued research to inform the public about risks and to help them optimise the accuracy of their answers," said Koopman.

"While LLMs have the potential to greatly improve the way people access information, we need more research to understand where they are effective and where they are not," said Koopman.

War Of A Different Kind Breaks Out On LoC

Observer News Service

AMAN POST, (LOC) -India and Pakistan for a change engaged in a different game other than cricket on Thursday when the passengers from both the parts of divided Kashmir crossed sides at the Aman Sethu (Peace Bridge) here.

Besides the 49 passengers from – 19 from India and 30 km Pakistani part of Kashmir- a large number of media persons gathered from across the globe, leaders of some political parties and of course the soldiers saw the two countries lock horns -in a poster and banner battle.

"Pakistan se rishta kya...la-ilaha-il-Allah" read a huge hoarding erected just across LoC "Mazhab nahin Sikahat Aapas Mein Bair Rakhna" countered a banner from India. Then there was one from j Pakistan which read. "We welcome our Kashmiri brethren". "Every Step on April 7 will strengthen the bonds between India and Pakistan," was the Indian reply.

However Pakistan gave | an edge over India in display of flags. While the tri-colour was not at all seen at the last Indian military outpost, the green and white dominated the entire area: across the border. Hundreds of Pakistani and 'Azad Kashmiri flags were seen on the other side.

The other count where Pakistanis seem to have scored over India was the errection of a signboard indicating direction and distance to various cities. While the Indian sign showed the distance to Srinagar, the Pakistani one indicated direction to Islamabad, Tehran and Makkah.

The Jammu and Kashmir government presented a momento to the passengers on board the "karvaane-aman (Caravan of Peace)" from India and also to those from Muzaffarabad. 'The wooden memento had carvings of two Kashmiris embracing each other. Bouquets were also presented to them. (Kashmir Observer, 09 April, 2005)

Alliances That Fragment Votes

he emergence of competing political alliances in Jammu and Kashmir threatens to exacerbate an already fractured electoral scenario. The envisioned coalition spearheaded by the Democratic Progressive Azad Party (DPAP), Apni Party (JKAP), and People's Conference (JKPC) adds yet another layer of complexity to an already intricate web of political alliances and rivalries in the union territories.

While the formation of alliances may ostensibly aim to provide an alternative to entrenched political players, the reality is that such alliances risk fragmenting the vote further in the Kashmir Valley. This fragmentation could potentially undermine the democratic process and inadvertently benefit parties with narrower interests. Besides, the competing alliances threaten to dilute the strength of opposition voices and pave the way for electoral outcomes that do not necessarily reflect the will of the people. With analysts widely predicting that these alliances are unlikely to secure any seats outright, their presence in the electoral arena could ultimately lead to undesirable outcomes for the people of Kashmir, on whose behalf they are professing to fight.

At a time when Jammu and Kashmir is grappling with numerous challenges, including political instability, and economic underdevelopment, what is needed is a concerted effort to prioritize the interests of the people above narrow partisan interests. Instead of perpetuating the cycle of fragmented politics, political actors should focus on building consensus and forging meaningful alliances that address the disenchantment in the region.

It is imperative for political actors in Jammu and Kashmir to adopt a more pragmatic and inclusive approach to electoral politics. Rather than pursuing shortterm gains at the expense of long-term stability, they should prioritize dialogue and cooperation in order to address the multifaceted challenges facing the region.

The advent of competing alliances in the Kashmir Valley is therefore a cause for concern, as it threatens to deepen existing divisions and undermine the prospects for meaningful political change.

In the larger context of Indian politics, the formation of this alliance assumes significance as it reflects the growing trend of pre-poll alliances across the country. With political parties increasingly recognizing the strategic imperative of forging alliances to maximize electoral gains, the Jammu and Kashmir alliance typifies this trend, albeit in a region characterized by unique socio-political realities.

As the Lok Sabha elections draw nearer, the political maneuvering in Jammu and Kashmir is becoming increasingly complex. With multiple parties vying for supremacy and alliances redefining political equations, the stage is set for a keenly contested electoral battle. And its outcome will determine to a large extent the future political course for Kashmir.

Why Wildlife Conservation in India is Important, Now More Than Ever

Mohammad Hanief

Excessive exploitation of plant and animal resources by human beings has disturbed the ecosystem thoroughly. About 1,300 plant species are endangered and about 20 species are extinct. Many species are endangered and some have even become extinct. There has been a depletion of wildlife and forests in India as well life species like lions, crocodiles, rhinoceros present in the forest. They usually get hunted for their skins, nails, horns and meat. Skins are used for manufacturing clothes, ropes and many useful items. Human beings kill these animals only to fulfil their needs, which are unnecessary and can be fulfilled by other alternatives. So, preventing wildlife species from uneven poaching and killing is wildlife conservation. It is the distinctive approach for protecting the wildlife on Earth and their habitat so that their future generations can exist without any fear.

Wildlife refers to those organisms that live in forests and remain unfamiliar with the interaction of humans. In simple words, wildlife refers to undomesticated animal species that live away from humans in their habitat. Animals who live in a wild environment can be called wild animals, which are also referred to as "wildlife" in the modern world. Some of its examples include: Fox, Eagles, Bull, Bear, Crocodile, fox, wild sheep, wild cat, mountain goat, gazelle and so forth. Deserts, forests, rainforests, plains, and grasslands are some places where wildlife is found.

Wildlife Conservation can be defined as preventing wildlife from uneven killing and poaching. It also involves the practice of making people aware by telling them about the importance of wildlife.

Wildlife Conservation is very important to maintain the food chain and ecosystem balance. If all the tigers get hunted for skins, then the count of deers increases drastically. Along with this, if humans kill all the hens for meat, then there would be no source of eggs. So, Wildlife conservation is necessary to maintain the population of animals on Earth to maintain their role in the ecosystem and food chain.

On Earth, all living beings are interconnected to each other. Whether a lion or a human, every organism plays a significant role in the ecosystem. Wildlife conser-

National Park, Sepilok Orangutan Sanctuary etc. The governments of many countries have implemented strict norms to promote wildlife conservation. The life of human beings without wildlife is impossible on Earth and therefore, wildlife conservation is very significant.

The landmass of India is home to a wide variety of flora and fauna. A wide range of birds and animals live in the diverse terrain of the country. From Royal Bengal Tigers to Asiatic Elephants, India is home to a huge variety of animals in its 89 National Parks, 18 Bio-Reserves, and more than 400 wildlife sanctuaries.

The forests of India are home to approximately 500 mammal species and over 2000 bird species. India, like its flora, is a good habitat for Fauna, the collective animal lives. A wide range of animal products is used to benefit our health. More than 90000 animal species can be found in India. This country has approximately 2000 bird species that are classified as Avifauna. They constitute 13% of the global population. There are approximately 2546 fish species present, accounting for nearly 12% of the global stock. It belongs to the Pisci Fauna family. India also has a small percentage of the world's amphibians, reptiles, and mammals, ranging from 5% to 8%

North India is rich in wildlife and provides a stunning image of Indian wildlife. North India's vegetation is primarily deciduous and coniferous, and it is home to a dilished by the government that protects large areas of natural habitats.

These areas provide buffer zones that are open for some economic uses and not only for flora and fauna but humans who inhabit the areas too. There are 3 important zones of the biosphere which include the Core, Buffer, and Manipulation. Some important biosphere reserves are the Nilgiri Biosphere Reserve, Sundarbans Biosphere Reserve, Gulf of Mannar Biosphere Reserve, Nanda Devi Biosphere Reserve, and so forth.

Endangered species refer to the type of organism that is being threatened by extinction. Internationally, the IUCN Red List of Threatened Species is one of the most well-recognized catalogs for threatened species.

Generally, the criteria for endangered species include a significant reduction in population size of a large percentage over recent years, with a continuing decline; along with a severe shrinkage in geographic range.

A wildlife sanctuary is an area where animal habitats and their surroundings are protected from any sort of disturbances like capturing, killing, and poaching of animals is strictly prohibited in these areas.

They aim for providing a comfortable living to the animals. India has some beautiful wildlife sanctuaries with dense forests, large rivers, and mountains. A few important wildlife sanctuaries in India n 2013-14, the year before the Narendra Modi government came to power, India was the world's 10th largest economy. At the end of its second term, the country's ranking has improved to fifth, behind the US, China, Japan and Germany. The Prime Minister has "guaranteed" it would further go up to third, should he get a third term.

A closer scrutiny, however, shows that the progress from No 10 to No 5 came on the back of an average annual GDP growth of 5.9 per cent between 2014-15 and 2023-24, below even the 6.8 per cent during the 10 years of the previous Congress-led dispensation. Given India's present GDP of about $3.5 trillion (as against Germany's $4.4 trillion and Japan's $4.2 trillion), it needs to grow by hardly 6 per cent annually (and the latter two at their current sub-2 per cent rates) for emerging as the world's No 3 by 2028.

d's No 3 sounds good; it adds to the neft and ability to exert influence at care. But from a developmental perspective, what matters really is not the aggregate size of the economy as much as its population's general standard of living. That, in turn, is reflected by the per capita GDP. At just over $2,500, it's way below China's $13,000.

Considering that, in 1990, India's per capita GDP of $369 was actually higher than China's $348, it only shows how much distance the latter has traveled over the last three decades. If the current and the coming two decades are to be India's decades, the least it must do is target a quadrupling of the per capita GDP to $10,000 in today's prices.

This is consistent with the Modi government's own vision of a Viksit Bharat or "developed India" by 2047. Going by the World Bank's definition, India is now a "lower-middle income" and China an "upper-middle income" country, with the threshold for "high income" — roughly corresponding to "developed" — at $13,845. China is, in fact, almost there.

Quadrupling an average Indian's income in real terms by 2047 is an aspirational target most would more easily relate to, than a $30-trillion GDP. When Prime Minister Modi, in February 2016, gave a call for "doubling farmers' income by 2022", it led to more focused policy-making from all concerned departments towards achieving the stated goal. A similar target, to raise the standard of living of ordinary Indians, would be worth aiming for — more so when evidence points to headline poverty rates under successive governments coming down significantly. Per capita GDP targets, both near and far term, would be good gauges for policymakers seeking to move beyond eliminating poverty.

The Indian Express

dangered animals like giant pandas, tigers, whooping cranes, Asian elephants and so forth live in these wildlife sanctuaries. Here, they can enjoy their habitat and can breed easily.

Wildlife conservation is essential to maintain the balance of the ecosystem. It is necessary to protect the rare and extinct species of animals. In India and around the world, there are different wildlife sanctuaries to protect and preserve some distinctively rare animals like Kaziranga National Park, Jim Corbett Himalayas, and the Indo-Burma region are three of the 34 richest biodiversity spots in the world. According to a study conducted, India is one of the 17 countries that host about 60 to 70 percent of the world's biodiversity.

Biosphere reserves are protected areas that are meant for the conservation of plants and animals. They also help to restore the traditional life of the tribals living in close vicinity. There are 18 Biosphere Reserves in India estabuse of reckless cutting of trees to bring land under cultivation and habitation are also responsible for the imbalances which are caused in the ecosystem.

Srinagar's Tulips Delight

In the heart of Srinagar lies a celebration of nature's finest artistry. As the winter chill fades away and the sun starts to shine brighter, the Kashmir Valley comes to life with the vibrant colours of the Tulip Garden Festival. The iconic annual festival, which is being held in Kashmir now, carries profound cultural significance. The festival serves as a testament to the region's rich heritage and vibrant arts scene. Every year, the majestic festival draws a huge attraction as it offers a breath of fresh air to the war-torn region. And this year, the festival is even more enchanting, with new features and an expanded garden area. There are hundreds of thousands of flower bulbs planted across swathes of prime floral estate. In fact, the London-based World Book of Records has included the garden in its pages for a record of 1.2 million bulbs bloomed in 2018. It has also been judged among the top five tulip gardens of the world by the World Tulip Summit Society in Canada. Indeed the promising petals of tulip flowers bloom in Kashmir around this time every year against the snow-capped mountains lure the localites and tourists back to a land torn by years of separatist violence.

Farewell to Ramazan

The days that have passed are gone forever, irretrievably lost to man

Mohd Amin Mir

66By time! Verily man is in loss. Except such as have faith, and do righteous deeds and (join together) it is mutual enjoining of truth and of patience and consultancy" (Quran 103:1-3).

How so true are the words of Allah! It seems almost unbelievable that we welcomed the blessed month of Ramazan only a few weeks ago. And again here we are; getting ready to bid goodbye to the month of glory.

These days that have passed are gone forever, irretrievably lost to man and they will only be called forth to be accounted for on the day of Judgement. Truly, anyone that has not used this month of fast to earn the mercy of Allah is in total loss and IS a sure loser! Man is also a loser if he has abstained from food, drink, and sex during the daylight of this month but still has not benefited from the discipline, piety and spirituality of Ramadan.

Only that person has gained who has used the month to constantly remember Allah and "do righteous deeds and (join together) in the mutual enjoining of truth and of patience and constancy"(Q103:3). Now is the time to ask ourselves which of the three categories we belong to: are you a sure loser, a kaffir (unbeliever) who has refused to obey Allah and fast in this glorious month? Or are you a loser still, the one who has observed the fast as a cultural habit without its lessons or are you the winner - the muttaqi (the pious) who has observed the fast with true iman (faith) and insha Allah gets the full reward from Allah? It is an annual ritual;

Ur conduct between now and the next Ramadan will be a critical indicator of where we are. If our self-restraint and consciousness (taqwa) ends with Ramazan or there is a significant drop with our piety indicator; then the whole of this blessed month would have been wasted still we must ask again: where are we? Our conduct between now and the next Ramazan will be a critical indicator of where we are. If we our self-restraint and consciousness (taqwa) ends with Ramazan or there is a significant drop e with our piety indicator; then the whole of this blessed month would have been wasted. If however, fasting and the taqwa and constant remembrance of Allah that comes with it becomes a way of our lives, then we belong to the class of the muttaqun on whom there is neither fear nor grief.

Again, where are we? All praise is due to Allah at the end as in the beginning. May His blessings continue to abide on the best of mankind and the last of His Messengers, Muhammad (peace be upon him) and all those who follow him till the end of time. (Amin). May Allah accept our fast as an act of ibaadah and admit us into His Jannah (Paradise).

FAREWELL MOMENTS OF RAMAZAN

As the month of great mercies draws to a close, as the faithful engage in final acts of Ramadan devotions, as believers anticipate divine acceptance and as Muslims across the world prepare for the coming Eid celebrations, let us bid farewell to the blessed month of Ramadan with the exhortations from Ibn Rajab al-Hanbali:

Servants of God! The month of Ramazan has resolved to leave, and only a little of it now remains. Those among you who have done well in it, let them see it through till its end. Those who have fallen short, let them finish it with goodly actions. Enjoy the remaining few days and nights that are left of it. Bid it farewell with righteous deeds that will testify in your favour before the All-Knowing King. See it off by parting with it with the purist greeting of peace.

O month of Ramazan, be gentle! The tears of the lovers are streaming down at your departure and their hearts torn asunder at the pain of separation. Perhaps standing to bid you farewell may quench the flames of yearning that burn within. Perhaps a few moments of repentance and abstinence may mend of the fast all that has pierced it. Perhaps one cut-off from the caravan (of fasters) may find divine acceptance along with them. Perhaps one who was deserving of the Fire will be set free.

1. Perform ghusl

Perform the ritual bath before going for Eid prayer. Maintaining cleanliness is not just important for health and hygiene purposes. When we make sincere intention to perform ghusl for the sake of Allah (SWT), it also helps purify our hearts and cleanse our souls.

Abu Malik at-Ash'ari reported:

The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said: Cleanliness is half of faith. (Muslim)

2. Wear your best clothes for the Eid prayer

Eid-al-Fitr is a very special gift from Allah (SWT) after a month of fasting and worship and we can show our gratitude for receiving such a wonderful gift by wearing our best clothes which are clean and modest. Contrary to popular belief, they don't have to be brand new!

Imam an-Nasafi says in Kanz ad-Daqa'iq: "The Sunnah is to wear one's best clothes on Eid."

3. Eat breakfast before the Eid prayer

It is sunnah to eat something, even if it is just dates, before leaving for Eid prayer as it signals the end of fasting and a day of rejoicing. Narrated Anas bin Malik:

"Allah's Messenger (☞) never proceeded (for the prayer) on the Day of Eid-ul-Fitr unless he had eaten some dates." Anas also narrated: "The Prophet (☞) used to eat odd number of dates." (Bukhari)

4. Take two different routes going to and from the Eid prayer

Narrated Jabir (RA): "On an 'Eid day, Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) would return by a different road from the one he had taken when going out (for the 'Eid prayer.)." (Bukhari) There is great reward for every step taken when returning from the prayer as well as when coming to it.

Abu Huraira reported: "The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said, "He who purified himself in his house, and then he walked to one of the houses of Allah for the sake of performing a Fard (obligatory act) out of the Fara'id (obligatory acts) of Allah, both his steps (would be significant) as one of them would obliterate his sin and

5. Recite the Takbeerat

status." (Muslim)

It is recommended to recite the Eid Takbeer from the night of Eid up until the Imam comes forward for the Eid prayer. On the way to the masjid, takbeerat should be recited softly.

The Eid Takbeer is:

Allahu Akbar, Allahu Akbar. La Ilaaha Illallahu Wallahu Akbar, Allahu Akbar wa Lillahil Hamd "Allah is Most Great, Allah is Most Great, Allah is most Great there is no god but Allah, Allah is Most Great, Allah is Most Great, and to Allah be praise."

6. Congratulate each other and give Eid greetings

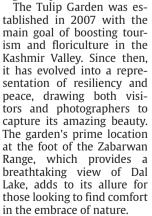

Spread the joy of Eid and greet everyone by shaking hands and embracing fellow Muslims after Eid salah. You can also sprinkle a dose of generosity by passing out candy for children at the mosque and giving gifts to family and friends.

It was narrated by Jubayr ibn Nufayr (ra), that the Sahabah (ra) used to greet each other on the day of Eid with: 'Taqabbal Allaahu Minnaa Wa Minka', which means 'May Allah accept (the fast and worship) from us and from you'. (Fathul-Bari)

May this day be a source of blessings and peace for us all and May Allah (SWT) grant us a blessed Ramadan and a joyous Eid!

Stretching across an impressive 80 acres, the Tulip Garden, also called the Indira Gandhi Memorial Tulip Garden, is the largest tulip garden in Asia. It is located in Srinagar, Jammu & Kashmir, India. This floral wonderland, bursting with over 1.5 million tulips in a kaleidoscope of colors, is a sight to behold and attracts tourists from far and wide to see its captivating beauty.

Approximately 1.7 million colored tulip bulbs were originally imported from Amsterdam's Keukenhof tulip gardens. Roughly 73 different types of tulips can be found in the garden today. In addition to tulips, there are 46 other flower varieties that were imported from Holland, such as daffodils, ranunculus, and hyacinths.

Agenceis sudden atmospheric warming event barrier between the frigid air near the course can be attributed to some-Impact on people and weather

n a startling turn of events, the Arctic's polar vortex, a colossal ring of frigid air that encircles the North Pole, recently veered off its usual course, spinning in the opposite direction. This extraordinary occurrence, which transpired around March 4, stands as one of the six most robust reversals witnessed since 1979. The responsible for this unconventional shift has set off a remarkable "ozone spike" and has the potential to impact global weather patterns.

The polar vortex, a vast area of low pressure found in the polar regions, maintains a year-round presence, entrapping cold air within its counterclockwise flow. It is sustained by a powerful jet stream, working as a poles and the warmer air in lower latitudes. The stratospheric polar vortex, characterized by its freezing cold air, forms high in the atmosphere near the North Pole, with winds reaching speeds of approximately 249.45 kilometer per hour – comparable to the minimum wind speed for a Category 5 hurricane.

The reversal of the polar vortex's thing known as "Sudden Stratospheric Warming events," which caused an influx of ozone from lower latitudes around the Arctic, leading to the unexpected change in direction. Atmospheric planetary waves breaking in the polar stratosphere increased its temperature, resulting in the reported "ozone spike" – the largest ob-served in March since 1979.

The recent reversal of the Earth's polar vortex, a rare and perplexing phenomenon, has raised questions about its potential impact on global weather patterns.

When the polar vortex weakens or experiences disruption, the cold air it contains can seep into lower latitudes. leading to significant weather events. While the primary danger to humans lies in the severity of plummeting temperatures when the polar vortex expands, sending Arctic air southward into regions unaccustomed to such extreme cold, its effects are felt far beyond the polar regions. Portions of Europe and Asia have also experienced cold surges linked to the polar vortex, and disruptions to its usual behavior can trigger extremely cold weather and storms across large areas.

Adding to the political fervor, Prime Minister Narendra Modi is scheduled to address a rally in Udhampur on April 12. State party president Ravindra Raina told reporters that there is an expected turnout of over two lakh attendees for the Prime Minister's rally. Acknowledging the logistical challenges posed by such a large gathering, meticulous planning is underway to address essential amenities such as water supply, restroom facilities, and parking arrangements.

Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) had earlier unveiled an extensive campaign strategy, enlisting the support of 40 leaders, including prominent national figures and local stalwarts.

Among the high-profile leaders slated to participate in the campaign were Prime Minister Narendra Modi, BJP National President Jagat Prakash Nadda, Defense Minister Rajnath Singh, and Home Minister Amit Shah. Additionally, the lineup includes other notable personalities such as National Highways Minister Nitin Gadkari, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, and Minister Anurag Thakur, among others. The BJP's campaign roster featured a mix of seasoned politicians and emerging leaders, aiming to resonate with diverse segments of the electorate. Notable inclusions are Jairam Thakur, Sunil Jakhar, Smriti Irani, Bhajan Lal Sharma, Pushkar Singh Dhami, and Tarun Chugh, among others, highlighting the party's concerted effort to leverage both national and local appeal—(KNO) president Omar Abdullah said the Congress would contest Udhampur, Jammu and Ladakh Lok Sabha seats while the National Conference would field candidates in Anantnag, Srinagar and Baramulla.

The announcement comes a day after Mehbooba Mufti's Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) president named her party's candidates for three seats of the Kashmir Valley, signalling a breakdown of seat-sharing talks with the INDIA bloc partners.

Asked about seat-sharing talks not succeeding with the PDP, the Congress' national alliance committee member Khurshid said the Mehbooba Mufti-led party is very much part of the INDIA loc but seat-sharing with it could not be worked out. Abdullah said, "I want to formally announce that the National Conference and Congress will jointly contest the elections in Jammu and Kashmir, and Ladakh with the two parties fielding candidates on three seats each." "The National Conference will support Congress candidates in Udhampur, Jammu and Ladakh seats. The INDIA bloc will contest the polls to help fulfil the aspirations of people of Jammu and Kashmir, and Ladakh and truly represent them in Parliament," he said. Responding to a query about the PDP, Khurshid said, "The PDP is in our alliance. Seat adjustment is one part of the alliance and an overall alliance is a different issue. Since Jammu and Kashmir is small in area, there is not much scope for seat adjustment despite our best efforts." "The National Conference already has three Lok Sabha MPs and we have decided to give them a chance," he said. On whether the Congress-NC alliance would be there for the assembly polls also, Abdullah said their focus right now was on succeeding in the Lok Sabha polls. He said holding assembly polls has been virtually decided with the remarks of the Chief Election Commissioner and that of Union Home Minister Amit Shah that the poll process would be completed before the Supreme Court-mandated date of September 30. Abdullah also took a swipe at DPAP president Ghulam Nabi Azad, saying he was directly helping the BJP. He also wondered why Azad, who hails from Doda, was contesting from Anantnag. On claims that Azad has said that he has not decided on where he would contest, Abdullah said his remarks would appear to be "dishonest" as his party has made announcements about the seats. "If he is not contesting, it would suggest that the BJP has calculated that him contesting from (Anantnag) would be detrimental to their chances," Abdullah said. "Either way, it is shaping up to be an interesting election and the BJP is pulling out all the stops in Kashmir to bring various parties on a single platform. The visuals of the BJP general secretary Tarun Chugh coming out of Altaf Bukhari's residence in Srinagar make it obvious what the BJP and its allies are going to do there. Our interest as allies is that the BJP's plans fail entirely in all six seats," the former Jammu and Kashmir chief minister said.

He exuded confidence that the situation was in the favour of the INDIA bloc in Jammu and Kashmir, and Ladakh and the opposition alliance would win all six seats.

Abdullah also dismissed Prime Minister Modi's claim of the BJP winning 370 seats and NDA 400 in the Lok Sabha polls, saying it shows that he is "rattled".

The PDP has named candidates for three seats in Kashmir, fielding Mehbooba Mufti against Ghulam Nabi Azad in Anantnag. The Congress has named Lal Singh as its candidate from Udhampur to take on Union Minister Jitendra Singh.

otherwise, they are already dividing the nation in their own way," Abdullah said.

Modi had earlier attacked the Congress, charging that its poll manifesto bore the imprint of the Muslim League and utterances of its leaders showed hostility towards national integrity and Sanatan Dharma.

The National Conference and the Congress are members of the opposition INDIA bloc, formed to take on the BJP in the Lok Sabha elections.

Abdullah also said the people of Jammu and Kashmir know what his party stands for after People's Democratic Party chief Mehbooba Mufti targeted the National Conference.

"She can say what she likes to say. People know what we stand for and, bevond that. I don't need to express anything," he added.

On the other hand, some parents object to the additional books, citing their high cost and the extra strain they place on students' budgets.

"We are being forced to purchase additional books from a designated bookstore. This is sheer loot in the name of education!" fumed the mother of a child studying at a private school in Mehjoor Nagar.

However, War said that any malpractice by schools in this regard should be dealt with strictly, underlining the importance of maintaining integrity within the education system. Director of School Education Kashmir, Tasaduq Hussain Mir on Monday promised action against erring schools saying that malpractices won't be allowed at any cost.

Mir said that Annual & capitation fees being charged by some private schools is not prescribed by the Committee for Fixation & Regulation of Fee of Private schools (FFRC) and is therefore banned.

He further said that the FFRC itself is also initiating action in this regard. Mir said that the DSEK has established district level committees in this regard and if any parent has any complaint, he or she should file a written complaint so that we can initiate action against the school.

"If no action is initiated there they should directly approach the director-ate of school education," Mir clarified. On the issue of additional books, Mir said that children in their tender age should not be burdened with additional books.

"Schools are open to teach robotics, computers and artificial intelligence but in labs and prescribing books using these subjects as an excuse won't be allowed. We will not allow things that will harm the mental health of small children," Mir warned schools.

Regarding the unavailability of Board-prescribed books, Mir assured that while most books are accessible, a few may have missing content or are in transit, with expected arrival in a few days

The directorate however, notified the general public that no minutes of meeting in this regard have been issued by DSEK so far.

"Some self-styled organisations are issuing minutes of meeting at their own level misleading the general public which may never be construed as facts and such acts are strongly refuted." DSEK said.

Stating some other important decisions that were taken in the meeting, DSEK said that no admission or any capitation fee shall be charged other than prescribed by the Fee Fixation Committee.

"The students shall not be overburdened by additional books or additional content other than books prescribed by the government," reads the official communique. DSEK further said that bus fees

He said that Priyanka Gandhi has commitments at many places and every state unit is trying to get her services during these elections. "We are also working on it and hope to get a green signal from her," he added.

Besides, Priyanka Gandhi, another star campaigner of the party and former Bollywood actor Raj Babbar will be joining the campaign in Udhampur on April 13.

"Yes, Raj Babbar will be coming to Udhampur on April 13 and he along with other PCC leaders will be ad-dressing the rally," Vikar Rasool Wani confirmed.

The contest on Udhampur-Doda Parliamentary seat has become tough as both the national parties are trying hard to win this seat. The incumbent Member Parliament and MoS in Prime Minister's Office Dr. Jitendra Singh is visiting each and every area to seek votes and he has also been able to get services of PM Modi and UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath.

On the other hand Congress party candidate Choudhary Lal Singh is also reaching out to the people in ev-ery nook and corner of the constituency and if Priyanka Gandhi agrees to come, it will further boost his chances of winning it–(KNO)

Eid is the time of festivities and preparations like shopping for new clothes and food items are an important part of the celebrations.

However, markets in Downtown -- the interior areas of Srinagar -- witnessed sluggish sales due to the ongoing construction works under the Srinagar Smart City Project.

Eid-ul Fitr will be celebrated either on Wednesday or Thursday depending on the sighting of the crescent on Tuesday.

tifying the fraternal relations between the two brotherly nations and exploring avenues for enhanced collaboration across various sectors, according to the joint statement.

They also discussed regional issues, including Kashmir, which was mentioned in the statement.

"The two sides stressed the importance of dialogue between Pakistan and India to resolve the outstanding issues between the two countries, especially the Jammu and Kashmir dispute to ensure peace and stability in the region," it read.

New Delhi's long-held position has been that Kashmir is a bilateral issue between India and Pakistan and there is no question of any mediation or intervention by any third party.

The ties between the two countries nosedived after India abrogated Article 370 of the Constitution, revoking the special status of Jammu and Kashmir and bifurcating the State into two Union Territories on August 5, 2019.

India's decision evoked strong reactions from Pakistan, which downgraded diplomatic ties and expelled the Indian envoy. India has repeatedly told Pakistan that Jammu and Kashmir "was, is and shall forever" remain an integral part of the country.

India has said it desires normal neighbourly relations with Pakistan in an environment free of terror, hostility and violence.

The joint statement also said that emphasis was placed on the Gulf Kingdom's supportive role in Pakistan's economy and the mutual desire to strengthen trade and investment ties.

"Both parties affirmed their commitment to expediting the first wave of investment package worth $ 5 billion which was discussed previously," it read.

The two leaders also exchanged views on regional and global developments of mutual interest, including the worrying situation in Gaza and urged for international efforts to halt Israeli military operations in Gaza and mitigate humanitarian impact.

rican apples now entering Indian markets, the prices of Kashmiri apples have seen a further decline, resulting in significant losses for buyers and growers.

Efforts by the South African government to expand its market share in India have received a boost with a new agreement between India and South Africa, allowing in-transit sterilisation of South African apples and pears. This has enabled South African fruit to reach retail markets across the country more quickly, maintaining their freshness.

Growers and buyers expressed their dismay over the current situation. They said there has been a drastic decrease in apple prices compared to rates during the main apple season in October-November 2023.

"The increasing presence of South African apples in retail SRINAGAR: With South Af- supermarkets and e-commerce platforms across the country has further reduced

However, rates have tries, including Africa. They further plummeted, leading to said that buyers who had purchased apples at higher rates last autumn are now receiving less than half of the price, while also incurring additional expenses of around Rs 300 per box for cold storage.

Despite bringing the issue of apple imports to the attention of authorities, growers said no tangible action has been taken to address their concerns.

Bashir Ahmad Basheer, chairman of the Kashmir Valley Fruit Growers Cum Dealers Union, expressed concern over the losses faced by buyers due to reduced demand compared to the previous year.

"Rates have further declined in recent weeks due to the surge in South African apple imports, which has led to over 40 percent losses for growers," he said.

GI Tag Reunites Artisans With Handicrafts In Kashmir; Production, Exports Surge

SRINAGAR: Forty-four-year-old Mohammad Saleem had given up his profession as a shawl weaver a decade before. He got associated with other trades, which didn't give him enough money and satisfaction.

Come 2023, Jammu and Kashmir Pashmina along with other handicrafts got Geographic Indication (GI) Tag, which brought back the value of this prized craft of Kashmir.

Cashing in on the GI tag, Saleem has reunited with his craft and has now started weaving the shawls again.

"Few years back, there was no value in this craft at all. Artisans and weavers used to get very low income which forced many like me to look for other avenues. Now when the government approved the GI tag for Pashmina, it has brought back the value of this craft. Now we get good money as well as recognition," he said.

Saleem is not an isolated case as many artisans have reconnected with the handicrafts in the valley after the government approved GI tag for many crafts.

PDP Became Biggest Target After Art 370 Abrogation: Mehbooba

Press Trust Of India

ANANTNAG: In a veiled attack on the Centre, Peoples Democratic Party (PDP) president Mehbooba Mufti on Monday alleged her party became the "biggest target" after the abrogation of Article 370 in 2019 and its leaders were either "lured or blackmailed" to break away from it.

Mehbooba, who is contesting the upcoming Lok Sabha polls from Anantnag-Rajouri seat, was speaking to reporters after visiting the grave of her father and PDP founder Mufti Mohammad Sayeed in Bijbehara here. "After 2019, the PDP became the biggest target. The party was broken and our leaders were either lured or blackmailed to break away from the party. I tried to raise my voice against their oppression after 2019 and me and my family members have faced many difficulties due to that, but I stood my ground," the PDP chief said without naming anyone.

'They think that if my voice reaches the Parliament, they might face problems," she said.

The real situation in Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh will come to light and those who claim that everything is normal in Jammu and Kashmir will be exposed. That is why they want to keep me out of the Parliament, she added.

"My people are my hope...

the people of Pir Panjal, where I went to every village and every area when people were in misery.

"I have tried at my level. I am not a powerful person but I raised my voice against oppression. Our tribal population, Gujjars, Bakerwals and Paharis faced oppression because it seemed there was no one to hear them out. The people of J&K, especially my own people, will respect what I have done and make my voice stronger," Mehbooba said.

Asked about the competition for Anantnag-Rajouri seat, where polling will be held on May 7, the PDP leader said everyone can compete in a democracy and you cannot stop anyone.

Mehbooba is pitted against National Conference's Mian Altaf, Democratic Progressive Azad Party chairman Ghulam Nabi Azad and Apni Party's Zafar Iqbal Manhas.

Kashmir Witnesses 30% Drop In Mutton Sales This Ramadan

SRINAGAR: This Ramadan, Kashmir experienced a significant decline of approximately 30 percent in mutton sales, with around Rs 3 crore worth of sheep being consumed daily during the holy month so far. Mehraj ud Din, General Secretary of the Mutton Dealers Association, said that nearly 15 to 20 trucks of sheep have been arriving in Kashmir on a regular basis this year, compared to 30-

28 days, he said.

Din said the decrease in sales is due to various factors, including the offseason for mutton sales and the challenges posed by road closures during the winter season. Despite these challenges, Kashmir has incurred losses amounting to crores of rupees, with sales plummeting by nearly 30 percent, he said

"This year, the daily sale of mutton in Kashmir is estimated to be around Rs 3 crore, with mutton being sold at Rs 700 per kilogram." Mehrai said, adding

Famous Springs In Tral On Verge Of Extinction

Locals Demand Govt Intervention

Agencies

PULWAMA: Several renowned springs in Tral town and its adjacent areas in south Kashmir's Pulwama district are facing a dire threat to their existence due to official neglect, raising concerns among residents.

According to the residents, the springs in Tral town and its surrounding areas are on the brink of extinction due to both public apathy and governmental indifference. They lamented that people have been discarding waste, including polythene and diapers, into these water bodies, posing a severe threat to their survival.

The Batnag Spring, once renowned for its fresh water and utilized by the entire area for drinking and irrigation purposes, has witnessed significant pollution over the last two decades.

Residents said they heavily relied on this spring for clean drinking water, but without immediate intervention, its preservation seems unlikely. Ishfaq Ahmad, a local, expressed concern over the neglect of these springs. "These springs were once known for their pristine water and abundant fish population. However, pollution has led to a drastic decline in their numbers, with authorities failing to take appropriate action," he said.

Locals criticised the Municipal Committee Tral for generating substantial revenue but failing to implement effective measures for the preservation of these springs, located in the heart of the town and its surroundings. "Without immediate intervention, these water bodies could disappear entirely," they warned. We have several times informed officials to take immediate steps for the preservation of this spring. We even assured our cooperation; however, they failed to take any action." said a local. Residents have urged higher authorities to intervene urgently and implement measures for the preservation of these immediate steps for the preservation of these bodies. (KNO)

Don't Vote For NC If Satisfied With Art 370 Abrogation: Dr Farooq

Press Trust Of India

SRINAGAR: National Conference president Farooq Abdullah on Monday told the voters of Jammu and Kashmir not to vote for the party if they are satisfied with the decision of the abrogation of Article 370.

He also appealed to the people of the Union Territory to defeat the BJP and its "B" and "C" teams to send a message across to Delhi.

Abdullah chaired a meeting with constituency in-charges of the North Kashmir parliamentary seat at NC headquarters Nawa-i-Subah here, a party statement said.

The discussions encompassed crucial matters concerning the region's issues and organisational affairs with key emphasis on strengthening the party for the parliamentary elections.

Emphasising on defeating the BJP and its "B" and "C" teams, he said time and again these parties have proved that they hold a tacit understanding with the BJP.

"With each passing day our stand is vindicated. However, they all will meet the same fate on the voting dates. I can sense that people are readying themselves to give the BJP a befitting reply through the ballot," the NC president said.

He said there is a "groundswell of anger" against the BJP and this needs to be demonstrated.

"There is an increasing realisation in people of Jammu that BJP has denuded them of their exclusive land, job rights and contracts. The complete failure of BJP in living up to their promises on development has also badly exposed their double standards," he added.

Abdullah said the BJP's team "Bs" are now "nakedly supporting" the party ahead of the Lok Sabha polls.

"Conspiracies hatched by them to defeat the NC candidates would prove futile. Those who want to vote for BIP should rather vote directly for the BJP, because eventually these A, B, C, D teams will sell your mandate to BJP to negotiate power. Every vote cast in favour of these B teams will go to BJP.

"People should decide and send a message to Delhi. If the people of Jammu and Kashmir are satisfied with the August 5, 2019 decision, then they should not vote for the National Conference," he said.

Three Booked Under PSA In B'la

Observer News Service

BARAMULLA: Police on Monday said that three anti-national elements were booked under Public Safety Act in North Kashmir's Baramulla district.

In a statement, the police said that acting tough against ANEs Baramulla Police booked three persons namely Mysir Majeed Malik son of Abdul Majeed resident of Seriwarpora Pattan, Abdul Ahad Dar son of Ghulam Mohd DAR resident of Dar Mohalla Palhallan & Khursheed Ahmad Waza son of Late Gh Ahmad resident of Tantray-pora Palhallan under Public Safety Act after obtaining formal detention orders from the competent Authority. The statement further stated that the booked persons have been detained and subsequently lodged in District Jail Kupwara & Anantnag. Pertinent to mention that many cases are registered against these persons and were involved in disturbance of L&O and subversion. Despite their involvement in many FIR's they did not mend their anti national & Social activities, reads the statement.

Kohli's Value Beyond Strike-Rate, Should Be In For T20 WC: Lara

Press Trust of India

BENGALURU: Legendary Brian Lara asserted that Virat Kohli's value transcends cold numbers, and the West Indian virtuoso has little doubt that the star batter should be a part of India's T20 World Cup squad.

Kohli stood in the eye of a social media storm after making a 67-ball hundred for Royal Challengers Bengaluru against Rajasthan Royals in their IPL 2024 match at Jaipur, which was the joint slowest hundred in the competition alongside Manish Pandey's century in 2009.

"The strike-rate depends on position, and for an opener strike-rate of 130-140 is pretty alright. But if you are coming in the middle-order then you may be required to hit at 150 or

160. As you have seen in this IPL, batsmen are hitting at 200 in the latter part of an innings. "But an opener like Kohli

Inconsistent PBKS Face Unpredictable SRH In IPL

Press Trust of India

MULLANPUR: An inconsistent Punjab Kings will hope to come out with an attacking display to match the ultra-aggressive approach of Sunrisers Hyderabad as the two teams clash in a mid-table battle in the IPL here on Tuesday.

Both SRH and PBKS have two wins and two losses from their four matches to be tied with two other teams in the middle with four points and they will be desperate to break out of the mid-table logjam first.

While SRH have been unpredictable sometimes they have displayed their might with the bat with their top-order firing on all cylinders on most occasions. But the same cannot be said about the Kings

SRH recorded the highest team total in the history of the IPL en route their win over Mumbai Indians, while they also notched up a convincing sixwicket win over reigning champions Chennai Super Kings on Friday. The likes of Abhishek

Sharma, Travis Head, Heinrich Klaasen and Aiden Markram have consistently taken the attack to the opposition bowlers, providing the team with blistering starts.
